John Howard Reid

Sabrina Fair:

Sabrina Fair Samuel Taylor, 1955 THE STORY is a modern version of the Cinderella fable writes Atkinson in the Times It is set on Long Island in the 1950s and deals with the involvement of a very rich family named Larrabee with Sabrina Fairchild the daughter of their family Rich and Strange Marianne DeKoven, 1991-10-27 Like the products of the sea change described in Ariel's song in The Tempest modernist writing is rich and strange Its greatness lies in its density and its dislocations which have until now been viewed as a repudiation of and an alternative to the cultural implications of turn of the century political radicalism Marianne DeKoven argues powerfully to the contrary maintaining that modernist form evolved precisely as a means of representing the terrifying appeal of movements such as socialism and feminism Organized around pairs and groups of female and male signed texts the book reveals the gender inflected ambivalence of modernist writers Male modernists desiring utter change nevertheless feared the loss of hegemony it might entail while female modernists feared punishment for desiring such change With water imagery as a focus throughout DeKoven provides extensive new readings of canonical modernist texts and of works in the feminist and African American canons not previously considered modernist Building on insights of Luce Irigaray Klaus Theweleit and Jacques Derrida she finds in modernism a paradigm of unresolved contradiction that enacts in the realm of form an alternative to patriarchal gender relations
