Shifting Memories The Nazi Past In The New Germany:

Shifting Memories Klaus Neumann, 2000 A long look at how contemporary Germany is remembering the Holocaust

Postwar Germany and the Holocaust Caroline Sharples, 2015-12-17 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title 2016

Focussing on German responses to the Holocaust since 1945 Postwar Germany and the Holocaust traces the process of Vergangenheitsbewältigung overcoming the past the persistence of silences evasions and popular mythologies with regards to the Nazi era and cultural representations of the Holocaust up to the present day It explores the complexities of German memory cultures the construction of war and Holocaust memorials and the various political debates and scandals surrounding the darkest chapter in German history The book comparatively maps out the legacy of the Holocaust in both East and West Germany as well as the unified Germany that followed to engender a consideration of the effects of division Cold War politics and reunification on German understanding of the Holocaust Synthesizing key historiographical debates and drawing upon a variety of primary source material this volume is an important exploration of Germany's postwar relationship with the Holocaust Complete with chapters on education war crime trials memorialization and Germany and the Holocaust today as well as a number of illustrations maps and a detailed bibliography Postwar Germany and the Holocaust is a pivotal text for anyone interested in understanding the full impact of the Holocaust in Germany Staging Philanthropy

Jean Helen Quataert, 2010-02-09 Patriotic Women and the National Imagination in Dynastic Germany 1813-1916 An Analysis of Daniel Jonah Goldhagen's Hitler's Willing Executioners Simon Taylor, Tom Stammers, 2017-07-05 Daniel Goldhagen's study of the Holocaust offers conclusions that run directly counter to those reached by Christopher Browning whose book Ordinary Men is also the subject of a Macat analysis As such the two analyses make possible some interesting critical thinking exercises focused on evaluation of the evidence used by the two historians For Goldhagen a chief reason for German actions was not the mundane good comradeship stressed by Browning but a longstanding hatred of Jews and Judaism specific to Germany that dated back well into the previous century Debating which historian is right which has made better use of the available evidence which has most successfully written objectively and which advances the most secure interpretation of contested documents forces students to think critically about one of the most important and on the surface at least incomprehensible events of the past century German Cinema - Terror and Trauma Thomas

