Selected Letters of Margaret Laurence and Adele Wiseman Margaret Laurence, Adele Wiseman, 1997-01-01 The correspondence between Margaret Laurence and Adele Wiseman covers a period of 40 years from 1947 1986 and encompasses the professional and personal developments accomplishments disappointments and satisfactions of that period

Intimate Strangers Margaret Laurence, Gabrielle Roy, 2004-12-02 The books of Margaret Laurence and Gabrielle Roy are among the most beloved in Canadian literature In 1976 when both were at the height of their careers they began a seven year written correspondence Laurence had just published her widely acclaimed The Diviners for which she won her second Governor General's Award and Roy had returned to the centre of the literary stage with a series of books that many critics now consider her richest and most mature works Although both women had been born and raised in Manitoba Laurence in Neepawa and Roy in St Boniface they met only once in 1978 at a conference in Calgary As these letters reveal their prairie background created a common understanding of place and culture that bridged the differences of age and language Here Laurence and Roy discuss everything from their own and each other's writing to Canadian politics housekeeping publishing and their love of nature With a thoughtful introduction by Paul G Socken these lovely and intimate letters record the moving affectionate friendship between two remarkable women

Racial, Ethnic, Gender and Class Representations in Margaret Laurence's Writings Andreea Topor-Constantin, 2013-07-26 Racial Ethnic Gender and Class Representations in Margaret Laurence's Writings is a study on Canada Canadian literature and Margaret Laurence's works in particular thus addressing various kinds of readership This book avoids the danger of limiting the approach to solely focusing attention on Canada by presenting a thorough analysis of various literary genres allowing the book to be of interest to all literature lovers Furthermore the book explores the parallelism between life and fiction emphasising Laurence's biographic and realist elements and their influence on the writer's fictional writing revealing real and imaginary worlds which would appeal to anybody's literary needs This major contribution to the already existent criticism of Margaret Laurence's works lies in the analysis of her work as an entity balancing both terms of the common binary oppositions fiction versus non fiction Africa versus Canada white versus Black or Metis In spite of critical comments which might be raised Andreea Topor Constantin comments on how the voice of the marginal makes itself heard throughout the author's books underlying Laurence's emphasis on characterisation and her genuine concern for people This book covers all aspects of Laurence's life and fiction from the African to the writer's Canadian background from adults to children's literature from novels to short stories from essays to letters in order to challenge readers' perceptions of race ethnicity gender and class

The Force of Vocation Ruth Panofsky, 2006-04-15 Adele Wiseman was a seminal figure in Canadian letters Always independent and wilful she charted her own literary career based on her unfailing belief in her artistic vision In The Force of Vocation the first book on Wiseman's writing life Ruth Panofsky presents Wiseman as a writer who doggedly and ambitiously perfected her craft sought a wide audience for her work and refused to compromise her work for marketability Based on previously unpublished archival material and personal interviews with publishers editors and writers The Force of Vocation charts Wiseman's career from her internationally acclaimed first novel The Sacrifice through her near career ending decisions to move into drama and non-fiction to her many years as a dedicated mentor to other writers In the process Panofsky presents a remarkable and compelling story of the intricate negotiations and complex relationships that exist among authors editors and publishers

Alien Heart Lyall Powers, 2012-11-02 Today almost two decades after her death Margaret Laurence remains one of Canada's best known and most beloved writers Twice winner of the Governor General's Award for fiction she was as the late William French wrote more profoundly admired than any other Canadian novelist of her generation Lyall Powers is both a respected scholar of literature and a lifelong friend of Laurence's having met her when they were students together at Winnipeg's United College in the 1940s Alien Heart is the first full length biography of Margaret that combines personal knowledge and insights about Laurence with a study of her work which often paralleled the events and concerns in her own life Drawing on letters personal correspondence journals and interviews Lyall Powers discusses the struggles and triumphs Laurence experienced in her efforts to understand herself in the roles of writer wife mother and public figure He portrays a deeply compassionate and courageous woman who yet felt troubled by conflicting demands While Laurence's work is not directly autobiographical Powers illustrates how her writing expressed many of the same dilemmas and how the resolution her characters achieved in the novels and stories had an impact on Laurence's own life Powers provides an in depth analysis of all Laurence's work including the early African essays fiction and translations and her books for children as well as the beloved Manawaka fiction The study clearly shows the progression and expression of Laurence as a writer of great humanity and conscience

Basements and Attics, Closets and Cyberspace Linda M. Morra, Jessica Schagerl, 2013-01-24 Women's letters and memoirs were until recently considered to have little historical significance Many of these materials have disappeared or remain unarchived often dismissed as ephemera and relegated to basements attics closets and increasingly cyberspace rather than public institutions This collection showcases the range of critical debates that animate thinking about women's archives in Canada The essays in Basements and Attics Closets and Cyberspace consider a series of central questions What are the challenges that affect archival work about women in Canada today What are some of the ethical dilemmas that arise over the course of archival research How do researchers read and make sense of the materials available to them How does one approach the shifting unstable forms of new technologies What principles inform the decisions not only to research the lives of women but to create archival deposits The contributors focus on how a supple research process might allow for greater engagement with unique archival forms and critical absences in narratives of past and present From questions of acquisition deposition and preservation to challenges related to the interpretation of material the contributors track at various stages how fonds are created or sidestepped in response to national and other imperatives and to feminist commitments how archival material is organized restricted accessed and interpreted how alternative and immediate archives might be conceived and approached and how exchanges might be read when there are peculiar lacunae missing or fragmented documents or gaps in communication that then require imaginative leaps on the part of the researcher

Dangerous Writing Carmen Luz Fuentes-Vásquez, 2013 This book examines the literary construction of personal identity through autobiographical narratives by three significant writers analysed together for the first time the Scottish Willa Muir 1890 1970 the Canadian Margaret Laurence 1926 1987 and the New Zealander Janet Frame 1924 2004 These apparently dissimilar authors suffered not only geographical but also political marginality they were women from the working class or struggling middle class striving to be considered as professional writers and emerging from countries that might be felt to be under the shadows of economic and political world powers such as England and the United States During their lifetimes they exerted themselves to overcome prejudices about class gender and ethnicity They experienced war and the post war era and lived through most of the twentieth century being accurate witnesses and critics of their times As it discusses major writers who are iconic for the development of the literatures of their respective countries this book also attracts readers who are interested in learning more about the lives of these remarkable women the way their socio historical and geographical circumstances affected their writing and how they expressed such concerns in their autobiographies and other fictional and non fictional works besides considering them in relation to contemporary women writers and autobiographers who underwent similar experiences

Heart of a Stranger Margaret Laurence, 2003 Travel was closely connected to Margaret Laurence s creativity Laurence realized that her travels especially to Africa provided her with new perspectives on Canada Heart of a Stranger originally published in 1976 is a fascinating travelogue chronicling Laurence s geographical journeys to many lands and historic places She notes I saw somewhat to my surprise that they are all in one way or another travel articles And by travel I mean both those voyages which are outer and those voyages which are inner Laurence writes about her travels to Egypt in Good Morning to the Grandson of Ramesses the Second to Scotland in Road from the Isles and to Greece in Sayonara Agamemnon In The Very Best Intentions Laurence sees herself as a stranger in a strange land in Ghana She reflects on the many places she lived in Put Out One or Two More Flags Down East The Shack and Where the World Began Professor Nora Foster Stovel s new introduction Heart of a Traveller explores how Laurence s experiences in other lands influenced and shaped her writing She contends that Heart of a Stranger constitutes a concealed autobiography for in chronicling her literal life journey Laurence also reveals her spiritual odyssey
