Barry Lumsden, 1985 Viktor Frankl's

Contribution to Spirituality and Aging Melvin A. Kimble, 2014-02-04 Use Frankl's insights and techniques to improve life for your aging clients or parishioners Viktor Frankl a holocaust survivor who experienced firsthand the horrors of Auschwitz saw man as a being who continuously decides what he is a being who equally harbors the potential to descend to the level of an animal or to ascend to the life of a saint Man is that being who after all invented the gas chambers but at the same time he is that being who entered into those same gas chambers with his head held high and with the Our Father or the Jewish prayer of the dying on his lips Dr Frankl's insights led him to found the therapeutic system of logotherapy which views man as a spiritual being rather than simply as a biological construct Logotherapy has come to be called the Third Viennese School of Psychotherapy after Freud's psychoanalysis and Adler's individual psychology He left a rich legacy of theory and insights especially relevant to the search for meaning in later life The tenets of logotherapy provide many clues and approaches to what an ever increasing body of evidence suggests regarding the crisis of aging as a crisis of meaning Frankl's insightful work increased man's understanding of the spiritual dimension of humanity and the dignity and worth of every person in the face of what he called the tragic trial of human existence pain guilt and death Viktor Frankl's Contribution to Spirituality and Aging presents an essential overview of logotherapy and explores the search for and the will to meaning in later life the connection between logotherapy and pastoral counseling bringing psychology and theology together to effectively counsel the aging the role of logotherapy in the treatment of adult major depression aspects of meaning and personhood in dementia the search for meaning in long term care settings Viktor Frankl's Contribution to Spirituality and Aging represents varying professional perspectives on the application of Frankl's logotherapy for ministry with older adults The chapter authors represent diverse professional backgrounds in medicine pastoral theology the behavioral sciences and pastoral ministry They address issues such as death and dying dementia and depression and the spiritual meaning of aging as well as Frankl's conception of the nature of humanity Everyone interested in the connection between theology and psychology in the context of the aging will want to own this book

Religion and Aging Derrel R. Watkins, 2001-10 This collection of essays and research studies will help clergy nursing home staff and family members to address the spiritual questing and questioning of the elderly Essays were first published in the Quarterly Papers on Religion and Aging between 1984 and 1994 Watkins is professor at the Institute for Gerontological Studies Baylor University This work is co published simultaneously as Journal of Religious Gerontology v 12 no 2 2001 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Introduction to Educational Gerontology Ronald H. Sherron, D. Barry Lumsden, 2013-11-12 Educational gerontology is the study of the changes in the learning process caused by old age This new edition provides an update of developments in this field of research The volume probes topics such as implications for education for the aging reminiscence methods of teaching social exchange and equal opportunity

