An Illustrated Pocket Guide to the Sharks of the World David A. Ebert, Sarah Fowler, Sarah L. Fowler, 2014-06-16 Sharks are probably the most misunderstood animals on the planet. We all still have a lot to learn about these fascinating creatures which are sadly more seriously threatened with extinction and in greater need of conservation and management action than any other major group of vertebrates. We have produced this guide not just because we and so many other people love sharks. It is also because their identification, whether of living animals, fishery catches or body parts sold at markets, is an essential tool to support shark conservation, fisheries management and international trade regulation, prevent further depletion of stocks and enable their recovery. The first pocket guide to all 501 shark species, all species illustrated and described, handy compact format with concise text. A six-page guide to shark teeth identification, an eight-page guide to the identification of the shark fins most commonly encountered in the fin trade. Colour plates are by Marc Dando from the hugely acclaimed Sharks of the World: A Fully Illustrated Guide.

Sharks and Rays Timothy C. Tricas, 1997 Sharks and rays have long held the fascination of a great many people and as well as exploring their history, biology, environment and the myths that surround them, this book also gives practical advice on the best ways and places to see them.

Sharks and Their Relatives II Jeffrey C. Carrier, John A. Musick, Michael R. Heithaus, 2010-03-09 Since the award-winning first volume The Biology of Sharks and Their Relatives published in 2004, the field has witnessed tremendous developments in research, rapid advances in technology and the emergence of new investigators beginning to explore issues of biodiversity, distribution, physiology and ecology in ways that eluded more traditional.

Sharks: Conservation, Governance and Management Erika J. Techera, Natalie Klein, 2014-06-05 The key aim of this book is to explore the global conservation and management of sharks There has been a rapid decline in populations of many shark species while new science has emerged of the critical role they play in marine ecosystems However the authors show that conservation law and policy have been slow to develop with only a small number of iconic species being protected worldwide The increase in fishing impact primarily through shark finning and by catch has led to shark conservation receiving greater international attention in recent years The book explores our current knowledge and status of the law and science in relation to sharks with a particular focus on improving frameworks for their conservation and management Recent trends are analysed including shark finning bans that have been put in place in several countries the widening number of nations establishing shark sanctuaries and the growth of shark based tourism The efficacy of current listing processes for endangered species and fisheries regulations is also examined Tourism is explored as an alternative to fishing and the risks and impacts associated with this industry are analysed Contributors include leading authorities from universities and conservation organizations in North America Europe and Australia A common theme is to emphasise the importance of collaborative governance between various interest groups and the need for inter disciplinary research and management approaches that are necessary to address the decline in sharks
