The ship transcends the descriptive categories of place vehicle and artefact it is a cosmos which requires its own cosmology This is the subject matter of this volume which falls within the broader flourishing sub field of maritime anthropology Specifically the volume first investigates the dialectic between the sea the ship and the ship dweller and shows how traits are exchanged between the three It then focuses on land dwellers their understanding of seaborne existence and their invaluable contribution to the culture of ships It shows that the romanticised views of life at sea that land dwellers hold constitute an important aspect of the cosmology of ships and they too need to be considered if the polyvalence of ships is to be fully understood In order for this cosmology to be written some of the volume s contributors have travelled on ships and interviewed mariners fishermen boat builders and boat dwellers others have traced the courses of ships in poems films philosophical texts and collective myths of genealogy and heritage Overall the volume shows where ships can go and how they are perceived and experienced by those living and travelling in them watching and waiting for them dreaming and writing about them and finally what literal and metaphorical crews man them Maritime Cabotage Law Aniekan Akpan, 2018-12-17 This is the most comprehensive review of maritime cabotage law It introduces the new theory of

Developmental Sovereignty to jurisprudence The maritime cabotage law provisions and approaches as adopted in many states and jurisdictions has been extensively scrutinised This book challenges the established and accepted wisdom surrounding maritime cabotage by presenting new reasoning on the underpinning principles of the concept of maritime cabotage law The book offers a vibrant discussion on the adjustment in the regulatory approaches of maritime cabotage from one that was intrinsically premised on the idea of national sovereignty to one that now embraces the broader ideology of development It investigates what the common understanding of the law of maritime cabotage should be and on what intellectual basis it can be justified It reduces the inconsistencies and confusion that surround the concept and application of maritime cabotage law to provide a more certain and more robust concept of maritime cabotage Maritime Autonomous Vehicles and International Law Natalie Klein, Douglas Guilfoyle, Md Saiful Karim, Rob McLaughlin, 2024-12-31 Maritime autonomous vehicles MAVs have the potential to radically alter all uses of maritime space with technology progressing faster than the law This book explores the current international legal framework and the options available to regulate maritime security in the face of emerging technologies MAVs are starting to play a role not only in policing and military security but also for the perpetration of maritime crimes Through discussing the existing international legal framework for combating maritime security threats the book will consider the use of MAVs by states for various security purposes and the potential dangers of MAVs in the hands of non state actors As the intersection of maritime technology with international maritime security law is crucial to a safe future for all this timely book makes essential suggestions to adapt existing legal frameworks to match emerging technologies Addressing critical questions such as who exercises jurisdiction when ships are remotely controlled how jamming technology may be lawfully deployed and what force may be permissible during maritime law enforcement this book identifies a diversity of current legal gaps and problems and makes suggestions as to how to rectify them This book will be of interest to students and scholars in the field of the law of the sea maritime security and emerging technologies The Australian Year Book of International Law, 1994 Annual survey of current problems of public and private international law with a digest of Australian practice Legal Histories of Empire Lyndsay Campbell, Shaunnagh Dorsett, 2024-10-11 This collection brings together an international group of scholars in order to provide new insights into the diversity of imperial legalities Across empires legalities were produced not just or even through the imperial imposition of laws and legal forms but through local processes of negotiation and contestation Far from the metropolises local actors found ways to creatively navigate and subvert imperial frameworks and laws and to create space in which to shape new legalities responsive to local circumstance and need Covering topics as diverse as smuggling in eighteenth century Jersey the criminalisation of female market women in World War II era southern Nigeria and whiteness and race in sexual perversion cases in twentieth century Malaya the collection elaborates new legal histories of empire Drawing from Britain Ireland Australia Canada the USA India Sri Lanka Africa and Malaysia the collection brings together chapters that examine the stories of the peoples of empires and shows how they constituted experienced navigated and subverted the legal complexities of living under empire This book will be of interest to scholars and researchers in law and history but also to those with relevant interests in post colonial and cultural studies as well as in criminology and sociology Climate Change and Water Resources in Mediterranean Countries Hüseyin Gökçekuş, Youssef Kassem, 2024-10-15 The book provides the opportunity to connect with experts on water treatment techniques eco hydrology hydro informatics emerging pollutants in water resources and water management from all over the world Water is still one of the most significant problems in the world and especially in the Mediterranean region In this thematic book all possible approaches and suggestions aimed at finding solutions to overcome water scarcity better alternatives to treat wastewater and ensuring access to clean water for all communities are valuable subjects that are included for directing authorities to take a step further towards overcoming water related problems for everyone around the world Paul Martin: CEO for Canada? Murray Dobbin, 2003-09-15 Canadians have high hopes for Prime Minister Paul Martin and widely welcome him as Liberal leader But will he give Canada the government Canadians expect In this book Murray Dobbin focuses on what Martin has done in business and in politics and what he can be expected to do in office What Dobbin reports is often surprising Martin s actions reflect a man deeply committed to an agenda of less government expansion of the private sector at the expense of public services tax cuts favouring those already well off and closer relations to the U S In many areas Martin s views seem closer to Brian Mulroney than those traditionally associated with the Liberal party And he is often at odds with the values Canadians themselves express in opinion polls A successful CEO himself Martin thinks and acts as a CEO in his political role For Canadians who want Ottawa to do more in health care education social services and culture Martin s accession may mark a significant step backwards Based on extensive research and interviews with key analysts this book offers a different view of Paul Martin from the usual portrayals in the business friendly news media and from the other books on Martin being published in fall 2003 Rather than a play by play account of who did what to whom in Martin s political career Murray Dobbin keeps his eye on what really matters to most people what Paul Martin has done to date in business and politics and what he is likely to do as prime minister
