Shaping Of South African Society 1652-1820:

The Shaping of South African Society 1652-1820 Richard Elphick, Hermann Giliomee, 1989 The Shaping of South African Society, 1652-1840 Richard Elphick, 1989 The Shaping of South African Society, 1652-1840. Richard Elphick, Hermann Giliomee, 2014-01-15 History is a powerful aid to the understanding of the present and those who are concerned with the escalating crisis in South Africa will find this an invaluable source book This is the story of the evolution of a society in which race became the dominant characteristic the primary determinant of status wealth and power Cultural chauvinism of the first European colonists primarily the Dutch merged with economic and demographic developments to create a society in which whites relegated all blacks free blacks Africans imported slaves to a systematic pattern of subordination and oppression that foreshadowed the apartheid of the twentieth century From the beginning of the nineteenth century the new empire builders the British reinforced the racial order In the next century and a half the industrialized South Africa would become firmly integrated into the world economy Published originally in South Africa in 1979 and updated and expanded now a decade later this book by twelve South African British Canadian Dutch and American scholars is the most comprehensive history of the early years of that troubled nation The authors put South Africa in the comparative context of other colonial systems Their social political and economic history is rich with empirical data and rests on a solid base of archival research The story they tell is a complex drama of a racial structure that has resisted hostile impulses from without and rebellion from within Converting Colonialism Dana L. Robert, 2008-01-02 Series Studies in the History of Christian Missions SHCM In this volume leading historians of Christianity in the non Western world examine the relationship between missionaries and nineteenth century European colonialism and between indigenous converts and the colonial contexts in which they lived Forced to operate within a political framework of European expansionism that lay outside their power to control missionaries and early converts variously attempted to co opt certain aspects of colonialism and to change what seemed prejudicial to gospel values These contributors are the leading historians in their fields and the concrete historical situations that they explore show the real complexity of missionary efforts to convert colonialism Contributors J F Ade Ajayi Roy Bridges Richard Elphick Eleanor Jackson Daniel Jeyaraj Andrew Porter Dana L Robert R G Tiedemann C Peter Williams

