

A 19th-century landscape painting. A vibrant rainbow arches from the top right corner down towards a river valley. The valley is filled with a herd of cattle grazing on a grassy slope. In the background, a large, rocky hill or mountain rises, its slopes covered in sparse vegetation. The sky is a mix of blue and soft, hazy clouds. The overall style is characteristic of 19th-century landscape art, with a focus on natural beauty and a sense of tranquility.

SHARING TRADITIONS Lynda Roscoe Hartigan,1985      Race and Racism in Nineteenth-Century Art Naurice Frank

Woods Jr.,2021-06-28 Painters Robert Duncanson ca 1821 1872 and Edward Bannister 1828 1901 and sculptor Mary Edmonia Lewis ca 1844 1907 each became accomplished African American artists But as emerging art makers of color during the antebellum period they experienced numerous incidents of racism that severely hampered their pursuits of a profession that many in the mainstream considered the highest form of social cultivation Despite barriers imposed upon them due to their racial inheritance these artists shared a common cause in demanding acceptance alongside their white contemporaries as capable painters and sculptors on local regional and international levels Author Naurice Frank Woods Jr provides an in depth examination of the strategies deployed by Duncanson Bannister and Lewis that enabled them not only to overcome prevailing race and gender inequality but also to achieve a measure of success that eventually placed them in the top rank of nineteenth century American art Unfortunately the racism that hampered these three artists throughout their careers ultimately denied them their rightful place as significant contributors to the development of American art Dominant art historians and art critics excluded them in their accounts of the period In this volume Woods restores their artistic legacies and redeems their memories introducing these significant artists to rightful new audiences      Sharing Traditions Lynda Roscoe Hartigan,1985      Blacks and Blackness in European Art of the Long Nineteenth Century AdrienneL.

Childs,2017-07-05 Compelling and troubling colorful and dark black figures served as the quintessential image of difference in nineteenth century European art the essays in this volume further the investigation of constructions of blackness during this period This collection marks a phase in the scholarship on images of blacks that moves beyond undifferentiated binaries like negative and positive that fail to reveal complexities contradictions and ambiguities Essays that cover the late eighteenth through the early twentieth century explore the visibility of blackness in anti slavery imagery black women in Orientalist art race and beauty in fin de si e photography the French brand of blackface minstrelsy and a set of little known images of an African model by Edvard Munch In spite of the difficulty of resurrecting black lives in nineteenth century Europe one essay chronicles the rare instance of an American artist of color in mid nineteenth century Europe With analyses of works ranging from Gault's Raft of the Medusa to portraits of the American actor Ira Aldridge this volume provides new interpretations of nineteenth century representations of blacks      Sharing Traditions National Museum of American Art (U.S.),1985      The Emergence of the African-American Artist Joseph D. D. Kaplan, 2020-04-23 In his best selling travel memoir

The Innocents Abroad Mark Twain punningly refers to the black man who introduces him to Venetian Renaissance painting as a contraband guide a term coined to describe fugitive slaves who assisted Union armies during the Civil War By means of this and similar case studies Paul H D Kaplan documents the ways in which American cultural encounters with Europe and its venerable artistic traditions influenced nineteenth century concepts of race in the United States Americans of the Civil War era were struck by the presence of people of color in European art and society and American artists and authors both black and white adapted and transformed European visual material to respond to the particular struggles over the identity of African Americans Taking up the work of both well and lesser known artists and writers such as the travel writings of Mark Twain and William Dean Howells the paintings of German American Emanuel Leutze the epistolary exchange between John Ruskin and Charles Eliot Norton newspaper essays written by Frederick Douglass and William J Wilson and the sculpture of freed slave Eug ne Warburg Kaplan lays bare how racial attitudes expressed in mid nineteenth century American art were deeply inflected by European traditions By highlighting the contributions people of black African descent made to the fine arts in the United States during this period along with the ways in which they were represented Contraband Guides provides a fresh perspective on the theme of race in Civil War era American art It will appeal to art historians to specialists in African American studies and American studies and to general readers interested in American art and African American history

Biographical Dictionary of African Americans, Revised Edition Rachel Kranz, 2021-01-01 For centuries African Americans have made important contributions to American culture From Crispus Attucks whose death marked the start of the Revolutionary War to Oprah Winfrey perhaps the most recognizable and influential TV personality today black men and women have played an integral part in American history This greatly expanded and updated edition of our best selling volume The Biographical Dictionary of Black Americans Revised Edition profiles more than 250 of America s important influential and fascinating black figures past and present in all fields including the arts entertainment politics science sports the military literature education the media religion and many more African Americans in the Visual Arts Steven Otfinoski, 2014-05-14 While social concerns have been central to the work of many African American visual artists painters

A Southern Collection , 1993-02-01 A Southern Collection presents select masterworks from the permanent collection of the Morris Museum of Art on the occasion of the institution s inaugural exhibition Drawn from a comprehensive survey collection of painting in the South from the late eighteenth century to the present day the museum s opening exhibit explores an artistic terrain as rich and diverse as the South itself arranged in categories that reflect critical chronological developments in the art world A survey of painting activity in the South begins with the travels of itinerant portrait artists working prior to the Civil War At the same time landscape painting encompasses a sensitive response to the swamps bayous and fertile fields of the South Late in the nineteenth century strong and vivid genre painting competes with the nostalgic effects realized by Southern impressionists whose shimmering liquid images are invested with an elusive spirit of place In this century those strains of realism and naturalism that characterize the classic body of Southern writing appear in the representational art of painters who defied the modern abstract dictum And finally the exciting compelling works of a current generation of both self taught artists and sophisticated contemporary painters complete this fascinating though sometimes neglected chapter in American art history

The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America

Robert S. Duncanson Charlotte Etinde-Crompton, Samuel Willard Crompton, 2019-12-15 Born in 1821 to a Scottish Canadian father and an African American mother Robert S Duncanson is widely considered to be the first black artist to become world famous He began as a house painter and from there moved on to portraits and landscapes A self taught artist influenced by the Hudson River School of painters Duncanson traveled throughout North America and Europe to hone his craft By the 1860s the press had dubbed him the best landscape painter in the West This was high praise given the fierce racial prejudice of the time Unfortunately mental health problems cut Duncanson's career and life short but readers will still be inspired by this tremendously talented individual

Henry Ossawa Tanner Naurice Frank Woods, Jr., 2017-07-06 Over the last forty years renewed interest in the career of Henry Ossawa Tanner 1859-1937 has vaulted him into expanding scholarly discourse on American art Consequently he has emerged as the most studied and recognized representative of African American art during the nineteenth century In fact Tanner in the spirit of political correctness and racial inclusiveness has gained a prominent place in recent textbooks on mainstream American art and his painting The Banjo Lesson 1893 has become an iconic symbol of black creativity In addition Tanner achieved national recognition when the Philadelphia Museum of Art in 1991 and the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in 2012 celebrated him with major retrospectives The latter exhibition brought in a record number of viewers While Tanner lived a relatively simple life where his faith and family dictated many of the choices he made daily his emergence as a prominent black artist in the late nineteenth century often thrust him openly into coping with the social complexities inherent with America's great racial divide In order to fully appreciate how he negotiated prevailing prejudices to find success this book places him in the context of a uniquely talented black man experiencing the demands and rewards of nineteenth century high art and culture By careful examination on multiple levels previously not detailed this book adds greatly to existing Tanner scholarship and provides readers with a more complete richly deserved portrait of this preeminent American master
