Otto C. Lightner, Pearl Ann Reeder, 1945 Bloomington-Normal in Vintage Postcards Elaine J. Taylor, 2002

Bloomington and Normal have grown from small pioneer settlements into the Twin Cities of central Illinois linked by their proximity and shared history Surviving and rebuilding after a devastating fire in 1900 the area has continued to grow and prosper It is home to many businesses including State Farm the nation's largest auto and homeowners insurance company The vintage postcards in this collection feature the delights and difficulties of Bloomington Normal at the turn of the century These images capture historic events such as the Street Car Strike of 1917 in which workers took their demands to the streets The businesses that closed up shop years ago are opened again through these historic postcards many of which were originally produced by Bloomington based postcard publisher C U Williams Pekin and Tremont, Illinois in Vintage Postcards Donald L. Nieukirk, 2000 From 1898 through the middle of World War I the postcard was an extraordinarily popular means of communication and many of the postcards produced during this golden age are today considered works of art Postcard photographers traveled the length and breadth of the nation snapping photographs of busy street scenes documenting local landmarks and assembling crowds of local children only too happy to pose for a picture These images printed as postcards and sold in general stores across the country survive as telling reminders of an important era in America's history This fascinating new history of Pekin and Tremont Illinois showcases more than 200 of the best vintage postcards available History of Rockford and Winnebago County, Illinois Charles A. History of Rockford and Winnebago County Illinois Charles A. Church, 2015-07-06 Excerpt from History of Rockford and Winnebago County Illinois From the First Settlement in 1834 to the Civil War In the days of the ancient Rome Janus was the guardian deity of gates As every gate turned either way so Janus was represented with two heads One was of a youth to indicate beginning the other was of an old man suggestive of the end The first looked toward the future the second toward the past The student like Janus of old surveys the past and only from this point of view can he intelligently interpret the present and in some measure forecast the future As a community becomes older and the habits of its people become fixed the study of local history receives attention A movement was recently begun in this state for the purpose of creating popular interest in state and local history and these subjects will doubtless receive more attention than formerly This volume does not claim infallibility but it does purport to be a thorough and conscientious effort to present in miniature the life of this community during a period of twenty seven years from its first settlement It is primarily a history of Rockford but no history of the city would be complete unless considerable attention were given to the county as a background Nearly all the early settlers have passed away This fact makes the fund of reminiscences smaller than might be desired It is believed however this volume contains a larger number of local facts than were ever before presented in a single work This is due to the fact that the author has been fortunate in obtaining access to sources of information that were not available to any of his predecessors It is hoped that the treatment of all available material has been such that no future historian of Rockford will be obliged to go over the ground in order to substantiate the facts herein set forth The Roman poet Ovid made Janus say Everything depends on the beginning The author hopes that upon this foundation a later historian will rear the superstructure of a complete history of the Forest City to the close of the century Clio the muse of history is represented as wearing a wreath of laurel and holding a half open parchment roll upon which she has inscribed the deeds of heroes and the songs of love About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Collection of World War I English

Postcards of Soldiers and Sweethearts World War I Postcard Collection,1914 It'll All Be Over by Christmas John Paul Wilton,2022-08 The cards in It'll All Be Over By Christmas help to paint a picture of war as experienced by those at home in training at the front in hospital and in convalescent camps There are cards from fathers who wrote to wives and children and sons who wrote to family friends and loved ones Men at the front who received parcels from home and from well wishers All this is revealed by the writings on cards sent during the war years The degree of support for the war effort is shown by the sending of comforts to the men at the front by family charitable organizations and the general public encouraged by newspapers and magazines We see the willingness of the population to help fund the war through War Bonds and collections as well as the practical service they were prepared to provide by working in the factories and on the farms with women showing that they could do much more than just knit socks On a lighter note accounts of times of rest and relaxation fill many cards sent when the soldiers were back from the firing line and had time to enjoy the countryside and even eat cherries
