The reciprocal services between Islam and iran Murtazá Muṭahhari, 2004 Selections from The Reciprocal Services Between Islam and Iran Murtaḍā Muṭahhari, 2004 National Symbols in Modern Iran Menahem Merhavy, 2019-12-03

Now more than ever the role of icons and monuments in shaping a national identity is a subject of vital importance to scholars of both nationalism and memory studies While the nation state undoubtedly has a powerful influence on a society's cultural memory it cannot necessarily control the ways in which icons are perceived Once created national symbols and perceptions of them take on a life of their own Taking an innovative approach to the study of Iranian nationalism Merhavy examines the way symbols from Iran's past have played an important role in the struggles between political religious and ideological movements over legitimacy in the last five decades Using a rich variety of primary sources he traces the process by which these symbols have been appropriated rejected and reinterpreted by the Pahlavi state the Islamic opposition and finally the Islamic Republic In doing so this volume contributes to our understanding of cultural symbols that survive political upheavals dramatic and significant as they may be It also contributes to the growing body of literature that challenges the state centered perspective of much research on modern Iran by exposing the ever growing importance of civil society in the Iranian public sphere from the second half of the twentieth century onward

Training and Education in Islam Murtada Mutahhari, 2011-01-01

The twentieth century saw heightened tension between religious and secular approaches to education In this era of cataclysmic social change Mutahhari presented this Islamic perspective on training and education using his signature approach of applying traditional Islamic sources to contemporary questions Although in his time rote learning was prized Mutahhari emphasised the importance of critical thinking skills He also emphasised education outside of the classroom such as learning through work Taking a holistic perspective he discussed the importance of spiritual and moral training worship as a means of personal development and the importance of developing self esteem Although delivered in the 1970s these lectures remain essential reading for anyone involved in training or education

Theology of Discontent Hamid Dabashi, 2017-07-28

Scores of books and articles have been published addressing one or another aspect of the Islamic Revolution in Iran Missing from this body of scholarship however has been a comprehensive analysis of the intellectual and ideological cornerstones of one of the most dramatic revolutions in our time In this remarkable volume Hamid Dabashi brings together in a sustained and engagingly written narrative the leading revolutionaries who have shaped the ideological disposition of this cataclysmic event Dabashi has spent over ten years studying the writings in their original Persian and Arabic of the most influential Iranian clerics and thinkers Examining the revolutionary sentiments and ideas of such figures as Jalal Al-e Ahmad Ali Shari'ati Morteza Motahhari Sayyid Abolhasan Bani Sadr and finally the Ayatollah Khomeini the work also analyzes the larger historical and theoretical implications of any construction of the Islamic Ideology Carefully located in the social and intellectual context of the four decades preceding the 1979 revolution

Theology of

Discontent is the definitive treatment of the ideological foundations of the Islamic Revolution with particular attention to the larger more enduring ramifications of this revolution for radical Islamic revivalism in the entire Muslim world This volume will be of interest to Islamicists Middle East historians and specialists as well as scholars and students of liberation theologies comparative religious revolutions and mass collective behavior Bruce Lawrence of Duke University calls this volume a superb and unprecedented study In brilliant figural strokes he arrays EuroAmerican sociological theory as the crucial backdrop of a deeper understanding of contemporary Iranian history The Routledge History of U.S. Foreign Relations Tyson Reeder,2021-12-29 The Routledge History of U S Foreign Relations provides a comprehensive view of U S diplomacy and foreign affairs from the founding to the present With contributions from recognized experts from around the world this volume unveils America s long and complicated history on the world stage It presents the United States evolution from a weak player even a European pawn to a global hegemonic leader over the course of two and a half centuries The contributors offer an expansive vision of U S foreign relations from U S Native American diplomacy in eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to the post 9 11 war on terror They shed new light on well known events and suggest future paths of research and they capture lesser known episodes that invite reconsideration of common assumptions about America s place in the world Bringing these discussions to a single forum the book provides a strong reference source for scholars and students who seek to understand the broad themes and changing approaches to the field This book will be of interest to students and scholars of U S history political science international relations conflict resolution and public policy amongst other areas Iran Nuclear Accord and the Remaking of the Middle East Nader Entessar,Kaveh L.