Jan Paerl, a Khoikhoi in Cape Colonial Society, 1761-1851 Russel Stafford Viljoen, 2006 In this biography of the Khoikhoi Jan Paerl 1761-1851 light is being shed on a new form of resistance against colonial domination in Cape society It emphasizes Khoikhoi colonial encounters and incorporates themes such as millenarian beliefs identities master servant relations indentured labour and the appropriation of mission Christianity Religions of South Africa (Routledge Revivals) David Chidester, 2014-06-27 First published in 1992 this title explores the religious diversity of South Africa organizing it into a single coherent narrative and providing the first comparative study and introduction to the topic David Chidester emphasizes the fact that the complex distinctive character of South African religious life has taken shape with a particular economic social and political context and pays special attention to the creativity of people who have suffered under conquest colonialism and apartheid With an overview of African traditional religion Christian missions and African innovations during the nineteenth century this reissue will be of great value to students of religious studies South African history anthropology sociology and political studies White Supremacy and Black Resistance in Pre-industrial South Africa Clifton C. Crais,1992-01-09 This book provides an in depth analysis of the emergence of a racially divided society in pre industrial Southern Africa Masters and Servants on the Cape Eastern Frontier, 1760-1803 Susan Newton-King,1999-07-08 A history of the conquest and servitude of the Khoisan in the Cape eastern frontier Black Political Thought in the Making of South African Democracy C.R.D. Halisi,1999 a comprehensive analytical survey of the multidimensional evolution of black political thought in South Africa s politicization process Choice Many citizens experience a sense of reluctance to share a single national identity with all of those who are defined by law to be their compatriots This problem can be explained and surmounted but it cannot be evaded by those who aspire to build a stable democracy in South Africa Richard L Sklar from the Foreword What will it mean to be a citizen in the new South Africa This penetrating study analyzes the issues of dual citizenship black consciousness populism racial proletarianization and their interaction with various political ideologies Halisi s analysis has practical implications for the development of political identity in the new South Africa A History of African Societies to 1870 Elizabeth Isichei,1997-04-13 This comprehensive and detailed exploration of the African past from prehistory to approximately 1870 is intended to provide a fully up to date complement to the Cambridge History of Africa Reflecting several emphases in recent scholarship it focusses on the changing modes of production on gender relations and on ecology laying particular stress on viewing history from below A distinctive theme is to be found in its analyses of cognitive history The work falls into three sections The first comprises a historiographic analysis and covers the period from the dawn of prehistory to the end of the Early Iron Age The second and third sections are for the most part organised on regional lines the second section ends in the sixteenth century the third carries the story on to 1870 A second volume now in preparation will cover the period from 1870 to 1995 This book attempts a more rounded view of African history than most of the other textbooks on the subject addressed to a largely undergraduate level student Earlier histories have tended to ignore some of the current foci in the scholarly literature on Africa generally not reflected in the textbooks these include discussions of topical issues like ecology and gender Isichei s book is also more radical Slavery In South Africa Elizabeth Eldredge,Fred Morton,2019-05-28 South African slavery differs from slavery practiced in other frontier zones of European settlement in that the settlers enslaved indigenes as a supplement to and eventually as a replacement for imported slave labor On the expanding frontier Dutch speaking farmers increasingly met their labor needs by conducting slave raids arming African slave The Equality of Believers Richard Elphick,2012 Elphick_FM 10 elphick_1 100 elphick_101 180 elphick_181 296 elphick_297 438 British Campaigns in the South Atlantic, 1805-1807 John D. Grainger, 2015-03-13 Between 1805 and 1807 the British mounted several expeditions into the South Atlantic aimed at weakening Napoleon's Spanish and Dutch allies. The targets were the Dutch colony on South Africa's Cape of Good Hope which potentially threatened British shipping routes to India and the Spanish colonies in the Rio de la Plata basin, now parts of Argentina and Uruguay. In 1805 an army of around 6 000 men was dispatched for the Cape under the highly respected General David Baird. They were escorted and assisted by a naval squadron under Home Riggs Popham. The Cape surrendered in January 1806. Popham then persuaded Baird to lend him troops for an attack on Buenos Aires. Buenos Aires was taken in July but the paltry British force around 2 400 men was then besieged and forced to surrender in August. Popham was later court-martialled for exceeding his orders. In Feb 1807 Montevideo was taken by a new officially sanctioned British force of 6 000 men. Whitelocke, the British Commander, then attempted to retake Buenos Aires not least to free British prisoners from the first attempt but was defeated by unexpectedly fierce resistance stiffened by armed creoles and slaves. After heavy losses he signed an armistice surrendering Montevideo and withdrawing all his forces. He too was court-martialled. One of the major themes of this new account is the strong Scottish connection. Baird and Popham were both Scots and the 71st Highlanders made up the main force in the Cape and Popham's adventure. Another is the unlooked-for consequences of these actions. The arrival of Scottish Calvinist ministers in the Cape influenced the eventual development of apartheid while successful resistance to the British with little help from Spain shaped and accelerated the independence movement in South America.

The Zulu-Boer War 1837-1840 Michał Leśniewski, 2021-04-19 This book offers an in-depth examination of the conflict of 1838 to 1840 between the Zulus and the Boers. Leśniewski reflects on the established historiography and reappraises some key conceptions of the war. The conflict has often been seen as a colonial war with the Zulus cast into the role of either villains or victims. Drawing on written primary sources and Zulu oral tradition, the author instead argues that the war was a struggle between an established regional power aiming to defend and consolidate its position and an incoming power seeking land settlement and local supremacy.

