Resolving Deep-Rooted Conflicts Herbert C. Kelman, 2016-07-15 This book is a collection of articles and essays by Professor Herbert C. Kelman, a leading figure in the conflict resolution community and one of the most influential peace researchers. Professor Kelman, a social psychologist, has been a pioneer of conflict resolution and peace research, and his work in conflict resolution has included a decades-long action research program on the Arab-Israeli conflict, which has seen the development of Interactive Problem Solving Workshops, an approach which has had a deep impact not only on research but also on the practice of conflict resolution around the world and especially in the Middle East. Focusing on Kelman's conflict resolution-related work, this volume comprises an important collection of articles written by Kelman across his career as academic and practitioner. By bringing together these carefully selected articles, the book offers a concise overview of the body of Kelman's work and his intellectual biography. It traces the origins of the field of conflict resolution, the development of the study and practice of Interactive Problem Solving Workshops, and the wider challenges faced by conflict resolution research and practice. This book will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies, conflict resolution psychology, and IR in general.

The Oxford Handbook of Intergroup Conflict Linda Tropp, 2012-07-26 With insightful chapters from key social psychologists and peace scholars, this handbook offers an integrative and extensive overview of critical questions, issues, processes, and strategies relevant to understanding and addressing intergroup conflict.

Recognition as Key for Reconciliation: Israel, Palestine, and Beyond, 2017-10-23 In these times of growing insecurity, widening inequities, and deepening crisis for civilized governance, Recognition as Key for Reconciliation offers meaningful and provocative thoughts on how to advance towards a more just and peaceful future. From the intractable Israeli-Palestinian conflict, we learn of thin and thick recipes for solutions. Beyond the Middle East region, we learn from studies around the globe: South Africa, Northern Ireland, and Armenia show the challenges to genuine recognition of our very human connection to each other and that this recognition is essential for any sustainable positive security for all of us. Contributors are Deina Abdelkader, Gregory Aftandilian, Dale Eickelman, Amal Jamal, Maya Kahanoff, Herbert Kelman, Yoram Meital, Victoria Montgomery, Paula M. Rayman, Albie Sachs, and Nira Yuval-Davis.

EBOOK: Social Psychology David Myers, Jackie Abell, Fabio Sani, 2014-03-16 Social psychology is one of the most intriguing and captivating areas of psychology as it has a profound influence on our everyday lives, from our shopping habits to our interactions at a party. Social psychology seeks to answer questions that we think and talk about with each other every day: questions such as Why do some people behave differently when on their own than when they're with a group? What leads individuals sometimes to hurt and sometimes to help one another? Why are we attracted to certain types of people? How do some persuade others to do what they want? The new edition of Social Psychology has been revised to introduce a more flexible structure for the teaching and studying of social psychology and includes up to date international research in the area There is an emphasis throughout on the critical evaluation of published research in order to encourage critical thinking about the various topics Applied examples across the chapters help to highlight the relevance and hence the impact that the theories and methods of this fascinating subject have upon the social world Key Features Include Research Close Up Following a brand new style this feature matches the layout used in real research papers providing an accessible introduction to journal articles and the research methods used by social psychologists Focus On Fully revised from the previous edition these boxes now look at opposing viewpoints controversial research or alternative approaches to topics within social psychology offering a more critical outlook on topics and prompting the questioning of the validity of published research Recommended Readings New to this edition recommended further readings of both classic and contemporary literature have been added to each chapter providing a springboard for further consideration of the topic Connect Psychology is McGraw Hill s digital learning and teaching environment Students You get easy online access to homework tests and quizzes designed by your instructor You get immediate feedback on how you re doing making it the perfect platform to test your knowledge Lecturers It gives you the power to create auto graded assignments tests and quizzes online The detailed visual reporting allows you to easily monitor your students progress In addition you can still access key support materials for your teaching including a testbank seminar materials and lecture support Visit <http://connect.mcgraw-hill.com> for more details

Privatization, Law, and the Challenge to Feminism Brenda Cossman, Judy Fudge, 2002-01-01 Examining eight case studies on the role of law in various arenas this collection of essays addresses the reconfiguration of the relations between the state the market and the family caused by privatization

Jews and Arabs in Israel Encountering Their Identities Maya Kahanoff, 2016-04-13 Jews and Arabs in Israel Encountering their Identities reveals the powerful potential of inter group dialogues to transform identities and mutually negating relations Using meetings with Israeli Jewish and Palestinian Arabian students who attend the Hebrew University of Jerusalem as case studies Kahanoff examines the hidden psychological dimensions of the Israeli Palestinian conflict and illustrates how each participant s sense of identity shifted in response to encounters with conflicting perspectives Kahanoff contends that an awareness of the limitations of dialogue without the renunciation of its value is the most realistic basis upon which to build a sustainable agreement This book is recommended for scholars of psychology sociology religious studies political science and communication studies

