Ebert, Marc Dando, 2020-12-08 The waters of the northeast Atlantic and Mediterranean Sea are home to an amazing variety of sharks rays and chimaeras This comprehensive and easy to use field guide covers all 146 species found in the Mediterranean the waters of the European Atlantic and Iceland along all the Scandinavian coasts in the Black Sea and as far south as the Canary Islands Detailed species accounts describe key identification features habitat biology and status Every species account comes with a colour distribution map a depth guide at a glance icons and colour illustrations This must have field guide also features illustrated key guides that enable you to accurately identify down to species comparison plates of similar species illustrations of eggcases where known and plates of teeth Theory of Electric and Magnetic Orientation in Sharks and Rays Revisited Adrianus J. Kalmijn, 2024-08-15 The book describes the theory of electromagnetic orientation in sharks and rays The theory evolved from studying the publications of Faraday von Arx and Longuett Higgins Sharks and rays can detect the earth's magnetic field as well as the ambient electric fields utilizing their electrosensory system the Ampullae of Lorenzini Dr Kalmijn provides the physical description of this sensory system in the context of his previously published behavioral studies performed in the laboratory and in natural open ocean settings The book lays bare the physics bedrock of the motional electric fields The physics of the entire sensory environment interacting with these very sensitive organs is made clear step by step so the reader can understand the source of the fields and how the animals detect them Dr Kalmijn analyzes the sensory organs from the perspective of the animal moving through these electric and magnetic fields to arrive at the appropriate relativistic frame to understand how the sensory system works Relying on his thorough understanding of Maxwell Faraday and Einstein he has sought to understand the miraculous abilities of Elasmobranchs The detailed presentation clears away many of the misunderstandings and mistakes of previous researchers Nearly all the mistakes pertain to the underlying physics The existing literature is discussed put in context and corrected This summary and final presentation of Dr Kalmijn's life time study of electromagnetic reception in Elasmobranchs will surely be recognized as the definitive treatise in years to come It gives researchers and students in biology physics oceanography and fisheries a detailed mathematical physics background for the understanding of electroreception in Elasmobranch fishes

Sharks: Conservation, Governance and Management Erika J. Techera, Natalie Klein, 2014-06-05 The key aim of this book is to explore the global conservation and management of sharks There has been a rapid decline in populations of many shark species while new science has emerged of the critical role they play in marine ecosystems However the authors show that conservation law and policy have been slow to develop with only a small number of iconic species being protected worldwide The increase in fishing impact primarily through shark finning and by catch has led to shark conservation receiving greater international attention in recent years The book explores our current knowledge and status of the law and science in relation to sharks with a particular focus on improving frameworks for their conservation and management Recent trends are analysed including shark finning bans that have been put in place in several countries the widening number of nations establishing shark sanctuaries and the growth of shark based tourism The efficacy of current listing processes for endangered species and fisheries regulations is also examined Tourism is explored as an alternative to fishing and the risks and impacts associated with this industry are analysed Contributors include leading authorities from universities and conservation organizations in North America Europe and Australia A common theme is to emphasise the importance of collaborative governance between various interest groups and the need for inter disciplinary research and management approaches that are necessary to address the decline in sharks

Biology of Sharks and Their Relatives Jeffrey C.

Carrier, Colin A. Simpfendorfer, Michael R. Heithaus, Kara E. Yopak, 2022-06-08 Biology of Sharks and Their Relatives is an award winning and groundbreaking exploration of the fundamental elements of the taxonomy systematics physiology and ecology of sharks skates rays and chimera This edition presents current research as well as traditional models to provide future researchers with solid historical foundations in shark research as well as presenting current trends from which to develop new frontiers in their own work Traditional areas of study such as age and growth reproduction taxonomy and systematics sensory biology and ecology are updated with contemporary research that incorporates emerging techniques including molecular genetics exploratory techniques in artificial insemination and the rapidly expanding fields of satellite tracking remote sensing accelerometry and imaging With two new editors and 90 contributors from the US UK South Africa Portugal France Canada New Zealand Australia India Palau United Arab Emirates Micronesia Sweden Argentina Indonesia Cameroon and the Netherlands this third edition is the most global and comprehensive yet It adds six new chapters representing extensive studies of health stress disease and pathology and social structure and continues to explore elasmobranch ecological roles and interactions with their habitats The book concludes with a comprehensive review of conservation policies management and strategies as well as consideration of the potential effects of impending climate change Presenting cohesive and integrated coverage of key topics and discussing technological advances used in modern shark research this revised edition offers a well rounded picture for students and researchers

The Arabian Seas:

Biodiversity, Environmental Challenges and Conservation Measures Laith A. Jawad, 2021-03-30 The Arabian Seas Marine Region encompasses marine areas from Djibouti to Pakistan including the northern part of Somalia the Red Sea the Arabian Persian Gulf and parts of the Arabian Sea Human pressures on the coastal and marine environments are evident throughout the region and have resulted in harmful environmental effects Oil and domestic urban and industrial pollutants in several areas of this part of the world have caused local habitat degradation eutrophication and algal blooms Further coastal landfill dredging and sedimentation as well as nutrient and sediment runoff from phosphate mining agriculture and grazing and reduction in freshwater seepage due to groundwater extraction are all contributing to the degradation of coastal environments This book discusses aspects not covered in other books on the region which largely focus on marine biodiversity and examines several environmental challenges that are often ignored but which have a significant impact on the environment Evaluating the status quo it also recommends conservation measures and examines the abiotic factors that play a major main role in the environmental changes Lastly the book addresses the biodiversity of the area providing a general context for the conservation and management measures discussed

