Proceedings of the Aristotelian Society for the Systematic Study of Philosophy Aristotelian Society (Great Britain), 1910
Includes Report of the executive committee for 1887 88 1914 15 list of members in each volume Hannah Arendt's Ethics
Deirdre Lauren Mahony, 2018-06-28 The vast majority of studies of Hannah Arendt's thought are concerned with her as a political theorist This book offers a contribution to rectifying this imbalance by providing a critical engagement with Arendtian ethics Arendt asserts that the crimes of the Holocaust revealed a shift in ethics and the need for new responses to a new kind of evil In this new treatment of her work Arendt's best known ethical concepts the notion of the banality of evil and the link she posits between thoughtlessness and evil both inspired by her study of Adolf Eichmann are disassembled and appraised The concept of the banality of evil captures something tangible about modern evil yet requires further evaluation in order to assess its implications for understanding contemporary evil and what it means for traditional moral philosophical issues such as responsibility blame and punishment In addition this account of Arendt's ethics reveals two strands of her thought not previously considered her idea that the condition of living with oneself can represent a barrier to evil and her account of the nonparticipants who refused to be complicit in the crimes of the Nazi period and their defining moral features This exploration draws out the most salient aspects of Hannah Arendt's ethics provides a critical review of the more philosophically problematic elements and places Arendt's work in this area in a broader moral philosophy context examining the issues in moral philosophy which are raised in her work such as the relevance of intention for moral responsibility and of thinking for good moral conduct and questions of character integrity and moral incapacity Phenomenology and Logic
Bernard Lonergan, 2001-12-22 Collected here for the first time this series of lectures delivered by Lonergan at Boston College in 1957 illustrates a pivotal time in Lonergan's intellectual history marking both the transition from the faculty psychology still present in his work Insight to intentionality analysis and his initial differentiation of the existential level of consciousness The lectures on logic deal with the general character of mathematical logic and its relation to truth Scholasticism and Aristotelian logic Continuing Lonergan's long standing interest in the foundations of thought the lectures on existentialism offer a penetrating account of Husserl and his influence They also deal with Jaspers Heidegger Sartre and Marcel They offer reflections on such topics as being oneself dread horizon and the existential gap Perhaps more dramatically than in any other work these papers reveal Lonergan's dual commitment to the rigor of scientific analysis in the field of mathematical logic and to the sensitivity of continental philosophies to existential issues Explanation and Understanding in the Human Sciences
