limitations small local markets unequal access to international sales channels and the privileging of English language publishing over indigenous languages This volume explores what the Press has achieved and what its modes of reinvention might look like In widening and deepening our understanding of the Press as an example of a global South scholarly publisher this volume asks how publishing can contribute to a broader understanding of Southern knowledge production Featuring contributions from scholars publishers and authors this multi voiced volume showcases the history of the Press s publishing activities over 100 years from documenting its evolution through book covers and giving credence to some of the leading black intellectuals and writers of the early 20th century and the success of those works in spite of their authors racial marginalisation to the role of women both in publishing and in the spaces afforded to women s writing on the Press s list The collection concludes with essays by contemporary authors who detail not only their experiences of working with Southern publishers but also the politics and influences governing their decisions to choose the Press over a Northern publisher Publishing from the South shows the strategies deployed by the Press to professionalise Southern knowledge making and in the process demonstrating how university presses in the global South support the scholarly missions of their universities for both local and global audiences Selected Speeches on British Foreign Policy, 1738-1914 Sir Edgar Rees Jones, 1914

September 1864-May 1866 Lady Lucy Caroline Lyttelton Cavendish, 1927 Cancer Characteristics and Selection of Cases, 2001 Martin Luther on Reading the Bible as Christian Scripture William M. Marsh, 2017-07-17 Above all else that the sixteenth century German Reformer was known for Martin Luther was a Doctor of the Holy Scriptures One of the most characteristic features of Luther s approach to Scripture was his resolved christological interpretation of the Bible Many of the Reformer s interpreters have looked back upon Luther s Christ centered exposition of the Scriptures with sentimentality but have often labeled it as Christianization particularly in regards to Luther s approach of the Old Testament dismissing his relevance for today s faithful readers of God s Word This study revisits this assessment of Luther s christological interpretation of Scripture by way of critical analysis of the Reformer s prefaces to the Bible that he wrote for his translation of the Scriptures into the German vernacular This work contends that Luther foremost believes Jesus Christ to be the sensus literalis of Scripture on the basis of the Bible s messianic promise not enforcing a dogmatic principle onto the scriptural text and its biblical authors that would be otherwise foreign to them This study asserts that Luther s exegesis of the Bible s letter i e his engagement with the biblical text is primarily responsible for his conviction that Christ is Holy Scripture s literal sense