Minorities in Shark Sciences Jasmin Graham,Camila Caceres,Deborah Santos de Azevedo Menna,2022-11-10 Minorities in Shark Sciences showcases the work done by Black Indigenous and People of Color around the world in the fields of shark science and conservation Edited by three minority researchers it provides positive role models for the next generation Highlighting new and important research done in the fields of biology ecology and evolution the book places emphasis on scientists with diverse backgrounds and expertise from around the world The heart of this book is that community and minority voices are important and have always been to science regardless of diplomas universities accolades western standards of academia Despite the use of the term Minorities most of the world s population do not identify as white nor male and in fact all minorities together comprise the global majority of humans For those in these historically underserved and underrepresented demographics it is meaningful to be highlighted and be given credit for their contributions This book showcases to the world the many Black Indigenous People of Color and LGBTQ scientists leading marine conservation both in terms of scientific research and science communication It has been shown in the literature that diversity in scientists creates diversity in thought which leads to innovation Strong minority voices are exactly what is needed to bring greater attention to the conservation of sharks and this book illustrates innovative science by people who were historically excluded from STEM It highlights the unique perspectives these scientists bring to their field that allow them to interact with stakeholders particularly in the areas of conservation and outreach As we continue to amplify these often forgotten voices through research outreach and engagement we hope to stimulate innovation and transformative change in the field of shark conservation and marine science

Vincent Serventy Vincent Serventy,1999 Fascinating life story of a naturalist and conservationist extraordinaire Elasmobranch Biodiversity, Conservation and Management Sarah L. Fowler,Tim M. Reed,Frances Dipper,2002 The Darwin Elasmobranch Biodiversity Conservation and Management project in Sabah held a three day international seminar that included a one day workshop in order to highlight freshwater and coastal elasmobranch conservation issues in the region and worldwide to disseminate the result of the project to other Malaysian states and countries and to raise awareness of the importance of considering aspects of elasmobranch biodiversity in the context of nature conservation commercial fisheries management and for subsistence fishing communities These proceedings contain numerous peer reviewed papers originally presented at the seminar which cover a wide range of topics with particular reference to species from freshwater and estuarine habitats The workshop served to develop recommendations concerning the future prospects of elasmobranch fisheries biodiversity conservation and management This paper records those conclusions which highlight the importance of elasmobranchs as top marine predators and keystone species noting that permanent damage to shark and ray populations are likely to have serious and unexpected negative consequences for commercial and subsistence yields of other important fish stocks

Advanced Veterinary Topics in Elasmobranchs Natalie D. Mylniczenko,Alexa Delaune ,Alisa Newton,2025-05-22 Elasmobranchs are a unique group of fishes which are highly emphasized at aquariums they are a guest favourite and of high interest to the general public Veterinarians working with sharks rays and occasionally chimaeras find themselves challenged because of the wide diversity within the group and the lack of widely published information available in veterinary medicine This special edition aims to do several things 1 significantly contribute data to a generally low publication taxon 2 offer unique case series of disease to help clinicians with diagnosis of disease 3 increase the quality of diagnostics available to veterinarians to improve their case management 4 provide a central location for quality research on elasmobranch veterinary medicine Elasmobranch veterinary care is a poorly published topic yet there are many clinicians doing quality work in shark and ray medicine This special topic provides an impetus for those clinicians to contribute their research with other colleagues in a single resource that veterinarians can easily access Reaching out to those veterinarians and offering them an opportunity to publish in a quality open access journal will be very appealing An initial survey with an aquatic veterinary listserv indicated that at least 10 institutions were interested in collaborating which suggests that the content is there and possibly others have similar research that can be tapped into for this special edition Frontiers in Veterinary Science is offering a special edition for Advanced Veterinary Topics in Elasmobranchs This opportunity will collect multiple topics in shark and ray medicine which will include important baseline data in clinical pathology evaluation of diagnostics that can be accurately used in patient care descriptions of diseases that have not been previously published and sharing techniques with colleagues to elevate the capacity of veterinarians to make diagnoses Manuscripts of interest include Retrospective surveys of disease Baseline data on species previously unpublished bloodwork imaging other Techniques that can advance diagnosis of disease Test and assay validation in elasmobranchs Treatments and strategies for conditions encountered in sharks and rays Reviews of topics that can be helpful for a veterinarian extant topics are largely research or field based

Sexing the Animal in a Post-Humanist World Roslyn Appleby, 2019-05-15 This pioneering collection of essays unpacks the complex discursive and embodied relationships between humans and animals contributing to a more informed understanding of both human animal relations and the role of language in social processes Focusing on the example of shark human interactions the book draws on forms of analysis from multimodality and critical discourse studies to examine the representations of this relationship across visual arts popular media and the natural sciences each viewed through a critical feminist lens The combined effect highlights the significance of the emergent turn to post humanism in applied linguistics and its role in fostering more engaged discussions around broader contemporary social issues including environmental degradation and climate change on the one hand and resurgent feminism and challenges to normative heterosexuality on the other Paving the way for new forms of writing and language for a post anthropocentric age this volume is essential reading for students and scholars in applied linguistics gender studies sociolinguistics human animal studies and environmental humanities
