Sacred Dreams Women And The Superintendency Suny Series In Women In Education:

Sacred Dreams C. Cryss Brunner, 1999-04-23 Although women have dominated the teaching ranks at all levels of education since the turn of the century men occupy 93 percent of superintendency jobs Considering the nationwide concern that superintendency positions will be vacated faster than they can be filled during the next decade it s quite possible that women are the greatest untapped pool of capable candidates As women think about seek and accept superintendency assignments they need a resource like Sacred Dreams that offers both practical advice from those who have attained this rank and research results from those who have studied the situation Such an understanding has the potential not only to increase the number of women in the position but also to increase their likelihood of success Contributors include Judy A Alston Cynthia Beekley Jackie M Blount C Cryss Brunner Susan Chase Margaret Grogan Barbara L Jackson Debra Jackson Estelle Kamler Sylvia E M ndez Morse Flora Ida Ortiz Barbara Nelson Pavan Charol Shakeshaft and Marilyn Tallerico Also included is a foreword by Patricia A Schmuck

Principles of Power C. Cryss Brunner, 2012-02-01 Women who seek to be school superintendents or who want to improve their chances for success in the superintendency can clearly benefit from the insights and cultural wisdom of women who have attained the position Principles of Power shares perspectives from twelve successful women superintendents and puts them in a cultural context that highlights what they can teach us about their methods for success To illustrate the underlying behaviors that helped them succeed Brunner uses as a framework the system of beliefs gathered by Carlos Castaneda from Yaqui Indian warrior training Castaneda calls this system the riddle of the heart To understand the riddle of the heart women must be able to simultaneously comprehend and use two different perceptions of the world that which is and that which is becoming To be able to solve the riddle warriors develop mind set and a discipline that allow them to get the best out of any conceivable situation This book is the story of these warriors twelve women superintendents and how they have solved the riddle of the heart Resources in Education ,2001-10

Continuing to Disrupt the Status Quo? Whitney Sherman Newcomb, 2014-03-01 Continuing to Disrupt the Status Quo Young and New Women Professors of Educational Leadership was conceptualized as a follow up to Breaking Into the All Male Club Female Professors of Educational Administration Mertz 2009 a book about and by many women who were the first women faculty admitted into departments of educational administration primarily in the 1970 s and 1980 s This book offers narratives of those women new to the field of educational leadership and makes comparisons to those stories shared by the veteran women in the field to highlight both similarities and differences Continuing to Disrupt the Status Quo Young and New Women Professors of Educational Leadership is a literary way to preserve and continue the tradition of the sharing addition of voices to the field of educational leadership that was begun with Breaking Into the All Male Club It begs the question If the women from Breaking Into the All Male Club are firsts pioneers and groundbreakers then who are we the young and new women of the field If the entrance of women into the field of educational leadership was threatening enough for the veteran women and still is for many of the young and new women then the addition of age and ethnicity as confounding factors has likely created a cacophony of dissonance forty years later Continuing to Disrupt the Status Quo represents a decade of stories 2002 2012 from young and new women to the field of educational leadership
