Selected Plays The Blood Knot Hello And Goodbye And Boesman And Lena:

Blood Knot and Other Plays Athol Fugard, 1993-01-01 These three Port Elizabeth plays which established South African playwright Athol Fugard's international reputation more than twenty years ago examine with passion and grace close family relationships strained almost unendurably by the harshest of economic and political conditions A rare playwright who could be a primary candidate for either the Nobel Prize in Literature or the Nobel Peace Prize Mel Gussow The New Yorker

Postcolonial African Writers Siga Fatima Jagne, Pushpa Naidu Parekh, 2012-11-12 This reference book surveys the richness of postcolonial African literature The volume begins with an introductory essay on postcolonial criticism and African writing then presents alphabetically arranged profiles of some 60 writers including Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Doris Lessing Tsitsi Dangarembga Tahbar Ben Jelloun among others Each entry includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes that appear in the author's writings an overview of the critical response to the author's work and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources These profiles are written by expert contributors and reflect many different perspectives The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography of the most important critical works on postcolonial African literature Contemporary Dramatists, 1993 South African Theatre as/and Intervention, 2021-11-22 One of the most striking features of cultural life in South Africa has been the extent to which one area of cultural practice theatre has more than any other testified to the present condition of the country now in transition between its colonial past and a decolonized future But in what sense and how far does the critical force of theatre in South Africa as a mode of intervention continue In the immediate post election moment theatre seemed to be pursuing an escapist nostalgic route relieved of its historical burden of protest and opposition But as the contributors to this volume show new voices have been emerging and a more complex politics of the theatre involving feminist and gay initiatives physical theatre festival theatre and theatre for education has become apparent Both new and familiar players in South African theatre studies from around the world here respond to or anticipate the altered conditions of the country while exploring the notion that theatre continues to intervene This broad focus enables a wide and stimulating range of approaches contributors examine strategies of intervention among audiences theatres established and fledgling writers canonical and new texts traditional and innovative critical perspectives The book concludes with four recent interviews with influential practitioners about the meaning and future of theatre in South Africa Athol Fugard Fatima Dike Reza de Wet and Janet Suzman The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell, Dirk Klopper, Craig Mackenzie, 2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa's history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party's policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence

South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary. The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored. An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history, this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice. Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages, English has remained the country's literary lingua franca. This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present. An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period. Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers. An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945.

Port Elizabeth Plays Athol Fugard, 2000-05-04 This collection of four plays set in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, portrays tense family relationships or situations against a background of wider suffering and tensions, engaging our sympathies for South Africans of all races.

South African Writers Paul A. Scanlon, 2000 Essays on South African writers from the South African War or Anglo-Boer War 1899-1902 to the Act of Union in 1910, when the defeated Boer republics were joined together by British Parliament into what became modern South Africa. Discusses the beginnings of South African literature in English as well as the impact the discovery of gold and diamonds had. Genres mentioned include travel books, hunter-adventure romances, and South African realist fiction.

The Oxford Companion to Twentieth-century Literature in English Jenny Stringer, 1996 Survey of twentieth-century English language writers and writing from around the world, celebrating all major genres with entries on literary movements, periodicals, more than 400 individual works, and articles on approximately 2,400 authors.

Drama and the South African State Martin Orkin, 1991 Drawing on recent post-structuralist and cultural materialist concepts, Orkin's English Witwatersrand University South Africa examines how South African drama over the past several decades has constructed the subject and the landscape presented, the body, and sometimes sought to define a national culture. He considers both individual playwrights and theatre companies. Distributed in Anglo-America by St Martin's Paper edition, unseen 16/95. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR.

A History of South African Literature Christopher Heywood, 2004-11-18 This book is a critical study of South African literature from colonial and pre-colonial times onwards. Christopher Heywood discusses selected poems, plays, and prose works in five literary traditions: Khoisan, Nguni, Sotho, Afrikaans, English, and Indian. The discussion includes over 100 authors and selected works, including poets from Mqhayi, Marais, and Campbell to Butler, Serote, and Krog; theatre writers from Boniface and Black to Fugard and Mda; and fiction writers from Schreiner and Plaatje to Bessie Head and the Nobel prizewinners Gordimer and Coetzee. The literature is explored in the setting of crises leading to the formation of modern South Africa, notably the rise and fall of the Emperor Shaka's Zulu kingdom, the Colenso crisis, industrialisation, the colonial and post-colonial wars of 1899, 1914, and 1939, and the dissolution of apartheid society. In Heywood's study, South African literature emerges as among the great literatures of the modern world On Route in South Africa BPJ Erasmus, 2014-06-06 From Pofadder eMkhuze and Haenertsburg to Cookhouse Klipplaat Maokeng and Taung South Africa's amazing diversity is an invitation to take to the road This revised and updated edition of On Route in South Africa has a new contemporary look but contains all the features that have made it such a classic Previous editions won a special place in the hearts of those both living in and visiting South Africa No other book available offers such a range and depth of information about the villages towns and cities of this land and on the intriguing and informative tales they have to tell The 37 chapters are arranged in logical sequence beginning with Cape Town and radiating outwards Each chapter corresponds to an established and coherent geographic or demographic area Included are detailed regional maps incorporating up to date place names and complemented by route directions within the text With its expanded text and more than 500 photographs On Route in South Africa contains a remarkable wealth of information making it the perfect travel planner and companion Notebooks Athol Fugard, 2013-10-15 Fugard registers and captures the keen images that are the very stuff of vibrant theatre Time Writing South Africa Derek Attridge, Rosemary Jolly, 1998-01-22 During the final years of the apartheid era and the subsequent transition to democracy South African literary writing caught the world's attention as never before Writers responded to the changing political situation and its daily impact on the country's inhabitants with works that recorded or satirised state enforced racism explored the possibilities of resistance and rebuilding and creatively addressed the vexed question of literature's relation to politics and ethics Writing South Africa offers a window on the literary activity of this extraordinary period that conveys its range going well beyond a handful of world renowned names and its significance for anyone interested in the impact of decolonisation and democratisation on the cultural sphere It brings together for the first time discussions by some of the most distinguished South African novelists poets and dramatists with those of leading commentators based in South Africa Britain and North America A Literary Guide to the Eastern Cape Jeanette Eve, 2003 The Eastern Cape is a country of great natural beauty and tourist potential and has produced a wealth of writers and writings that have responded to the landscape in a variety of interesting and enjoyable ways The Dramatic Art of Athol Fugard Albert Wertheim, 2000-09-22 Albert Wertheim's study of Fugard's plays is both extremely insightful and beautifully written This book is aimed not only at teachers students scholars and performers of Fugard but also at the person who simply loves going to see a Fugard play at the theatre Nancy Topping Bazin Eminent Scholar and Professor Emerita Old Dominion University Athol Fugard is considered one of the most brilliant powerful and theatrically astute of modern dramatists The energy and poignancy of his work have their origins in the institutionalized racism of his native South Africa and more recently in the issues facing a new South Africa after apartheid Albert Wertheim analyzes the form and content of Fugard's dramas showing that they are more than a dramatic chronicle of South African life and racial problems Beginning with the specifics of his homeland Fugard's plays reach out to engage more far reaching issues of human relationships race and racism and the power of art to evoke change The Dramatic Art of Athol Fugard demonstrates how Fugard's plays enable us to see that what is performed on stage can also be performed in society and in our lives how inverting Shakespeare Athol Fugard makes his stage the world