Afrasiabi,2017-12-20 Entessar Afrasiabi s Iran Nuclear Negotiations Rowman Littlefield October 2015 offered a thorough analysis of the negotiation process between Iran and the 5 1 great powers about its nuclear program This book essentially builds upon it focusing this time on the final nuclear agreement the ensuing debates around it and its global and regional ramifications especially in the Middle East The first section analyzes the agreement through the prism of international relations theories using a constructivist critical theory approach This is followed by an overview of the intense debates in Iran the West and other parts of the world on the nuclear agreement and its various pros and cons not to mention the connected yet separate Iran IAEA agreement The second section covers Iran s foreign policy and its various priorities looking in particular at the impact of the nuclear deal on the country s external relations and orientations contextualized in terms of pre existing issues and concerns and the profound influence of the nuclear agreement on the perceptions of Iranian power in the region and beyond Iran s relations with its Arab Turkish Russian and other neighbors are discussed focusing on both the direct and indirect impact of the nuclear agreement on these relations especially the paradoxical implications of the nuclear deal with respect to the non nuclear crises in the Middle East such as the Syria Iraq crisis and the re alignments that have put Iran at the crossroads of East and West Other issues covered include energy security regional economic cooperation the endemic sectarianism highlighted by Iran Saudi competition and the deadlock on the Middle East peace process The third section then examines the issue of a Middle East nuclear weapons free zone and the likely consequences of the Iran nuclear deal on this prospect which in turn raises the issue of regional proliferation and counterproliferation The last section explores some possible various scenarios and the challenges of implementation as a relatively long term agreement providing specific policy recommendations for the regional actors and the external powers that are stakeholders in the volatile Middle East

Selections from Regional Press ,2005-05 Two Centuries of Silence Avid Kamgar,2016-08-19 How Farsi language broke its two centuries of silence This book is the translation of Do Gharn Sokoot into English by an Iranian scientist and scholar Two Centuries of silence is the saga of 200 years of struggle by Iranians in order to free themselves from the yoke of Muslim Arabs elegantly and passionately told by Abdolhossein Zarinkoob The book elucidates the key reasons for the success of Muslim Arabs in their assault on Iran a fact that was not written in the stars nor was it an act of God For its readers this translation hopes to shed light on what forms the foundation of today's Iran and help bring some understanding of Iranians and their culture The fall of Nahavand in 642 CE marked the end of a glorious fourteenth century history of Iran a fascinating and dynamic history spanning the years from 700 BCE to 700 CE For two centuries thereafter a brutally long chilling silence cast its shadow over the history and language of Iran Professor Zarinkoob explores the reason behind the Sasanian downfall and how the uncouth Bedouins triumphed over an immense and glorious civilization such as that During these two centuries about which our recent historians have remained silent why did Farsi become a lost language obscure and traceless In the time when Iranian swordsmen revolted against the Arabs under any pretext fighting the Arabs and Muslims how did Zoroastrian priests argue and debate in the light of knowledge and wisdom against the Muslim faith Finally why a book that tells the tale of a most turbulent period of Iran's history is titled Two Centuries of Silence and not Two Centuries of Chaos and Uproar Prof Zarinkoob's colorful narrative unravels these mysteries through Iranian eyes and is delivered here only as they may

Iran-Europe Relations Seyyed Hossein Mousavian,2008-05-22 This book provides an assessment of relations between Iran and Europe identifying the areas of common interest as well as the issues of conflict whilst putting contemporary relations into their proper context with an account of their development since the early years of the twentieth century Written by a former diplomat who served as the first Iranian ambassador to post reunification Germany this book shows that despite the recent deterioration of relations between Iran and the West Iran has enjoyed a long history of cultural economic and political ties with many European nations such as Germany The book explores important historical episodes including Iran's support of Germany in the years before the First World War the burgeoning economic commercial and scientific co operation in the interwar years such that by the start of the Second World War Germany was Iran's leading trade partner the impact of the Islamic Revolution in 1979 and the attempts by the administration of President Rafsanjani to strengthen ties with Europe in the aftermath of the Iran Iraq War Iran Europe

