The Politics of Eloquence Marc Hanvelt, 2012-01-01 History has shown us that the power of political speech can be put to both positive and manipulative ends while rhetoric is a powerful tool for those who seek to persuade others to adopt their views it can also be employed to foment factionalism and undermine the very basis of a democratic society In this unique study Marc Hanvelt shows how eighteenth century philosopher David Hume confronted questions about the negative moral and political effects of rhetoric and how he differentiated between manipulative and non manipulative political speech Drawing on Hume s philosophical historical and popular writings The Politics of Eloquence presents an understanding of rhetoric that can be properly ascribed to this important thinker an understanding hitherto overlooked in the scholarly literature Offering an original approach to thinking about political rhetoric an essential element of democratic politics Hanvelt makes important contributions to both Hume scholarship and to broader areas in political theory and philosophy

The Chronicle ,1871

The Genre of Acts and Collected Biography Sean A. Adams,2013-10-17 It is widely accepted by New Testament scholars that the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles probably originated as two parts of one work by a single author In spite of this the books have been assigned to very different genres Luke is traditionally viewed as a biography of Jesus and Acts as a history of the early church Comparing in detail the structure and content of Acts with the formal features of history novel epic and biography Sean A Adams challenges this division Applying both ancient and modern genre theory he argues that the best genre parallel for the Acts of the Apostles is in fact collected biography Offering a nuanced and sophisticated understanding of genre theory along with an insightful argument regarding the composition and purpose of Acts this book will be of interest to those studying the New Testament Acts genre theory and ancient literature
