Curriculum Theorizing and Teacher Education Anne M Phelan, 2015-02-11 If teacher education as a field of study is to contribute to the revitalization re moralization and re politicization of Education this book argues that it needs to be alert to questions of teachers intellectual and political freedom and to concerns about the legitimacy of what we do in teacher education in the name of Education Anne Phelan demonstrates how curriculum theorizing can serve such an educational project by engaging concerns about subjectivity human agency and action society and historical moment thereby widening the field of insight in teacher education and informing debates about new trajectories for policy and practice Exploring teacher education through ethical political aesthetic vocabularies drawn from the Humanities is vital at a time when the dehumanizing influences of performativity standardization and accountability are evident in education systems across the world and when we are in danger of losing the things that we most value and are the least measurable relationships independent thought and ethical judgment Curriculum Theorizing and Teacher Education will be of interest to teacher educators who are practicing researching or re designing teacher education as well as policy makers who are curious about new possibilities for framing the problem of teacher education at provincial state and federal levels From Victimhood to Empowerment Salome Tsopurashvili, 2025-07-24 From Victimhood to Empowerment Representing Women in 1920s Soviet Georgian Cinema brings the cinematographic works of Georgia's State Film Industry from the margins of the Soviet film studies to the centre. The book focuses on women's representations and explores how the gender roles were modified throughout the decade according to the new social and political ideals employing the discourse analysis, postcolonial perspectives and psychoanalytical feminist film theories. Bringing together Soviet Georgia's most important films of the period, the book inspects the female body's symbolic function in the aspects of class dichotomy and ethnic hierarchies. It analyzes the construction of the Oriental other by the Russian colonial imagination and its subsequent dismantling in the context of the Caucasus's de-Orientalization. It also examines the characteristics embodied by the heroine and villain of the new social order: the New Soviet Woman and the NEP woman, and explores women's transformation within the revolutionary setting during the decade. In the light of Bolsheviks' preoccupation and endeavour to improve woman question, the book surveys to what extent women's screen images were emancipated and what the functional meaning of this emancipation was in the given context: how the new ideals of the New Soviet woman were inscribed in the period's films and how these ideals were combined with Georgian nationality.

Encyclopedia of Women Social Reformers Helen Rappaport, 2001-12-06 The first comprehensive guide to women activists from every part of the world illuminating the broad range of women's struggles to reform society from the 18th century to the present. Despite being marginalized, disenfranchised, impoverished and oppressed, women have always stepped forward in disproportionate numbers to lead movements for social change. This two-volume encyclopedia documents the visions, struggles and lives of women who have changed the world. This encyclopedia celebrates the lives and achievements of nearly 300 women from around the globe: women who have bravely insisted that the way things are is not the way they have to be. Nadeshda Krupskaya, the wife of Lenin, spearheaded the drive against illiteracy in post-revolutionary Russia. American Dorothy Day founded the Catholic worker movement. Begum Rokeya Hossain organized a girls' school in Calcutta in 1911. Rachel Carson launched the modern environmental movement with her book Silent Spring. The stories of these women and the hundreds of others collected here will restore missing pages to our history and inspire a new generation of women to change the world. Textual Liberation (Routledge Revivals) Helena Forsas-Scott, 2014-11-13 Feminist writing has emerged in recent years as a major influence of twentieth-century European literature. Textual Liberation, first published in 1991, provides a timely and wide-ranging survey of twentieth-century feminist writing in Europe, presenting texts from a number of countries and highlighting some of the transnational parallels and contrasts. The contributors emphasize the wider contexts, political, social, economic, in which the texts were produced. They cover feminist literature in Britain, Scandinavia, Germany, Eastern Europe, Russia, France, Spain, Italy and Turkey, and consider a range of genres including the novel, poetry, drama, essays and journalism. Each chapter contains an extensive bibliography with special emphasis on material available in English.

A stimulating introduction to the development of European feminist writing Textual Liberation will be an invaluable resource for students of women's literature, women's studies and feminism

Marxism and America Christopher Phelps, Robin Vandome, 2021-06-08 In Marxism and America an accomplished group of scholars reconsiders the relationship of the United States to the theoretical tradition derived from Karl Marx. In brand new essays that cover the period from the nineteenth century when Marx wrote for American newspapers to the present when a millennial socialism has emerged inspired by the presidential campaigns of Bernie Sanders the contributors take up topics ranging from memory of the Civil War to feminist debates over sexuality and pornography. Along the way they clarify the relationship of race and democracy the promise and perils of the American political tradition and the prospects for class politics today. Marxism and America sheds new light on old questions helping to explain why socialism has been so difficult to establish in the United States even as it has exerted a notable influence in American thought

Love and revolution Matt York, 2023-03-21 Based on award winning research Love and revolution brings classical and contemporary anarchist thought into a mutually beneficial dialogue with a global cross section of ecological anti capitalist feminist and anti racist activists discussing real life examples of the loving caring relations that underpin many contemporary struggles. Such a revolutionary love is discovered to be a common embodied experience among the activists contributing to this collective vision manifested as a radical solidarity as political direct action as long term processes of struggle and as a deeply relational more than human ethics. This book provides an essential resource for all those interested in building a free society grounded in solidarity and care and offers a timely contribution to contemporary movement discourse

Nadezhda Krupskaya and the New View of Radical Society in Russia M. A. Iasilli, 2024-06-25 The Russian Revolution is typically studied from a perspective of power and authority. The shadow of Communism tends to portray the revolutionary character of 1917 as an ominous path toward totalitarianism. While the revolutionary story has been overshadowed by the authoritarianism of Stalinist regimes the Revolution has much more complex underpinnings that tie back to the nineteenth century Russian populist movement and the women who were drawn into it. Nadezhda Krupskaya and the New View of Radical Society in Russia reexamines the fundamental ideas and moments that led to the revolution and its eventual bureaucratization from the perspective of Nadezhda Krupskaya, Vladimir Lenin's wife. Her involvement provides a new perspective in how we should consider the role of culture as opposed to ideology particularly the subordination of Communism as well as the women in Soviet politics. M. A. Iasilli provides a nuanced view of the Russian Revolution that demonstrates a Bolshevik legacy and connection with their populist ancestors the Narodniks and argues that the revolution wasn't merely Marxist fanaticism but something much deeper and emotional.