Mental Health and Spirituality in Later Life Elizabeth MacKinlay, 2014-01-02 Explore pastoral strategies for dealing with mental health problems Mental health is increasingly being recognized as an important issue in later life This valuable book will help you examine this dimension of aging in the context of pastoral spiritual and cultural issues It explores the relationship between mental health spirituality and religion in later life including the search for meaning cultural issues spiritual issues depression dementia and issues of suicide in older people The first part of Mental Health and Spirituality in Later Life focuses on theology ethics and cultural issues in mental health and aging The second part addresses issues of multidisciplinary practice including a challenging chapter written by a woman with early onset dementia Alzheimer's and other chapters that present perspectives on the uses and meanings of ritual and symbolism in mental health and pastoral approaches to care Part one of Mental Health and Spirituality in Later Life deals with issues of theology culture and mental health in later life focusing on the importance of a richly textured understanding of personhood as a prerequisite for constructing a picture of late life mental health in the context of theology the relationship between culture spirituality and meaning for older immigrants and their effects on mental health the adverse effects of a mental health system that reflects only the dominant culture of a society leaving minority cultures vulnerable to misdiagnosis and inappropriate treatments that can do more harm than good a wholistic picture of aging that moves beyond the biomedical paradigm and demonstrates the power and potential of the human spirit in adjusting to and moving beyond suffering Part two of this valuable book addresses issues of concern to practitioners in mental health and spirituality for the aging including disruptive behavior among nursing home residents and common practices that fail to identify its causes or address the problem how some staff resident interactions can produce suffering for all concerned with case study outlines that illustrate the point memory loss and its effect on spirituality self worth and the faith community pastoral care for people suffering with dementia with practical information on helping them to make use of the power of prayer and to deal with loneliness fear and disempowerment an insightful look at a recent major study of residents in aged care facilities in Australia that explores the link between depression and spirituality risk and protective factors associated with suicide in later life and the treatment of depression pastoral interventions for depression and dementia Aging, Spirituality, and Religion Melvin Kimble, Susan H. McFadden, 1995 This book examines the ways religion and spirituality are experienced by aging persons within an aging society An eminent group of contributors from a variety of disciplines explores this new terrain of an emerging interdisciplinary field The result is a volume that will be the standard reference work on the relationship between religion and the experience of aging Nursing Home Ministry Chong Sung Lee, 2004-03 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1989 Arts & Humanities Citation Index, 1987 A multidisciplinary index covering the journal literature of the arts and humanities It fully covers 1 144 of the world's leading arts and humanities journals and it indexes individually selected relevant items from over 6 800 major science and social science journals Resources in Education, 1997 Cultural Competency Training in a Global Society Richard H. Dana, James Allen, 2008-11-13 Cultural competence is more than an admirable goal it is an essential skill set for mental health professionals working in a diverse global society marked by crisis and trauma It is essential for clinicians to understand the intricate mix of history and self concept identity and tradition that are central not only for ameliorating psychological problems but to foster psychological health and well being As the definition of culture takes on broader meanings at once embracing multiple identities and increasing globalization Cultural Competency Training in a Global Society brings a vital perspective and practical understanding to clinical counseling and school psychologists as well as to graduate students entering these fields By describing a comprehensive training model for professional education and practice in the United States with ethnic minority groups indigenous populations immigrants and refugees this book has relevance for other multicultural societies because the implications are multidisciplinary in focus and potentially international in scope The existing and emergent global multicultural populations described in this book represent the neglected human faces of economic globalization Among the topics covered Requirements for professional training in cultural competency Research basis for cultural competency training International resources and their usage in training and practice Multicultural assessment in the service of intervention Evaluating cultural competency training Evidence-Based Programming for Older Adults Marcia G. Ory, Matthew Lee Smith, 2015-06-17 There is increased world wide concern about the impact of multiple chronic conditions especially among the rapidly aging population Simultaneously over the past decade there has been an emergence of state wide and national initiatives to reduce the burden of chronic conditions that draw upon the translation of evidence based programs EPB into community practice Yet little has been written about the national and international implementation dissemination and sustainability of such programs This Research Topic features articles about EBPs for older adults including a range of articles that focus on the infrastructure needed to widely disseminate EBP as well as individual participant impacts on physical mental and social aspects of health and well being Using a pragmatic research perspective this Research Topic will advance knowledge that aims to enhance practice inform policy and build systems of support and delivery in regard to the reach effectiveness adoption implementation and maintenance of evidence based interventions for older adults The focus is on knowledge transfer rather than knowledge generation but with a dual emphasis on the dissemination and sustainability of EBP that have been tested and shown effective as well as the adaptation of practice based interventions into evidence based programs This Research Topic draws upon grand scale efforts to deliver these programs and include both U S as well as international examples Commentaries discuss processes in the development and measurement of EBP and reflect perspectives from program developers and major national and regional funders of EBP as well as professionals and practitioners in the field The full length articles focus on four major programmatic areas 1 chronic disease self management programs 2 fall prevention programs 3 general wellness and physical activity programs and 4 mental health programs Additionally articles are included to discuss cross cutting issues related to building partnerships and the research infrastructure for the implementation evaluation and dissemination of evidence based programming The intent of this Research Topic is to enhance practice inform policy and build systems of support and delivery for EBP It is written for a diverse audience and contains practical implications and recommendations for introducing delivering and sustaining EBP in a multitude of settings Social Security Bulletin ,1962
