Selected Poems, 1964-1983 Douglas Dunn, 1986

Contemporary British Poetry James Acheson, Romana

Huk, 1996-01-01 This collection of original essays focuses on new and continuing movements in British Poetry It offers a wide ranging look at feminist working class and other poets of diverse cultural backgrounds At Home in Time Patrick

Deane, 1994-09-13 The presence of these values Deane contends is not a curiosity but part of a vital and discernible tradition of modern neo Augustanism that has been previously overlooked By tracing these writers common interest in Horace John Dryden and Samuel Johnson he uncovers important links between seemingly diverse modern poets Deane challenges the whole interpretation of literary modernism which has traditionally linked the modern poets to the Romantics and seen both as anti Augustan Deane concludes that these modern poets share a ready and pragmatic acceptance of linear time within which all acts of artistic and social creativity must take place a crucial factor in both the form and substance of their writings That art language and society are inseparable under such conditions was a bracing thought for the young Auden but a potentially disturbing one for more recent poets The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry Peter

Robinson, 2013-09-26 The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry offers thirty eight chapters of ground breaking research that form a collaborative guide to the many groupings and movements the locations and styles as well as concerns aesthetic political cultural and ethical that have helped shape contemporary poetry in Britain and Ireland The book s introduction offers an anthropological participant observer approach to its variously conflicted subjects while exploring the limits and openness of the contemporary as a shifting and never wholly knowable category The five ensuing sections explore a history of the period s poetic movements its engagement with form technique and the other arts its association with particular locations and places its connection with and difference from poetry in other parts of the world and its circling around such ethical issues as whether poetry can perform actions in the world can atone redress or repair and how its significance is inseparable from acts of evaluation in both poets and readers Though the book is not structured to feature chapters on authors thought to be canonical on the principle that contemporary writers are by definition not yet canonical the volume contains commentary on many prominent poets as well as finding space for its contributors enthusiasms for numerous less familiar figures It has been organized to be read from cover to cover as an ever deepening exploration of a complex field to be read in one or more of its five thematically structured sections or indeed to be read by picking out single chapters or discussions of poets that particularly interest its individual readers International Who's Who in Poetry 2005

The Language of Twentieth Century Poetry Lesley Jeffries,1993-09-28 This book draws on examples from throughout the twentieth century to illustrate the diversity of techniques used in this century s poetry Organised according to linguistic themes rather than chronologically the chapters introduce the reader to the more subtle uses of sound structure and meaning as well as illustrating well known techniques handed down from the poetic tradition Examples are taken from the famous writers of the twentieth century such as Yeats Eliot and Plath and from less well known poets The book culminates in a chapter which draws together the linguistic themes into an integrated analysis of two rather different poems

Tony Harrison and the Holocaust Antony Rowland,2001-01-01 Antony Rowland argues that the poetry of Tony Harrison is barbaric The author discusses how Holocaust literature engages with a number of concepts challenged or altered by historical events such as love mourning memory culture and barbarism

Speaking to You Natalie Pollard,2012-08-30 Speaking to You examines our pleasures in accounts of and uses for British poetry today It explores the work of four important poets writing post 1960 Don Paterson Geoffrey Hill W S Graham and C H Sisson in order to show how contemporary British poetry s creative handling of addresses to you are key in its interactions with readers critics lovers editors fellow poets and deceased forebears The book lays out clearly in four sections that focus on individual writers how saying you operates in contemporary poetry It shows how lyric address is bound up with poetry's ability to delight move and tease its public It puts address into dialogue with a range of familiar literary figures across the ages namely specific Modernist Romantic early Modern and Classical poets that will be familiar to scholars and ordinary readers alike From John Donne to Carol Ann Duffy T S Eliot to Philip Larkin Keats to Tony Harrison address has been key in constructing political and personal identities This book argues that for contemporary poets like that of these canonical writers address is persuasive public interlocution demanding you rethink regional and historical allegiances