Leading-edge Health Education Issues Lennard V. Sebeki,2008 This book concentrates on the field of health education which is of prime importance in a rapidly changing world where computers and the internet make the possibilities almost limitless The areas of dynamic impact include education and training of health professionals patients medical and other institutions of other higher learning families of ill people and the public at large It is an invaluable addition to the literature

Conflict Transformation Rhea A. DuMont,,Tom H. Hastings,Emiko Noma,2013-02-28 Seeking to expand the transformative aspect of conflict resolution the contributors to this edited collection have focused on gathering scholarship from under represented voices and viewpoints in the field the emerging discipline Most mainstream conflict resolution seems to look either at interpersonal conflict or international conflict without much focus on the differing individuals and social structures involved These peer reviewed essays add significant findings to those gaps in the literature The editors and contributors are perhaps not coincidentally mostly women and people of color whose voices are often absent from other collections Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here The Oxford Handbook of Urban Economics and Planning Nancy Brooks, Kieran Donaghy, Gerrit-Jan Knaap, 2012-01-12 This volume embodies a problem driven and theoretically informed approach to bridging frontier research in urban economics and urban regional planning The authors focus on the interface between these two subdisciplines that have historically had an uneasy relationship Although economists were among the early contributors to the literature on urban planning many economists have been dismissive of a discipline whose leading scholars frequently favor regulations over market institutions equity over efficiency and normative prescriptions over positive analysis Planners meanwhile even as they draw upon economic principles often view the work of economists as abstract not sensitive to institutional contexts and communicated in a formal language spoken by few with decision making authority Not surprisingly papers in the leading economic journals rarely cite clearly pertinent papers in planning journals and vice versa Despite the historical divergence in perspectives and methods urban economics and urban planning share an intense interest in many topic areas the nature of cities the prosperity of urban economies the efficient provision of urban services efficient systems of transportation and the proper allocation of land between urban and environmental uses In bridging this gap the book highlights the best scholarship in planning and economics that address the most pressing urban problems of our day and stimulates further dialog between scholars in urban planning and urban economics The Elusive What and the Problematic How, 2008-01-01 For the authors in this book there can be no valid excuses for ignorance in any aspect of education as theory practice That is If we come to learn that all educational problems involve knowledge of complex systems and processes then quick simple solutions should not be an educator's first or only expedient option If all education requires a measure of cultural and contextual understandings then uniform standardized programs and lessons will not meet the needs of all children or communities If educational change takes time and strenuous efforts to take hold then why do we abandon and restart reforms efforts year after year If educational practices are best performed by those closest to the problems then why do we not prepare and continuously develop teachers and administrators to grow intellectually and politically to make wise decisions If who a person is culturally and intellectually shapes who they are as educators then why are our recruitment selection induction and retention policies not influenced by this assumption If today's best practices have not taken careful note of successes in the past then how do we validly measure best practices in use today If one time standardized test scores are not adequate measures of a person's worth a teacher's competency or a school's value to its community then why do our policies and practices say otherwise Unfortunately our ignorance of the what and the how of education and educational leadership has persisted across contexts and history Why This book provides both theoretical and practical answers to these elusive and problematic issues

Ethical Transformations for a Sustainable Future Olivier Urbain, Deva Temple, 2011-12-31 It has become increasingly apparent that humanity's complex social political and economic systems are incompatible with the finite capacity of the Earth to replenish resources and absorb wastes If the planet is to continue to be habitable for the myriad web of other creatures that make life possible humans must transform their systems so that they are aligned with natural systems One thing is sure it will not be Nature's laws the delicate interdependence that characterizes Earth's ecosystems that change The change must begin within each person and from there permeate throughout our social political and economic structures The contributors to this volume believe that such transformations are urgently needed and possible and they offer specific examples They suggest solutions that call for new perspectives in our ethics beliefs traditions economy business gender relations education and technology They show that human beings have the power to implement changes in all natural and social environments The chapters in this book have been organized around three keywords Reconnecting Reframing and Rethinking The contributors argue that we need to reconnect with the Earth and nature as well as with each other and parts of ourselves that we have ignored for too long We need to reframe the way in which people prioritize choices in the economy the way we do business and pursue development and we need to rethink the mission of education and the roles of technology