Relations goes on to examine in detail the recent issues of conflict between Iran and Europe disputes over weapons of mass destruction allegations of Iranian support for terrorist groups in Afghanistan Bosnia Iraq and Lebanon disagreements over human rights the Arab Israeli conflict and the Middle East peace process It concludes by suggesting ways in which Iran Europe relations can be encouraged to develop positively overcome current obstacles and nourish the opportunities and common interests that lie beneath the surface Ethics and the War on Terrorism Kenneth L. Vaux, 2002-04-23 Dr Kenneth Vaux Professor of Theological Ethics at Garrett Evangelical Seminary examines the U S led war on terrorism from an Abrahamic theological and ethical perspective Vaux examines just war theory and applies various traditions to the current war in Afghanistan His reflections range from holy war in the Hebrew scripture the Qu ran and Constantinian Christianity to the Crusades Christian pacifism the American War of Independence and 20th Century Wars World Wars I and II Vietnam Somalia Bosnia and the Israeli Arab wars Vaux ends with the fatal trifurcation the disjunction among Christianity Islam and Judaism as the challenge before us Consistency and Viability of Islamic Economic Systems and the Transition Process J. Marangos, 2013-08-27 Consistency and Viability of Islamic Economics Systems and the Transition Process outlines the transition problem for non market economies and creates an analytic framework for understanding the cause and effect of these economies Games as Transformative Experiences for Critical Thinking, Cultural Awareness, and Deep Learning David Seelow, 2022-12-21 All games are potentially transformative experiences because they engage the player in dynamic action When repurposed in an educational context even highly popular casual games played online to pass the time can engage players in a way that deepens learning Games as Transformative Experiences for Critical Thinking Cultural Awareness and Deep Learning Strategies Resources examines the learning value of a wide variety of games across multiple disciplines Organized just like a well made game the book is divided into four parts highlighting classroom experiences community and culture virtual learning and interdisciplinary instruction The author crosses between the high school and college classroom and addresses a range of disciplines both online and classroom practice the design of curriculum and the transformation of assessment practices In addition to a wealth of practical exercises resources and lesson ideas the book explains how to use a wide and diverse range of games from casual to massively multiplayer online games for self improvement as well as classroom situations The Oxford Encyclopedia of the Modern Islamic World: Faqi-Leba John L. Esposito, 1995 This unique reference is the first comprehensive encyclopedia dedicated to the institutions religion politics and culture in Muslim societies throughout the world Placing particular emphasis on the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The Oxford Encyclopedia of the Modern Islamic World contains over 750 articles in four volumes The focus throughout is on the Islamic dimension of the Muslim experience in recent history and background articles ground the information in its historical context and ensure continuity Entries address political and social action as well as formal texts and emphasis is placed on the practice and theory of Islam in Muslim societies around the globe Unlike more limited explorations of Islam

this work looks at Muslim societies in the Arab heartland as well as in South and Southeast Asia and even in Europe and the Americas. Thus it is an invaluable resource offering extensive comparative and systematic analyses of Islamic beliefs, institutions, movements, practices, and peoples on an international scale. Topical categories covered include history and geography, schools of thought, religious beliefs, theology and philosophy, mysticism, religious practice, devotionism, and ritual, religious law, politics, economics, culture, and society, and biographies. Alphabetically arranged, articles range from brief 500 word essays to major interpretive and synthetic treatments of topics such as the Islamic state, pilgrimage, law, marriage, and foreign relations. Related entries cover such topics as social and political movements, women, Muslim minorities, human rights, Islam in the West, and interreligious affairs. Truly multidisciplinary, this work reflects the breadth and depth of contemporary scholarship in Islamic studies, combining the tools of the humanities and social sciences to examine the interrelationship of religion, politics, and culture in Muslim societies and to explain the changing realities of Muslim life. Designed for easy use by both scholars and students, the work has an index and an extensive system of cross references that provide easy access to the network of related articles throughout the encyclopedia. Entries are written by Muslim and non-Muslim scholars from around the world. Unique in its focus on the modern Islamic world, this encyclopedia is an invaluable reference for anyone concerned with Islam: scholars and students of many disciplines, government and media analysts who increasingly require an understanding of the Muslim world, and interested lay readers who are becoming more and more familiar with Islamic politics and culture.

State Responses to Nuclear Proliferation Brian K. Chappell, 2021-01-07 Contemporary fears of rogue state nuclear proliferation and nuclear terrorism pose unique challenges for the global community. This book offers a unique approach by examining why states that have the military capability to severely damage a proliferating state's nuclear program instead choose to pursue coercive diplomacy. The author argues cognitive psychological influences, including the trauma derived from national tragedies like the September 11th attacks and the Holocaust, and a history of armed conflict increase the threat perceptions of foreign policy decision makers when confronting a state perceived to be challenging the existing power structure by pursuing a nuclear weapon. The powerful state's degree of perceived threat combined with its national security policies, military power, projection capabilities, and public support then influence whether it will take no action, use coercive diplomacy, sanctions, or employ military force to address the weaker state's nuclear ambitions. Democratic Peace Across the Middle East Yakub Halabi, 2016-05-24 From Tunisia to Egypt and from Israel to Iran, the debates surrounding the concept of democracy in the Middle East are never straightforward. This has been particularly evident since the events of 2009 in Iran and the uprisings across the Arab world in late 2010 and 2011. Against this backdrop, Democratic Peace across the Middle East critically analyses the prospects for democracy throughout the region specifically asking whether political and social modernisation are absolute preconditions for democratic peace to take hold in the region or whether democracy without modernisation might be enough It explores the dynamics between neo patriarchy and Islam on the one hand and democratisation and modernisation on the other and also considers the prospect of the political accommodation of opposition groups Incorporating an analysis of a variety of key dynamics which affect each Middle Eastern country in turn such as tribal and sectarian identity Islamism and the structure of political party systems this book will appeal to those researching the Middle East and its patterns of rule Pakistan Today and Tomorrow

Pakistan,1951 Foreign Policy of Iran under President Hassan Rouhani's First Term (2013-2017) Luciano
