Sheathing The Sword The Demilitarisation:

Sheathing the Sword Meirion Harries, Susie Harries, 1989 Japanese Defence Syed Javed Maswood, 1990 This book focuses on the defence policy of the Nakasone administration and attempts to provide an explanation for the policy measures which its administration implemented or initiated. It suggests that the widening disparity between economic interests and political power forced Japan to review the traditional bases for defence policy making and prompted the search for a balance that would allow the country a more active role in the international sphere. The book is organized around the central theme that Nakasone's defence policy can be understood as an attempt to rehabilitate Japan as a normal state and end the state of affairs that had relegated it to a unique and low position.

Nikolaus Pevsner Susie Harries, 2011-08-18 Born Nikolai Pevsner into a Russian Jewish family in Leipzig in 1902 Nikolaus Pevsner was a dedicated scholar who pursued a promising career as an academic in Dresden and Göttingen. When in 1933 Jews were no longer permitted to teach in German universities he lost his job and looked for employment in England. Here over a long and amazingly industrious career he made himself an authority on the exploration and enjoyment of English art and architecture so much so that his magisterial county by county series of 46 books on The Buildings of England first published 1951-74 is usually referred to simply as Pevsner. As a critic, academic and champion of Modernism Pevsner became a central figure in the architectural consensus that accompanied post-war reconstruction. As a general practitioner of architectural history he covered an astonishing range from Gothic cathedrals and Georgian coffee houses to the Festival of Britain and Brutalist tower blocks. Susie Harries explores the truth about Nikolaus Pevsner's reported sympathies with elements of Nazi ideology, his internment in England as an enemy alien and his sometimes painful assimilation into his country of exile. His Heftchen secret diaries he kept from the age of 14 for another sixty years reveal hidden aspirations and anxieties as do his numerous letters he wrote to his wife Lola every day that they were apart. Harries is the first biographer to have read Pevsner's private papers and through them to have seen into the workings of his mind. Her definitive biography is not only rich in context and far ranging but is also brought to life by quotations from Pevsner himself. He was born a Jew but converted to Lutheranism, trained in the rigour of German scholarship he became an Everyman in his copious commissions, publications, broadcasts and lectures on art, architecture, design, education, town planning, social housing, conservation, Mannerism, the Bauhaus, the Victorians, Zeitgeist, Englishness and how a nation's character may or must be reflected in its art. His life as an outsider yet an insider at the heart of English art history illuminates both the predicament and the prowess of the continental migrants who did so much to shape British culture after 1945.

The Pacific Basin since 1945 Roger C. Thompson, 2014-09-25 The nations of the Pacific Basin in East and Southeast Asia, Australasia, the Pacific islands and the Americas make up the world's largest economic zone and its most culturally diverse region. In recent years its Asian Tiger Economies have suffered economic collapse and unfinished business from the Cold War has produced continuing conflict and instability. The new edition of this pioneering book traces the postwar inter relationships of all the rim and island nations It gives a unique impression of the make up of the region and the tensions within it The book integrates a wide range of information from books and articles from published and unpublished sources including recently opened Russian and American archives and from the first hand experiences of participants including those of the author in Pacific Basin affairs Vigorously written and strongly argued no other account brings together all the threads of the development of international relations in this complex and fascinating region 'Crimes against Peace' and International Law Kirsten Sellars, 2013-02-28 In 1946 the judges at the International Military Tribunal at Nuremberg declared crimes against peace the planning initiation or waging of aggressive wars to be the supreme international crime At the time the prosecuting powers heralded the charge as being a legal milestone but it later proved to be an anomaly arising from the unique circumstances of the post war period This study traces the idea of criminalising aggression from its origins after the First World War through its high water mark at the post war tribunals at Nuremberg and Tokyo to its abandonment during the Cold War Today a similar charge the crime of aggression is being mooted at the International Criminal Court so the ideas and debates that shaped the original charge of crimes against peace assume new significance and offer valuable insights to lawyers policy makers and scholars engaged in international law and international relations Reading

Weste, 2008-02-19 This book provides a detailed examination of Japan s diplomatic relations in the 1950s an important decade in international affairs when new structures and systems emerged and when Japan established patterns in its international relationships which continue today It examines the process of Japan s attempts to rehabilitate itself and reintegrate into a changing world and the degree of success to which Japan achieved its goals in the political economic and security spheres The book is divided into three parts each containing three chapters Part I looks at Japan in the eyes of the Anglo American powers Part II at Japanese efforts to gain membership of newly forming regional and international organizations and Part III considers the role of domestic factors in Japanese foreign policy making Important issues are considered including Japanese rearmament and the struggle to gain entry into the United Nations In contrast to much of the academic literature on post war Japanese diplomacy generally presenting Japan as a passive actor of little relevance or importance this book shows that Japan did not simply sit passively by but formed and attempted to instigate its own visions into the evolving regional and global structures It also shows that whilst Japan did not always figure as highly as its politicians and policy makers may have liked in the foreign policy considerations of other nation states many countries and organizations did attach a great deal of importance to re building relations with Japan throughout this period of re adjustment and transformation

Transcultural Justice at the Tokyo Tribunal, 2018-03-06 While the International Military Tribunal at Nuremberg has been at the centre of scholarly attention the Tokyo Tribunal has for decades been largely neglected This is surprising insofar as this tribunal was a well organized Allied endeavour and prefigured the international courts and tribunals of our day Eleven national teams were sent to Tokyo between 1946 and 1948 to bring about justice in the aftermath of the Pacific War This volume offers an innovative approach to the Tokyo Tribunal as an arena of transcultural engagement It contextualizes legal agents as products of transnational forces constituted through dialogues about legal concepts and processes of faction making The endeavour was challenged by different national policies divergent legal traditions and varying cultural perceptions of the task ahead Contributors are Milinda Banerjee Anja Bihler Neil Boister David M Crowe Kerstin von Lingen Narrelle Morris Hitoshi Nagai Valentyna Polunina Ann Sophie Schoepfel Lisette Schouten James Burnham Sedgwick Yuki Takatori and Urs Matthias Zachmann
