Autobiography as Indigenous Intellectual Tradition Deanna Reder,2022-05-03 Autobiography as Indigenous Intellectual Tradition critiques ways of approaching Indigenous texts that are informed by the Western academic tradition and offers instead a new way of theorizing Indigenous literature based on the Indigenous practice of life writing Since the 1970s non Indigenous scholars have perpetrated the notion that Indigenous people were disinclined to talk about their lives and underscored the assumption that autobiography is a European invention Deanna Reder challenges such long held assumptions by calling attention to longstanding autobiographical practices that are engrained in Cree and M tis or n hiyawak culture and examining a series of examples of Indigenous life writing Blended with family stories and drawing on original historical research Reder examines censored and suppressed writing by n hiyawak intellectuals such as Maria Campbell Edward Ahenakew and James Brady Grounded in n hiyawak ontologies and epistemologies that consider life stories to be an intergenerational conduit to pass on knowledge about a shared world this study encourages a widespread re evaluation of past and present engagement with Indigenous storytelling forms across scholarly disciplines Official Report Uganda. National Assembly,1967 An Illustrated History of North Idaho ,1903 History of settlers as well as Indians in the northern counties of Idaho including extensive biographical sketches of prominent citizens The Lion's Share Bernard Porter,2014-06-11 As well as presenting a lively narrative of events Bernard Porter explores a number of broad analytical themes challenging more conventional and popular interpretations He sees imperialism as a symptom not of Britain s strength in the world but of her decline and he argues that the empire itself both aggravated and obscured deep seated malaise in the British economy United Empire ,1935 Troubling Truth and Reconciliation in Canadian Education Sandra D. Styres, Arlo Kempf, 2022-09-07 Troubling Truth and Reconciliation in Canadian Education offers a series of critical perspectives concerning reconciliation and reconciliatory efforts between Canadian and Indigenous peoples Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars address both theoretical and practical aspects of troubling reconciliation in education across various contexts with significant diversity of thought approach and socio political location Throughout the work challenges mainstream reconciliation discourses This timely unflinching analysis will be invaluable to scholars and students of Indigenous studies sociology and education Foreword by Jan Hare Contributors Daniela Bascu n Jennifer Brant Liza Brechbill Shawna Carroll Frank Deer George J Sefa Dei Nana Adusei Sefa Tweneboah Lucy El Sherif Rachel yacaa a George Ruth Green Celia Haig Brown Arlo Kempf Jeannie Kerr David Newhouse Amy Parent Michelle Pidgeon Robin Quantick Jean Paul Restoule Toby Rollo Mark Sinke Sandra D Styres Lynne Wiltse Dawn Zinga The Country Gentleman ,1928 A History of the Original Peoples of Northern Canada Keith J. Crowe, 1991 For more than fifteen years Keith Crowe s A History of the Original Peoples of Northern Canada has informed a multitude of residents in and visitors to the Canadian North and has served as a standard text Now in a new epilogue Crowe describes and analyses the changes in the North which have come about since the book s first publication The success of this book over the years is due in large part to Crowe s approach While the majority of works on Canadian history are essentially European in perspective Crowe has endeavoured to interpret the history of the original peoples of northern Canada from a native standpoint He has attempted to provide a work that native Canadians can use to learn the broad outlines of their cultural and historical development as well as details about their people places and events while giving non native people a more accurate version of northern Canadian history and ethnology Crowe begins with the emergence in prehistoric times of the three great groups of hunting people the Algonkian Athapaskan and Inuit describing their contribution to the cultural heritage of native peoples today He devotes particular attention to the various native tribes and some of their outstanding leaders to the fur trade its effects and the emergence of the M tis people to the devastating consequences of trading and whaling for the Arctic and the Inuit who lived there to the Yukon Indians and the Gold Rush to the coming of Christianity and to the impact of governmental and economic encroachment on the North and the native peoples response to this moving into the boardroom and elected office In his new epilogue Crowe surveys the major land claims since 1974 some settled most still under negotiation and some like the James Bay hydro electric project being challenged Crowe also explains the complexities of the land claims process and points out the irony inherent in native peoples having to help create numerous foreign laws and institutions in order to protect an essentially simple way of life He describes the native peoples movement into and up the ranks of government at all levels and emphasizes the important role played by regional and national native associations such as the Assembly of First Nations He outlines the changes and developments in education in the North and provides a detailed assessment of the still very difficult economic situation stressing the native peoples concern that economic development in the North not be divorced from environmental considerations Keith J Crowe who served for many years in the Department of Indian and Northern Affairs is now retired but remains privately active in northern and native issues Segregation and Mistrust Eric M.

Uslaner,2012-09-17 Generalized trust faith in people you do not know who are likely to be different from you is a value that leads to many positive outcomes for a society Yet some scholars now argue that trust is lower when we are surrounded by people who are different from us Eric M Uslaner challenges this view and argues that residential segregation rather than diversity leads to lower levels of trust Integrated and diverse neighborhoods will lead to higher levels of trust but only if people also have diverse social networks Professor Uslaner examines the theoretical and measurement differences between segregation and diversity and summarizes results on how integrated neighborhoods with diverse social networks increase trust in the United States Canada the United Kingdom Sweden and Australia He also shows how different immigration and integration policies toward minorities shape both social ties and trust Farm Journal and Country Gentleman ,1913
