Self Love And Christian Ethics:

Self Love and Christian Ethics Darlene Fozard Weaver, 2002-10-17 Publisher Description Love, Human and Divine Edward Collins Vacek, 1994-04-01 Although the two great commandments to love God and to love our neighbors as ourselves are central to Christianity few theologians or spiritual writers have undertaken an extensive account of the meaning and forms of these loves Most accounts in fact make love of God and love of self either impossible or immoral Integrating these two commandments Edward Vacek SJ develops an original account of love as the theological foundation for Christian ethics Vacek criticizes common understandings of agape eros and philia examining the arguments of Aquinas Nygren Outka Rahner Scheler and other theologians and philosophers He defines love as an emotional affirmative participation in the beloved's real and ideal goodness and he extends this definition to the love between God and self Vacek proposes that the heart of Christian moral life is loving cooperation with God in a mutually perfecting friendship Love and Christian Ethics Frederick V. Simmons, 2016-12-15 At the heart of Christian ethics is the biblical commandment to love God and to love one's neighbor as oneself But what is the meaning of love Scholars have wrestled with this question since the recording of the Christian gospels and in recent decades teachers and students of Christian ethics have engaged in vigorous debates about appropriate interpretations and implications of this critical norm In Love and Christian Ethics nearly two dozen leading experts analyze and assess the meaning of love from a wide range of perspectives Chapters are organized into three areas influential sources and exponents of Western Christian thought about the ethical significance of love perennial theoretical questions attending that consideration and the implications of Christian love for important social realities Contributors bring a richness of thought and experience to deliver unprecedentedly broad and rigorous analysis of this central tenet of Christian ethics and faith William Werpehowski provides an afterword on future trajectories for this research Love and Christian Ethics is sure to become a benchmark resource in the field Christian Ethics Hans Martensen, 1888 Christian Ethics: Special part: pt. 1, Individual ethics, tr. from the author's German ed. by William Affleck; pt. 2, Social ethics, tr. from the author's German ed. by Sophia Taylor Hans Martensen, 1881 Hope and Christian Ethics David Elliot, 2017-07-14 The theological virtue of hope has long been neglected in Christian ethics However as social civic and global anxieties mount the need to overcome despair has become urgent This book proposes the theological virtue of hope as a promising source of rejuvenation Theological hope sustains us from the sloth presumption and despair that threaten amid injustice tragedy and dying it provides an ultimate meaning and transcendent purpose to our lives and it rejoices and refreshes us on the way with the prospect of eternal beatitude Rather than degrading this life and world hope ordains earthly goods to our eschatological end forming us to pursue social justice with a resilience and vitality that transcend the cynicism and disillusionment so widespread at present Drawing on Thomas Aquinas and virtue ethics the book shows how the virtue of hope contributes to human happiness in this life and not just the next Augustinian and Ecclesial Christian Ethics D. Stephen

Long,2018-08-15 What is the relationship between the command to love one's enemies and the use of violence and or other coercive political means This work examines this question by comparing and contrasting two important contemporary approaches to Christian ethics neoAugustinian and the ecclesial or neoAnabaptist It traces the complicated conversation that has taken place since John Howard Yoder took on Reinhold Niebuhr's interpretation of the Anabaptists in the 1940's It consists of three parts The first part traces the development of the Augustinian Niebuhrian approach to ethics from Niebuhr through those who have advanced his work including Paul Ramsey Timothy Jackson Charles Mathewes Eric Gregory and Jennifer Herdt It also examines the Augustinian ethics of Oliver O'Donovan John Milbank and Nicholas Wolterstorff Along with tracing the Augustinian approach and its trajectories through agapism theology and the interpretation of Augustine it identifies fifteen criticisms that this approach brings against the neoAnabaptists The second part traces the origin of the ecclesial or neoAnabaptist approach and then examines its relationship to and criticism of agapism what theological doctrines are central and its interpretation of Augustine Its purpose is primarily constructive by explaining the role that ecclesiology Christology and eschatology have among the neoAnabaptists The third part addresses the criticisms levied by Augustinians against the neoAnabaptists by drawing on the constructive theology in the second part It intends to show where the Augustinian critics are correct where they have missed key theological teachings and where they misrepresent It also assesses the summons to the nationalist project the Augustinians put to the neoAnabaptists If this work is successful this third part will not be defensive It will instead illumine the reasons for the criticisms and suggest means by which the conversation that began between Yoder and Niebuhr can continue and possibly bear fruit for theological ethics in both its ecclesial and nationalist projects for generations to come Christian Ethics: Special part. 1st division: Individual ethics, translated from the German edition by William Affleck. 4th ed Hans Martensen,1891 Biblical Christian Ethics David Clyde Jones,1994-06-01 After examining what Scripture teaches about the goal and motive of the Christian life the author addresses moral dilemmas human life issues sexuality economic justice and truthfulness Christian ethics, tr. by C. Spence (W. Affleck). Hans Lassen Martensen (bp. of Zealand.),1881 Christian Ethics. Special Part Hans Martensen,1882

Theology and Families Adrian Thatcher,2008-04-15 This timely book by one of the world's leading theologians in this field makes a positive theological contribution to present intellectual and practical discussions about families and children Explores the intellectual and practical debates about the changing nature of family forms roles and relationships and how Christian faith and theology can contribute to the thriving of families and children Considers the causes and consequences of changes to families over recent decades Utilizes the theological resources that are best equipped to deal with these changes and to shape ethical teaching ethical practice moral judgements and public policies Develops family friendly readings of scripture tradition and doctrine and moves forward theological treatment of marriage gender and children The Problem of Self-Love in St. Augustine Oliver O'Donovan,2006-11-01 The primal destruction of man was self love There is no one who does not love himself but one must search for the right love and avoid the warped Indeed you did not love yourself when you did not love the God who made you These three sentences set side by side show why the problem of self love in St Augustine of Hippo constitutes a problem Self love is loving God it is also hating God Self love is common to all men it is restricted to those who love God Mutually incompatible assertions about self love jostle one another and demand to be reconciled from the Introduction In saying that self love finds its only true expression in love of God Augustine is formulating in one of many possible ways a principle fundamental to his metaphysical and ethical outlook namely that moral obligation derives from an obligation to God which is at the same time a call to self fulfillment from the Conclusion

Altruism and Christian Ethics Colin Grant, 2000-11-16 Separated from its anchorage in religion ethics has followed the social sciences in seeing human beings as fundamentally characterised by self interest so that altruism is either naively idealistic or arrogantly self sufficient Colin Grant contends that as a modern secular concept altruism is a parody on the self giving love of Christianity so that its dismissal represents a social levelling that loses the depths that theology makes intelligible and religion makes possible The Christian affirmation is that God is characterised by self giving love agape then expected of Christians Lacking this theological background the focus on self interest in sociobiology and economics and on human realism in the political focus of John Rawls or the feminist sociability of Carol Gilligan finds altruism naive or a dangerous distraction from real possibilities of mutual support This book argues that to dispense with altruism is to dispense with God and with the divine transformation of human possibilities
