Neo Durkheimian categories are applied to the case of Turkey which in recent years has shifted from a strong Republican and Kemalist view of secularism to a more Anglo Saxon perspective. Turkish society thus constitutes an interesting case that blurs modernist distinctions between the secular and the religious and which could be described as postsecular. Presenting three symbolic case studies: the enduring image of the founder of the Republic Atatürk, the contested site of Ayasofia and the remembering and commemoration of the murdered journalist Hrant Dink. The Making of a Postsecular Society analyses the cultural relationship that the modern Republic has always had with Europe considering the possible implications of the Turkish model of secularism for a specifically European self understanding of modernity. Based on a rigorous construction of theoretical categories and on a close scrutiny of the common challenges confronting Europe and its Turkish neighbour long considered other with regard to the accommodation of religious difference this book sheds light on the possibilities for Europe to find new ways of arranging the relationship between the secular and the religious. As such it will appeal to scholars of social theory, the sociology of religion, secularisation and religious difference and social change. A Concise Guide to Program Management Mitchell L.