Dutch Colonialism, Migration and Cultural Heritage Geert Oostindie, 2008-01-01 Migration flows in the former Dutch colonial orbit created an intricate web connecting the Netherlands to Africa, Asia and the Americas. Africa to the Americas and to Asia in the nineteenth century. Asia to the Americas within the post-Second World War period, the direction of migration shifting to the Netherlands. Some of these migrations were voluntary, others were forced; they helped to create colonial societies that were never typically Dutch but did have Dutch characteristics. Power imbalance, ethnic differences and creolization characterized the cultural configuration of these colonial societies. This book, with contributions by a number of Dutch scholars, provides state-of-the-art discussions on these migration histories. In addition, it presents reflections on the ways this past and its repercussions are remembered or forgotten or actively silenced throughout the former colonial empire. This part of the book is embedded in the wider contemporary debate about the contested concept of cultural heritage and about the possibility of meaningful cultural heritage policies in a post colonial world

Female Entrepreneurs in the Long Nineteenth Century Jennifer

Aston, Catherine Bishop, 2020-07-29 This volume challenges those who see gender inequalities invariably defining and constraining the lives of women But it also broadens the conversation about the degree to which business is a gender blind institution owned and managed by entrepreneurs whose gender identities shape and reflect economic and cultural change Mary A Yeager Professor Emerita University of California Los Angeles This is the first book to consider nineteenth century businesswomen from a global perspective moving beyond European and trans Atlantic frameworks to include many other corners of the world The women in these pages who made money and business decisions for themselves rather than as employees ran a wide variety of enterprises from micro businesses in the grey market to large factories with international reach They included publicans and farmers midwives and property developers milliners and plumbers pirates and shopkeepers Female Entrepreneurs in the Long Nineteenth Century A Global Perspective rejects the notion that nineteenth century women were restricted to the home Despite a variety of legal and structural restrictions they found ways to make important but largely unrecognised contributions to economies around the world many in business Their impact on the economy and the economy's impact on them challenge gender historians to think more about business and business historians to think more about gender and create a global history that is inclusive of multiple perspectives Chapter one of this book is available open access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link.springer.com

South Africa's Racial Past Paul

Maylam, 2017-03-02 A unique overview of the whole 350 year history of South Africa's racial order from the mid seventeenth century to the apartheid era Maylam periodizes this racial order drawing out its main phases and highlighting the significant turning points He also analyzes the dynamics of South African white racism exploring the key forces and factors that brought about and perpetuated oppressive discriminatory policies practices structures laws and attitudes There is also a strong historiographical dimension to the study It shows how various writers have from different perspectives attempted to explain the South African racial order and draws out the political and ideological agendas that lay beneath these diverse interpretations Essential reading for all those interested in the past present and future of South Africa this book also has implications for the wider study of race racism and social and political ethnic relations

The Dutch Overseas Empire, 1600-1800 Pieter C. Emmer, Jos J.L. Gommans, 2020-10-15

How did the Dutch Empire compare with other imperial enterprises And how was it experienced by the indigenous peoples who became part of this colonial power At the start of the seventeenth century the Dutch Republic emerged as the centre of a global empire that stretched along the edges of continents and connected societies surrounding the Atlantic and Indian Oceans In the Dutch Empire ideas of religious tolerance and scientific curiosity went hand in hand with severe political and economic exploitation of the local populations through violence monopoly and slavery This pioneering history of the early modern Dutch Empire over two centuries for the first time provides a comparative and indigenous perspective on Dutch overseas expansion Apart from discussing the impact of the Empire on the economy and society at home in the Dutch Republic it also offers a fascinating window into the contemporary societies of Asia Africa and the Americas and through their interactions on processes of early modern globalisation Muslim Family Law in Sub-Saharan Africa Shamil Jeppie,Ebrahim Moosa,Richard L. Roberts,2010 Offers comparative historical anthropological and legal perspectives on the ways in which French and British colonial administrations interacted with the diversity of Islamic legal schools scholars and practices in Africa The Race Game Douglas Booth,2012-12-06 1999 North American Society for Sports History Book of the Year Douglas Booth looks at the role of sport in the fostering of a new national identity in South Africa He analyzes the effect of the 30 year sport boycott but concludes that sport will never unite South Africans except in the most fleeting and superficial manner
