Drawing from five years of extensive interviews with female producers writers and directors at different stages of their careers Courtney Brannon Donoghue examines how Hollywood business cultures value female driven projects as risky or not bankable Industry claims that movies targeting female audiences don't make money or women can't direct big budget blockbusters have long circulated to rationalize systemic gender inequities and have served to normalize studios prioritizing the white male driven status quo Through a critical media industry studies lens The Value Gap challenges this pervasive logic with firsthand accounts of women actively navigating the male dominated and conglomerate owned industrial landscape
