Endogenous Origins of Economic Reforms in India and China Rajiv G. Maluste, 2011-07 Attitudinal change in the context of economic reforms has been referred to in Rodrik and Subramanian 2005 DeLong 2003 Kohli 1989 and Panagariya 2004 2008 This dissertation provides empirical support for this literature establishing an earlier start for India's economic policy liberalisation than presented in stylized accounts It demonstrates the endogenous nature of the origins of these policy shifts Attitudinal change literature had directed attention to the need for further research into India's policy changes of the early 1980s and for studying broader comparability issues in other developing countries This research makes a contribution towards filling these gaps This dissertation shows that India started its economic liberalisation under the Indira Gandhi administration from 1980 to 1984 These findings depart from the conventional view that India's economic policy changes were initiated by the Narasimha Rao government in 1991 or by the Rajiv Gandhi administration in the mid to late 1980s The dissertation establishes that policy shifts of the early 1980s had endogenous origins in the political leadership's attitudinal changes The Indira Gandhi administration of the early 1980s revisited the statist policies of its previous tenure from 1966 to

1977 The new approach entailed more openness towards private enterprise scaling back the role of the public sector and starting India's integration into the global economy The dissertation also discusses the comparable role of attitudinal changes at the start of China's policy liberalisation led by Deng Xiaoping from 1978 to 1982 It focuses on the significance and challenges faced by China's political leadership in bringing about societal attitudinal change The dissertation concludes by drawing comparisons between India and China developing a linkage between their endogenous attitudinal changes and economic policy liberalisation Globalization and Networked Societies Yue-man Yeung, 2000-07-01 The world in the last two decades of the twentieth century fundamentally and radically changed at a speed and on a scale never before witnessed The challenge posed at the beginning of the third millennium is enormous for governments and people the world over Globalization along with globalism continues its unrelenting and accelerating march as it draws more countries cities and people closer into interdependent relationships Globalization and Networked Societies attempts to tease out some of the salient elements of this process especially as it has affected urban centers in Pacific Asia over the past twenty years Globalization and rapid economic growth have transformed the region and its cities on varied spatial scales bringing new opportunities and challenges for governments the private sector and individuals All countries in Pacific Asia are covered in this work with special attention given to Hong Kong and to China a late bloomer in the Asia scene but nevertheless one that has experienced phenomenal growth and accelerated globalization in recent decades The empirical analyses reveal the outcome dilemmas and meanings of globalization in the urban regional scene Unstately Power Lynn T. White, III, 2015-06-03 A critique of America's flawed Asia policy that centres on US Japan relations but harkens back to the same disastrous views that drew America into Vietnam The technique is a narrative flow of short vignettes woven into longer chapters the main strands are personal reflections and interviews Sinophone Studies Shu-mei Shih, 2013-01-15 This definitive anthology casts Sinophone studies as the study of Sinitic language cultures born of colonial and postcolonial influences Essays by such authors as Rey Chow Ha Jin Leo Ou fan Lee Ien Ang Wei ming Tu and David Wang address debates concerning the nature of Chineseness while introducing readers to essential readings in Tibetan Malaysian Taiwanese French Caribbean and American Sinophone literatures By placing Sinophone cultures at the crossroads of multiple empires this anthology richly demonstrates the transformative power of multiculturalism and multilingualism and by examining the place based cultural and social practices of Sinitic language communities in their historical contexts beyond China proper it effectively refutes the diasporic framework It is an invaluable companion for courses in Asian postcolonial empire and ethnic studies as well as world and comparative literature Mass Politics In The People's Republic Alan P.L. Liu, 2019-03-04 Exploring the crucial link between state and society in the People's Republic of China PRC this book analyzes the interaction between the Chinese Communist Party and the country's major social groups It explores how public opinion contributes to a mass political culture in China Sericulture Grace Wright, 2006-01-01 Through their labor in the production of silk
