country's ancient past. The chronology has been brought up to date, the introduction expanded, and the bibliography includes numerous new titles. Silent Rock's an Eloquent Testimony Sadasiba Pradhan, 2017 Human origin sites and the World Heritage Convention in Asia Sanz, Nuria, 2014-10-27 Kumaon Himalaya, Temptations Śekhara Pāṭhaka, 1993 Kumaon Painting Yasodhar Mathpal, 1998 A Comprehensive Survey of Rock Art in Upper Tibet: Volume III John Vincent Bellezza, 2024-08-08 Focusing on the Eastern half of Stod, this is the third in a series of five volumes that comprehensively document rock art in Upper Tibet. It examines a panoply of graphic evidence found on stone surfaces supplying an unprecedented view of the long-term development of culture and religion on a large swathe of the Tibetan Plateau. Indigenous Archaeology in India Ajay Pratap, 2009 In this book, the author presents his findings connected with the archaeology of the Rajmahal Hills, Jharkhand State, north-eastern India, and discusses the wider relevance of his surface archaeology approach to the archaeology of the rest of the tribal areas of India. He also approaches the issue of a gendered study of rock art and landscape archaeology, both of which again fall within the domain of tribal archaeology proper. The author also has a keen interest in the theory of history and archaeology and writes about this subject in several of the chapters. Further sections engage in theoretical debates regarding the relationship between history and archaeology. The study concludes that it may be possible to delineate a separate domain for the archaeology of the tribal areas called subaltern archaeology. The present work breaks further new ground in historical and archaeological research in terms of the fieldwork undertaken in the Rajmahal Hills and elsewhere in India, the novel idea being that the tribal population of India does have a long-term past, an issue thus far relatively rarely investigated. Puraratna Chedarambattu Margabandhu, 2002 Senior archaeologists and scholars have contributed their recent researches to this volume in honour of Sri Jagat Pati Joshi, former Director General, Archaeological Survey of India. The 3-volume set has 15 sections: prehistory, protohistory, iron age, historical archaeology, medieval archaeology, interpretation, epigraphy, architecture, sculpture, history, literature, preservation, and recent discoveries. Mountain Temples and Temple Mountains Nachiket Chanchani, 2019-04-01 From approximately the third century BCE through the thirteenth century CE, the remote mountainous landscape around the glacial sources of the Ganga/Ganges River in the Central Himalayas in northern India was transformed into a region encoded with deep meaning, one approached by millions of Hindus as a primary locus of pilgrimage. Nachiket Chanchani's innovative study explores scores of stone edifices and steles that were erected in this landscape. Through their forms, locations, interactions with the natural environment, and sociopolitical context, these lithic ensembles evoked legendary worlds, embedded historical memories in the topography, changed the mountain range's appearance, and shifted its semiotic effect. Mountain Temples and Temple Mountains also alters our understanding of the transmission of architectural knowledge and provides new evidence of how an enduring idea of India emerged in the subcontinent.
