Coventry, 2023-11-30 In this original study Rachel Coventry expands Heidegger's philosophy of art to include his ontological account of poetry and technology Following Heidegger's definition of technology as preventing authentic poetic language alongside his argument that poetry can successfully confront technology Coventry considers the possibility of great poetry in the digital age This approach takes us beyond conventional literary criticism using different case studies from contemporary poetry including eco poetry digital poetry and post internet poetry Heidegger and Poetry in the Digital Age asks provocative questions to progress the philosophical study of poetry tracing new lines of thought in Heidegger studies and critical studies of contemporary poetry Does the digital thwart the aim of eco poetry Do poetic movements that use modern technology provide us with a way to overcome the negative effects of technology What are the ontological consequences of employing new formats for poetry This book examines these tensions to provide a phenomenological account of digital poetry that grounds poetic metaphor in Heidegger's metaphysics      Living Classics S. J. Harrison, 2009-08-20 This collection of essays explores the extensive use of Latin and Greek literary texts in a range of recent poetry written in English It contains both contributions from poets who include Tony Harrison Seamus Heaney and Michael Longley talking about their uses of classical literature in their own work in lyric poetry and in theatre poetry and essays from academic experts on the same topics Living Classics asks why contemporary poets are returning to making versions of and allusions to Greek and Roman literature in their work and interrogates the parallel interest of modern classical scholars in the contemporary reception of classical texts      Medbh McGuckian Borbála Faragó, 2014-03-27 This book offers a wide ranging analysis of the entire corpus of Medbh McGuckian's published work Its objective is to provide both a readable synthesis of existing criticism in a fashion which will be generally useful to academics and students and also to offer an original contribution to the field of contemporary Irish literary studies on the basis of new research The book investigates a variety of previously neglected themes in particular McGuckian's exploration of ideas of creativity and performativity in her poetry Over the past two decades McGuckian has been recognized by both her fellow poets and by literary critics as one of the most original daring and important poetic voices in contemporary Ireland Since 1982 she has published fifteen volumes of poetry extraordinary not merely for its sustained quality and linguistic and technical virtuosity but also for its constant evolution and reinvention This book provides an original perspective on her work both thematically and methodologically From a thematic perspective the process of artistic creation is a key preoccupation of McGuckian's poetry which recurs in every volume of her oeuvre but has previously escaped critical attention By adapting and refining theories of singularity and creativity the book allows for a coherent analysis of this central aspect of McGuckian's work Methodologically it differs from previous studies in the scope of its approach Uniquely it pursues its investigation across the entire breadth of the poet's published output and emphasizes the thematic unity of individual volumes in the light of the poet's constant change and development Throughout the book the reading of McGuckian's work concentrates on poems in their entirety an approach which has not figured to any notable degree in the existing secondary literature on the poet not least because of the perceived difficulty of her writing A critical investigation however which respects both the integrity of the individual poems and the internal coherence of her various volumes allows for a far deeper understanding both of the poet's thematic preoccupations and of the evolution of her distinctive poetic voice      Comparative Criticism: Volume 20, Philosophical Dialogues E.
