Sacred Art In A Secular Century:

Sacred Art in a Secular Century Horton Davies, Hugh Davies, 1978 A Sense of the Sacred R. Kevin Seasoltz, 2005-04-13 There have been many histories of Christian art and architecture but none written by a theologian such as Kevin Seasoltz Following a chapter on culture as the context for theology liturgy and art Seasoltz surveys developments from the early church up through the conventional artistic styles and periods Comprehensive illuminating ecumenical

Annunciations: Sacred Music for the Twenty-First Century George Corbett, 2019-05-01 Our contemporary culture is communicating ever increasingly through the visual through film and through music This makes it ever more urgent for theologians to explore the resources of art for enriching our understanding and experience of the Judeo Christian tradition Annunciations Sacred Music for the twenty First Century edited by George Corbett answers this need evaluating the relationship between the sacred and the composition performance and appreciation of music Through the theme of annunciations this volume interrogates how when why through and to whom God communicates in the Old and New Testaments In doing so it tackles the intimate relationship between Scriptural reflection and musical practice in the past its present condition and what the future might hold Annunciations comprises three parts Part I sets out flexible theological and compositional frameworks for a constructive relationship between the sacred and music Part II presents the reflections of theologians and composers involved in collaborating on new pieces of sacred choral music alongside the six new scores and links to the recordings Part III considers the reality of programming and performing sacred works today This volume provides an indispensable resource for scholars and artists working at the interface between theology and the arts and for those involved in sacred music However it will also be of interest to anyone concerned with the ways in which the Divine communicates through word and artistry to humanity ReVisioning James Romaine, Linda Stratford, 2014-05-20

ReVisioning Critical Methods of Seeing Christianity in the History of Art examines the application of art historical methods to the history of Christianity and art As methods of art history have become more interdisciplinary there has been a notable emergence of discussions of religion in art history as well as related fields such as visual culture and theology This book represents the first critical examination of scholarly methodologies applied to the study of Christian subjects themes and contexts in art ReVisioning contains original work from a range of scholars each of whom has addressed the question in regard to a well known work of art or body of work How have particular methods of art history been applied and with what effect The study moves from the third century to the present providing extensive treatment and analysis of art historical methods applied to the history of Christianity and art A Theology of Artistic Sensibilities John

Dillenberger, 2004-10-19 For most of history argues John Dillenberger the visual arts were for better or worse part of the very fabric of the life and thought of the church But with the Reformation and the Counter Reformation a major change took place Protestant rejection of the visual was matched in Roman Catholicism by the reduction of its formative power While the visual arts dropped out of the lives of Protestant churches they became a memory rather than a source of ennoblement or power in the Roman Catholic Church Thus in different but allied ways Protestants and Catholics lost the power of the visual Part art history part historical theology and part theological reflection this book is both an argument and a program for the recovery of the visual arts in the life of the church for reclaiming seeing as part of religious perception It offers a theological understanding of the visual and provides a basis upon which the visual arts may again be incorporated into Protestantism and reinvigorated in Roman Catholicism The first part is devoted to historical reconstruction exploring those moments in Western history in which the relation between religion and the arts was in ferment Part 2 is given to contemporary delineation and analysis of spiritual perceptions in modern American painting and sculpture of modern church art and architecture and of the changing views of contemporary theologians toward the visual arts Citing David Tracy Karl Rahner Langdon Gilkey and others as examples Dillenberger argues that contemporary theology is moving away from the modern rationalistic understanding of theological analogy to one far closer to the arts Part 3 is constructive developing a theological perspective that demands and includes the visual arts and suggesting ways in which this can be accomplished in pastoral and theological education The world of art says Professor Dillenberger is more aware of the role of religion in the arts than the world of religion is of art Thus it is time for the church to resume its historic association with the visual arts albeit in analogous rather than repristinating ways
