Dilworth, Timothy P. R. Weaver, 2020-06-12 A collection of international case studies that demonstrate the importance of ideas to urban political development Ideas interests and institutions are the holy trinity of the study of politics Of the three ideas are arguably the hardest with which to grapple and despite a generally broad agreement concerning their fundamental importance the most often neglected Nowhere is this more evident than in the study of urban politics and urban political development The essays in How Ideas Shape Urban Political Development argue that ideas have been the real drivers behind urban political development and offer as evidence national and international examples some unique to specific cities regions and countries and some of global impact Within the United States contributors examine the idea of blight and how it became a powerful metaphor in city planning the identification of racially defined spaces especially black cities and city neighborhoods as specific targets of neoliberal disciplinary practices the paradox of members of Congress who were active supporters of civil rights legislation in the 1950s and 1960s but enjoyed the support of big city political machines that were hardly liberal when it came to questions of race in their home districts and the intersection of national education policy local school politics and the politics of immigration Essays compare the ways in which national urban policies have taken different shapes in countries similar to the United States namely Canada and the United Kingdom The volume also presents case studies of city based political development in Chile China India and Africa areas of the world that have experienced a more recent form of urbanization that feature deep and intimate ties and similarities to urban political development in the Global North but which have occurred on a broader scale Contributors Daniel B land Debjani Bhattacharyya Robert Henry Cox Richardson Dilworth Jason Hackworth Marcus Anthony Hunter William Hurst Sally Ford Lawton Thomas Ogorzalek Eleonora Pasotti Joel Rast Douglas S Reed Mara Sidney Lester K Spence Vanessa Watson Timothy P R Weaver Amy Widestrom

Global Urbanism Michele Lancione, Colin McFarlane, 2021-06-21 Global Urbanism is an experimental examination of how urban scholars and activists make sense of and act upon the foundational relationship between the global and the urban What does it mean to say that we live in a global urban moment and what are its implications Refusing all encompassing answers the book grounds this question exploring the plurality of understandings definitions and ways of researching global urbanism through the lenses of varied contributors from different parts of the world The contributors explore what global urbanism means to them in their context from the ground and the struggles upon which they are working and living The book argues for an incremental fragile and in the making emancipatory urban thinking The contributions provide the resources to help make sense of what global urbanism is in its varieties what s at stake in it how to research it and what needs to change for more progressive urban futures It provides a heterodox set of approaches and theorisations to probe and provoke rather than aiming to draw a line under a complex changing and profoundly contested set of global urban processes Global Urbanism is primarily intended for scholars and graduate students in geography sociology planning anthropology and the field of urban studies for whom it will provide an invaluable and up to date guide to current thinking across the range of disciplines and practices which converge in the study of urbanism Chapter 36 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429259593> Development Co-operation Report 2021 Shaping a Just Digital Transformation

OECD,2021-12-21 Digital transformation is revolutionising economies and societies with rapid technological advances in AI robotics and the Internet of Things Low and middle income countries are struggling to gain a foothold in the global digital economy in the face of limited digital capacity skills and fragmented global and regional rules The Infrastructural South Jonathan Silver,2023-10-10 An in depth look at the infrastructural landscape of Africa amid the third wave of urbanization drawing on case studies from Africa and extending further afield The Infrastructural South represents a major theoretical contribution to the study of infrastructure s role in the third wave of urbanization centered on Africa Based on over a decade of empirical research Silver s sweeping examination probes many of contemporary urbanism s most exciting and pressing issues through the lens of the Global South Focusing on Uganda Ghana and South Africa Silver s conceptually innovative chapters explore the way access to energy water sanitation transit and information technologies shape everyday life as they map the dynamic relations between cities technology and the environment Pushing readers to look at the wider worlds that suffuse urban systems this theoretical and geographical perspective treats Africa s rapidly transforming towns and cities as complex sites of disruption emancipation and contradiction In doing so it shows how the proliferating urbanisms and contested techno environments arise from shifting priorities in infrastructure planning politics and financing gaps As urban issues become a key twenty first century challenge for Africa Silver offers a comprehensive reworking of our understanding of urbanization The Infrastructural South rethinks how global scholarship approaches infrastructure laying pathways for future research at the intersection of technology environmental urbanism and urban politics New York Court of Appeals.

Introducing Human Geographies Kelly Dombroski, Mark Goodwin, Junxi Qian, Andrew Williams, Paul Cloke, 2024-07-09

Introducing Human Geographies is a travel guide into the academic subject of human geography and the things that it studies. The coverage of the new edition has been thoroughly refreshed to reflect and engage with the contemporary nature and direction of human geography. This updated and much extended fourth edition includes a diverse range of authors and topics from across the globe with a completely revised set of contributions reflecting contemporary concerns in human geography. Presented in four parts with a streamlined structure it includes over 70 contributions written by expert international researchers addressing the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject. It maps out the big foundational ideas that have shaped the discipline past and present, explores key research themes being pursued in human geography's various sub-disciplines, and identifies emerging collaborations between human geography and other disciplines in the areas of technology, justice, and environment. This comprehensive, stimulating, and cutting-edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full-colour figures, maps, and photos. The book is designed especially for students new to university degree courses in human geography across the world and is an essential reference for undergraduate students on courses related to society, place, culture, and space.