Elsaesser, 2013-10-30 In German Cinema Terror and Trauma Since 1945 Thomas Elsaesser reevaluates the meaning of the Holocaust for postwar German films and culture while offering a reconsideration of trauma theory today Elsaesser argues that Germany's attempts at mastering the past can be seen as both a failure and an achievement making it appropriate to speak of an ongoing guilt management that includes not only Germany but Europe as a whole In a series of case studies which consider the work of Konrad Wolf Alexander Kluge Rainer Werner Fassbinder Herbert Achterbusch and Harun Farocki as well as films made in the new century Elsaesser tracks the different ways the Holocaust is present in German cinema from the 1950s onwards even when it is absent or referenced in oblique and hyperbolic ways Its most emphatically absent presence might turn out to be the compulsive afterlife of the Red Army Faction whose acts of terror in the 1970s were a response to as well as a reminder of Nazism s hold on the national imaginary Since the end of the Cold War and 9 11 the terms of the debate around terror and trauma have shifted also in Germany where generational memory now distributes the roles of historical agency and accountability differently Against the background of universalized victimhood a cinema of commemoration has if anything confirmed the violence that the past continues to exert on the present in the form of missed encounters retroactive incidents unintended slippages and uncanny parallels which Elsaesser reviving the full meaning of Freud s Fehlleistung calls the parapractic performativity of cultural memory Plants Go to War Judith Sumner,2019-05-30 As the first botanical history of World War II Plants Go to War examines military history from the perspective of plant science From victory gardens to drugs timber rubber and fibers plants supplied materials with key roles in victory Vegetables provided the wartime diet both in North America and Europe where vitamin rich carrots cabbages and potatoes nourished millions Chicle and cacao provided the chewing gum and chocolate bars in military rations In England and Germany herbs replaced pharmaceutical drugs feverbark was in demand to treat malaria and penicillin culture used a growth medium made from corn Rubber was needed for gas masks and barrage balloons while cotton and hemp provided clothing canvas and rope Timber was used to manufacture Mosquito bombers and wood gasification and coal replaced petroleum in European vehicles Lebensraum the Nazi desire for agricultural land drove Germans eastward troops weaponized conifers with shell bursts that caused splintering Ironically the Nazis condemned non native plants but adopted useful Asian soybeans and Mediterranean herbs Jungle warfare and camouflage required botanical knowledge and survival manuals detailed edible plants on Pacific islands Botanical gardens relocated valuable specimens to safe areas and while remote locations provided opportunities for field botany Trees surviving in Hiroshima and Nagasaki live as a symbol of rebirth after vast destruction State of Virginity Ulrike Strasser,2004 An important contribution to the historical study of sexuality and the growing feminist literature on the state The Politics of Public Memories of Forced Migration and Bordering in Europe Karina Horsti,2019-11-14 Increasingly the European Union and its member states have exhibited a lack of commitment to protecting the human rights of non citizens Thinking beyond the oppressive bordering taking place in Europe requires new forms of scholarship This book provides such examples offering the analytical lenses of memory and temporality It also identifies ways of collaborating with people who experience the violence of borders Established scholars in fields such as history anthropology literary studies media studies migration and border studies arts and cultural studies offer important contributions to the so called European refugee crisis Anna Seghers Helen Fehervary,2001 A fascinating study of one of the greatest German woman writers of the twentieth century Heritage and Identity Marta Anico,Elsa Peralta,2008-11-26 Heritage and Identity explores the complex ways in which heritage actively contributes to the construction and representation of identities in contemporary societies providing a comprehensive account of the diverse conceptions of heritage and identity across different continents and cultures This collection of thought provoking articles from experts in the field captures the richness and diversity of the interlinked themes of heritage and identity Heritage is more than a simple legacy from the past and incorporates all elements past and present that have the ability to represent particular identities in the public sphere The editors introduce and discuss a wide range of interconnected topics including multiculturalism and globalization local and regional identity urban heritage difficult memories conceptions of history ethnic representations repatriation ownership controversy contestation and ethics and social responsibility The volume places empirical data within a theoretical and analytical framework and presents an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the representation of the past invaluable for anyone interested in heritage and museum studies The National Frame Banu Karaca,2021-02-02 Based on long term ethnographic research in the art worlds of Istanbul and Berlin The National Frame rethinks the politics of art by focusing on the role of art in state governance It argues that artistic practices arts patronage and sponsorship collecting and curating art and the modalities of censorship continue to be refracted through the conceptual lens of the nation state despite the globalization of the arts By examining discussions of the civilizing function of art in Turkey and Germany and particularly moments in which art is seen to cede this function The National Frame reveals the histories of violence on which the production circulation and very understanding of art are predicated Karaca examines this darker side of art in two cities in which art and its institutions have been intertwined with symbolic and material dispossession The particularities of German and Turkish contexts both marked by attempts to claim modern nationhood through the arts illuminate how art is staked to memory and erasure resistance and restoration and why art has been at once vital and unwieldy for national projects As art continues to be called upon to engage the past and imagine different futures The National Frame explores how to reclaim art s emancipatory potential Preservation, Tourism and Nationalism Joshua Hagen,2016-12-05 Since its discovery by German romantics and nationalists Rothenburg has been an established icon of the German nation and its medieval past By tracing Rothenburg s historical development as a place of national importance this book examines the cultural politics of historical preservation and tourism in general In exploring the shifting practice and importance of tourism in Rothenburg and how this relates to broader debates about German culture and identity Preservation Tourism and Nationalism offers an important and original perspective on the changing dynamics of romanticized historical landscapes and how events are used to further national cultural and political agendas It also analyses the changing practices of historical preservation and in particular how historic preservation in Rothenburg reflects a desire to make it more historic and more German With important insights into what it means to be German how Germans relate to the past and how the answers to these questions have changed over time this richly illustrated and detailed volume offers an important narrative of the rise evolution and contestation of memory in German culture Structures of Memory Jennifer A.

Jordan,2006 Structures of Memory turns to the landscape of contemporary Berlin particularly places marked by the presence of the Nazi regime in order to understand how some places of great cruelty or great heroism are forgotten by all but eyewitnesses while others become the site of public ceremonies museums or commemorative monuments Difficult

