by many of the poets anthologized The Letters of Robert Lowell Robert Lowell, 2007-03-20 These letters document the evolution of Lowell's work and illuminate another side of his life his deep friendships with other writers his manic depression his marriages to three prose writers and his involvement with the antiwar movement of the 1960s Beyond Consolation Melissa F. Zeiger, 2018-05-31 Using as her starting point the story of Orpheus and Eurydice Melissa F. Zeiger examines modern transformations of poetic elegy particularly as they reflect historical changes in the politics of gender and sexuality Although her focus is primarily on nineteenth and twentieth century poetry the scope of her investigation is grand from John Milton's Lycidas to very recently written AIDS and breast cancer elegies Milton epitomized the traditional use of the Orpheus myth as an illustration of the female threat to masculine poetic prowess focused on the beleaguered Orpheus Zeiger documents the gradual inclusion of Eurydice from the elegies of Algernon Charles Swinburne through the work of Thomas Hardy and John Berryman re-examining the role of Eurydice and the feminine more generally in poetic production Zeiger then considers women poets who challenge the assumptions of elegies written by men sometimes identifying themselves with Eurydice Among these poets are H. D. Edna St. Vincent Millay Anne Sexton and Elizabeth Bishop Zeiger concludes with a discussion of elegies for victims of current plagues explaining how poets mourning those lost to AIDS and breast cancer rewrite elegy in ways less repressive sacrificial or punitive than those of the Orphean tradition Among the poets discussed are Essex Hemphill Thom Gunn Mark Doty Audre Lorde Adrienne Rich and Marilyn Hacker Questions of Possibility: Contemporary Poetry and Poetic Form David Caplan, 2006-09-26 Questions of Possibility examines the particular forms that contemporary American poets favor and those they neglect The poets' choices reveal both their ambitions and their limitations the new possibilities they discover and the traditions they find unimaginable By means of close attention to the sestina ghazal love sonnet ballad and heroic couplet this study advances a new understanding of contemporary American poetry Rather than pitting closed verse against open and traditional poetry against experimental Questions of Possibility explores how poets associated with different movements inspire and inform each other's work Discussing a range of authors from Charles Bernstein Derek Walcott and Marilyn Hacker to Agha Shahid Ali David Caplan treats these poets as contemporaries who share the language not as partisans assigned to rival camps The most interesting contemporary poetry crosses the boundaries that literary criticism draws synthesizing diverse influences and establishing surprising affinities In a series of lively readings Caplan charts the diverse characteristics and accomplishments of modern poetry from the gay and lesbian love sonnet to the currently popular sestina The Poetics of Ekphrasis Maria-Eirini Panagiotidou, 2022-11-25 This book provides a stylistic and cognitive poetic account of ekphrastic poetry poetry whose subject matter is predominantly artworks and images examining the linguistic processes through which works of art can become literary objects The author sheds light on the workings of ekphrasis at a textual level while also considering the cognitive and psychological effects of reading ekphrastic poems developing cognitive and stylistic analytical frameworks grounded on the four principles that govern ekphrasis representation narrativization transposition and collaboration This book will be of interest to academics and practitioners in various fields including literary critics art critics rhetoricians poets visual artists and stylisticians

The Fire that Breaks Daniel Westover, Thomas Alan Holmes, 2020 In terms of literary history Gerard Manley Hopkins has been difficult to pin down Many of his concerns industrialism religious faith and doubt science language were common among Victorian writers but he is often championed as a proto modernist despite that he avoids the self conscious allusiveness and indirectness that typify much high modernist poetry It is partly because Hopkins cannot be pigeonholed that his influence remains relevant The Fire that Breaks brings together an international team of scholars to explore for the first time Hopkins's extended influence on the poets and novelist who defined Anglo American literature throughout the past century

Rewriting Early America Christopher K. Coffman, 2018-11-27 Recent poems and fictions set in the early Americas are typically read as affirmations of cultural norms as evidence of the impossibility of genuine engagement with the historical past or as contentious repudiations of received histories Inspired particularly by Mihai Spărosu's arguments regarding literary playfulness as an opening to peace Rewriting Early America The Prenatal Past in Postmodern Literature adopts a different perspective with the goal of demonstrating that many recent literary texts undertake more constructive and hopeful projects with regard to the American past than critics usually recognize While honoring writers' pervasive critiques of hegemony this volume trades a preoccupation with antagonism for an interest in restoration and recuperation It describes how texts by John Barth John Berryman Susan Howe Toni Morrison Paul Muldoon Thomas Pynchon and William T Vollmann harness the ambiguities of the colonial past to find sociocultural possibilities that operate beyond the workings of power and outside the politics of difference Throughout this book remains devoted to uncovering the moments at which contemporary writers proffer visions of American communities defined not by marginalization and oppression but by responsive understanding and inclusion

Something We Have That They Don't Steve & Mark Clark & Ford, Steven H. Clark, 2004-04 There is some connexion I like the way the English spell it They're so clever about some things Probably smarter generally than we are Although there is supposed to be something We have that they don't don't ask me What it is John Ashbery Tenth Symphony Something We Have That They Don't presents a variety of essays on the relationship between British and American poetry since 1925 The essays collected here all explore some aspect of the rich and complex history of Anglo American poetic relations of the last seventy years Since the dawn of Modernism poets either side of the Atlantic have frequently inspired each other's developments from Frost's galvanizing advice to Edward Thomas to rearrange his prose as verse to Eliot's and Auden's enormous influence on the poetry of their adopted nations whichever Auden is Eliot once replied when asked if he were a British or an American poet I suppose I must be the other from the impact of Charles Olson and other Black Mountain poets on J H Prynne and the Cambridge School to the widespread influence of Frank O'Hara and Robert Lowell on a diverse range of contemporary British poets Clark and Ford's study aims to chart some of the currents of these ever shifting relations Poets discussed in these essays include John Ashbery W H Auden Elizabeth Bishop T S Eliot Mark Ford Robert Graves Thom Gunn Lee Harwood Geoffrey Hill Michael Hofmann Susan Howe Robert Lowell and W B Yeats Poetry and sovereignty Philip Larkin remarked in an interview of 1982 are very primitive things these essays consider the ways in which even seemingly very unprimitive poetries can be seen as reflecting and engaging with issues of national sovereignty and self interest and in the process they pose a series of fascinating questions about the national narratives that currently dominate definitions of the British and American poetic traditions This innovative and exciting new collection will be of great interest to students and scholars of British and American poetry and comparative literature