Utopia(s) - Worlds and Frontiers of the Imaginary Maria Rosário Monteiro, Mário Ming Kong, Maria João Pereira Neto, 2016-11-03. The idea of Utopia springs from a natural desire of transformation of evolution pertaining to humankind, and therefore one can find expressions of utopian desire in every civilization. Having to do explicitly with human condition, Utopia accompanies closely cultural evolution almost as a symbiotic organism. Maintaining its roots deeply attached to ancient myths, utopian expression followed and sometimes preceded cultural transformation. Through the next almost five hundred pages, virtually one for each year since Utopia was published, researchers in the fields of Architecture and Urbanism, Arts, and Humanities present the results of their studies within the different areas of expertise under the umbrella of Utopia. Past, present, and future come together in one book. They do not offer their readers any golden key. Many questions will remain unanswered as they should. The texts presented in Proportion, Harmonies, and Identities: UTOPIA'S WORLDS AND FRONTIERS OF THE IMAGINARY were compiled with the intent to establish a platform for the presentation, interaction, and dissemination of researches. It aims also to foster the awareness and discussion on the topics of Harmony and Proportion with a focus on different utopian visions and readings relevant to the arts, sciences, and humanities and their importance and benefits for the community at large.

Light: The Shape of Space Lou Michel, 1995-10-27. Light: The Shape of Space Designing with Space and Light. Lou Michel, Every design professional who touches a space shapes the light and the feeling of that space. Architect, lighting engineer, interior designer, lighting or home furnishing manufacturer, each contributes an aesthetic layer, sometimes yielding unexpected results. All too often the best-laid plans of one professional are unintentionally subverted by another. Removing surprises and guesswork from design. Lou Michel, honored architectural lighting educator, has created Light: The Shape of Space showing how to design with the effects of light rather than light itself The book is a revolutionary resource for all design professionals and manufacturers of surfacing materials Drawing on over fifteen years experience of research and teaching in the architectural Space and Light Laboratory at The University of Kansas Michel masterfully examines the interrelationship of lighting and the design of architectural space as perceived not in architectural photos or paint chips and fabric swatches but by human vision the gateway to emotional response The book was written for professionals who care about how people feel in the spaces they design and focuses on the humanization of architecture Taking a non stylistic approach to design Michel analyzes architecture from the perspective of how the users see their surroundings as they move through space The reader will learn what pleases and what disturbs people based on how the human visual system responds to color texture pattern and brightness The book features principles of design for the student and professional and is generously supported by illustrations and research Michel also provides a method for evaluating the visual effectiveness of building materials and lighting systems including those that will appear on the market long after this book is dog eared Michel unveils a groundbreaking luminance brightness rating system LBR and a nine zone brightness scale to aid designers in previsualizing the appearance of surfacing materials at every stage of the design process from schematics to development to refinement Among the topics treated are the interaction of lighting and spatial design color theory for space and light the luminance relationships between free standing objects and the surrounding spatial boundaries against which they are seen the appearance of building materials in color and brightness when modified by light and spatial location lighting spatial connections including the perception of rooms adjacent to the observer lighting and perception of spaces screened by architectural grilles creating lighted space Designing with the effects of light is both an art and a science No other book on the market bridges that gap as successfully as Light The Shape of Space Thailand Beyond the Crisis Peter

Warr,2004-09-09 Thailand Beyond the Crisis includes recent research to give an accurate and up to date picture of the status of Thailand s economic recovery The Asian economic crisis began in Thailand and ended a decade of sustained economic boom This book identifies the role of policy errors involving both the Thai government and the IMF that lead to the crash of the fastest growing economy in the world Warr addresses the consequences of the crisis including sharply increased poverty incidence and a backlog of non performing loans which clogged the banking system delaying recovery Key content includes the Social Consequences of the crisis and alternatives public sector reform implications of a floating exchange rate education urbanisation and the environment Reader's Guide to the Social Sciences Jonathan Michie,2014-02-03 This 2 volume work includes approximately 1 200 entries in A Z order critically reviewing the literature on specific topics from abortion to world systems theory In addition nine major entries cover each of the major disciplines political economy management and business human geography politics sociology law psychology organizational behavior and the history and development of the social sciences in a broader sense Third World Cities In Global Perspective David Smith,2019-05-20 In this innovative book David Smith ultimately links what happens on the ground in the neighbourhoods where people live to the larger political and economic forces at work putting these connections in a historical framework and using a case study approach

The societies of the world's underdeveloped countries are now undergoing an urban revolution Cities of Entanglements

Barbara Heer, 2019-09-02 How do people live together in cities shaped by inequality This comparative ethnography of two African cities Maputo and Johannesburg presents a new narrative about social life in cities often described as sharply divided Based on the ethnography of entangled lives unfolding in a township and in a suburb in Johannesburg in a bairro and in an elite neighborhood in Maputo the book includes case studies of relations between domestic workers and their employers failed attempts by urban elites to close off their neighborhoods and entanglements emerging in religious spaces and in shopping malls Systematizing comparison as an experience based method the book makes an important contribution to urban anthropology comparative urbanism and urban studies