Heritage Sharon Macdonald,2010-10-04 How does a city and a nation deal with a legacy of perpetrating atrocity How are contemporary identities negotiated and shaped in the face of concrete reminders of a past that most wish they did not have Difficult Heritage focuses on the case of Nuremberg a city whose name is indelibly linked with Nazism to explore these questions and their implications Using an original in depth research using archival interview and ethnographic sources it provides not only fascinating new material and perspectives but also more general original theorizing of the relationship between heritage identity and material culture The book looks at how Nuremberg has dealt with its Nazi past post 1945 It focuses especially but not exclusively on the city s architectural heritage in particular the former Nazi party rally grounds on which the Nuremberg rallies were staged The book draws on original sources such as city council debates and interviews to chart a lively picture of debate action and inaction in relation to this site and significant others in Nuremberg and elsewhere In doing so Difficult Heritage seeks to highlight changes over time in the ways in which the Nazi past has been dealt with in Germany and the underlying cultural assumptions motivations and sources of friction involved Whilst referencing wider debates and giving examples of what was happening elsewhere in Germany and beyond Difficult Heritage provides a rich in depth account of this most fascinating of cases It also engages in comparative reflection on developments underway elsewhere in order to contextualize what was happening in Nuremberg and to show similarities to and differences from the ways in which other difficult heritages have been dealt with elsewhere By doing so the author offers an informed perspective on ways of dealing with difficult heritage today and in the future discussing innovative museological educational and artistic practice Remembering the Cold War David Lowe,Tony Joel,2014-01-21 Remembering the Cold War examines how more than two decades since the collapse of the Soviet Union Cold War legacies continue to play crucial roles in defining national identities and shaping international relations around the globe Given the Cold War s blurred definition it has neither a widely accepted commencement date nor unanimous conclusion what is to be remembered This book illustrates that there is in fact a huge body of remembrance and that it is more pertinent to ask what should be included and what can be overlooked Over five sections this richly illustrated volume considers case studies of Cold War remembering from different parts of the world and engages with growing theorisation in the field of memory studies specifically in relation to war David Lowe and Tony Joel afford careful consideration to agencies that identify with being victims of the Cold War In addition the concept of arenas of articulation which envelops the myriad spaces in which the remembering commemorating memorialising and even revising of Cold War history takes place is given prominence The Lost Man Peter J. Hempenstall,Paula Tanaka Mochida,2005 This new and innovative biography portrays the life of Wilhelm Heinrich Solf a man who lived from Bismarck to Hitler 1862 1936 and whose life was deeply entangled with the ups and downs of Germany's domestic and in particular foreign and international policies Solf went from carving out a name for himself as a liberal and successful colonial Governor to becoming the imperial colonial minister of the Kaiserreich before World War I During the war he struggled to influence the Kaiser's ruling circle away from its aggressive military policies towards a negotiated peace rising to become imperial Germany's last Foreign Minister He was appointed Weimar's ambassador to Japan and turned out to be the Republic's most successful and cultured diplomat overseas restoring the relationship between the two former enemies On his return to Germany Solf became involved with several political attempts to forestall Hitler's rise to power He and his family worked against the Nazi's anti-Semitic policies In fact the Solf circle became an important opposition group After Solf's death his wife Hanna and daughter Lagi who was born in Samoa continued this work and were imprisoned by the Nazis While their accomplices were executed during the war the Solf women escaped by the barest of margins as the Russians invaded Berlin in the last stages of the war Text in English with a German summary

Decades of Reconstruction Ute Planert, James Retallack, 2017-06-13 As wars and other conflicts increase on a worldwide scale the alleged new wars of the present day have taught that military victory does not necessarily result in a sustained state of peace Rather societies in conflict experience a status mixtus a transformative period that includes substantial changes in economy politics society and culture Focusing on these decades of reconstruction in Europe and North America this book examines the transformation of state systems international relations and normative principles in international comparison By putting the postwar decade after 1945 into a long term historical perspective the chapters illuminate new patterns of transition between war and peace from the eighteenth to the twentieth century Experts in the field show that states and societies are never restituted from a zero hour They also demonstrate that foreign and domestic policy are intermixed before and after peace breaks out

A Companion to Global Historical Thought Prasenjit Duara, Viren Murthy, Andrew Sartori, 2014-03-17 A COMPANION TO GLOBAL HISTORICAL THOUGHT A Companion to Global Historical Thought provides an overview of the development of historical thinking from the earliest times to the present directly addressing issues of historiography in a globalized context Questions concerning the global dissemination of historical writing and the relationship between historiography and other ways of representing the past have become important not only in the academic study of history but also in public arenas in many countries With contributions from leading international scholars the book considers the problem of the global in the multiplicity of traditions of narrating the past in the global dissemination of modern historical writing and of the global as a concept animating historical imaginations It explores the different intellectual approaches that have shaped the discipline of history and the challenges posed by modernity and globalization while illustrating the shifts in thinking about time and the emergence of historical thought Complementing A Companion to Western Historical Thought this book places non-Western perspectives on historiography at the center of discussion helping scholars and students alike make sense of the discipline at the start of the twenty first century Local/Global Narratives ,2016-08-09 Over the past decade and a half Germany has experienced a period of political and cultural turbulence which many have attributed to the combined challenges of unification and globalisation In response to growing exposure to global markets politics and migration debates about identity have increasingly been renationalised At the same time there has been a notable reappraisal in Germany and in German Studies of the regional and global as spaces for the construction of identity This volume sets out to explore these complex and at times contradictory trends focusing in particular on developments in Germany since the 1970s although chapters treating earlier periods are also included The volume brings together British Irish German Canadian and American scholars working in the field and resulted from a conference organised by Women in German Studies at the University of Bath The first section is primarily concerned with the specifically German concept of locality known as Heimat and its changing relationship with the global Included are explorations of the writings of Kafka Bachmann Johnson Sell Wolf Brinkmann and Jelinek amongst others as well as films by Schlöndorff and Steyerl The second section focuses on the impact of the global on institutions and rituals such as commemoration memorialisation and architecture which have traditionally been influential in shaping national self images Overall this volume concludes that the nature of the relationship to the local has fundamentally changed under the impact of globalisation
