Shaping The New Europe:

Shaping the New Europe M. Landesmann,D. Rosati,2004-04-30 This volume brings together contributions on the major economic policy issues which have opened up as a result of the immanent process of European Union Enlargement The issues analyzed range from modelling and analyzing the costs and benefits of enlargement to challenges for macroeconomic policy both at the EU level and in the new member countries to the state of affairs in the new member countries with respect to sectoral policy reforms such as those undertaken in the financial sector and in competition policy and the impact of enlargement on Europe s trade policy agenda

Shaping the New Europe Hugh Miall,1993 This study explores the longer term trends in both Western and Eastern Europe that are shaping a new order including supranationalism and nationalism economic integration and disintegration trans European co operation and conflict between nationalities The trends are interpreted with the help of theoretical insights drawn mainly from international relations The book explores the question have the changes in Europe been so radical that we need to change the paradigms with which we interpret these events

The Shape of the New Europe Ralf Rogowski,Charles Turner,2006-11-23 The European Union and European identity were until recently the objects of separate branches of scholarship and inquiry With the entry of Central and Eastern European members into the EU it has become clear that the future of the European Union can no longer be considered in isolation from the future of European identity Taking J rgen Habermas s plea for a European constitution and a normative foundation for the European Union as its starting point this volume brings together the ideas of distinguished scholars in philosophy political science sociology history law and theology in order to address the shifting relationship between constitutionality political culture history and collective identity The book argues that the future shape of Europe will not only result from external processes of globalisation but from the interaction between these social spheres within Europe

Company Law in the New Europe

Janet Dine,Marios Koutsias,Michael Blecher,2007-01-01 This study on the potential of law to ensure the social responsibility of a company is an innovative and important study It is a topical contribution to the sociology of market economies in transition It is a unique effort to provide detailed practical guidance for the design of the company law in developing economies in general and the new Europe in particular Christian Joerges European University Institute Florence Italy This book provides comprehensive analysis of the recent enlargement of the EU shedding light on the rationale behind the EU s decisions to enlarge examining the side effects these choices have on a range of EU policies and particularly on the effect of the Acquis on candidate countries Emphasis is placed on the area of company law which occupies a central part in a country s economic planning and therefore its commercial law Past enlargements are thoroughly explained and the potential impact of the new political landscape in Europe in the wake of the popular rejection of the European Constitutional Treaty on future enlargements is evaluated A comparative methodology for commercial law drafting in transition and developing economies is put forward and the book concludes with a complete draft of a model company law for transition and developing economies. The aim is to provide a template for discussion. This book will be of great interest to those interested in considering the influence that the prospect of EU membership has on transition countries in general, the emphasis being on laws vital to emerging market economies, particularly commercial and company law. Separatism and Sovereignty in the New Europe Janet Laible, 2008-11-23. This book investigates why despite European integration separatist nationalism continues to thrive in EU member states. Laible demonstrates that the EU sustains the importance of statehood and therefore separatism and creates new forms of political capital that nationalists employ in their struggles for self government. Focus: Music, Nationalism, and the Making of a New Europe Philip V. Bohlman, 2010-09-13. Focus Music Nationalism and the Making of the New Europe surveys the intersection of music and nationalism by tracing its historical development and documenting its persistence today. Contrasting different types of music reveals how music expresses core ideas of nationalism, for example folk music in the nineteenth century and popular music in the twenty first. The New Europe Robert William Seton-Watson, 1917. The New Europe, 1917. Shaping Europe's Military Order Richard A. Falkenrath, 1995. The legal foundation of the contemporary European security order is the Treaty on Conventional Armed Forces in Europe (CFE). Negotiated by NATO and the Warsaw Pact states as the Cold War was ending and implemented as the new Europe took shape, the CFE Treaty imposes strict limits on the armed forces of all the major European states. This book takes a detailed look at the origins and evolution of the CFE negotiations and the impact of the CFE Treaty on European Security. It draws extensively on interviews with participants in the CFE negotiations and offers a careful reconstruction of a process that contributed to the transformation of Cold War Europe: a critical assessment of the treaty's contribution to security in post Cold War Europe and an evaluation of the lessons of CFE for future conventional arms control initiatives. CSIA Studies in International Security No 6. New Europe, New Germany, Old Foreign Policy? Douglas Webber, 2014-01-14. This work examines the extent to which German foreign policy and European policy has changed since German unification. Despite significant changes on specific issues, most notably on the deployment of military force outside of the NATO area, there is greater continuity than change in post unification German policy. Shaping a New European Order Hugh Miall, 1994. Negotiating Diplomacy in the New Europe Stefanos Katsikas, 2011-10-30. Bulgaria has faced previously unimaginable pressures over the last two decades as it struggles to adapt to a post Communist landscape and to reform both state and society in the wake of the fall of the Soviet Union while facing the challenge of increased efforts by NATO and the EU to expand into this region. In Negotiating Diplomacy in the New Europe, Stefanos Katsikas sheds new light on the mechanisms and factors which have influenced the making and shaping of Bulgarian foreign policy, examining the extent to which both domestic factors and the international environment have affected its trajectory. Following the promulgation of Gorbachev's now famous policies of glasnost and perestroika and the fall from power of the Bulgarian Communist Party led at the time by

Todor Zhivkov many have directly attributed Bulgaria's changes in foreign policy to the processes of democratization witnessed throughout Eastern Europe. However, although this was to some extent the case, the commonalities shared with the country's foreign policy during the Cold War era leave in question the extent to which the effects of democratization alone suffice to explain Sofia's post-communist diplomatic and strategic policies. By analysing the influencing factors of Bulgaria's foreign policy since 1989, Katsikas considers factors such as domestic policies as well as the effects of EU and NATO efforts to expand their influence and membership. Rich in primary sources including personal interviews with key protagonists who have dominated foreign policy making in both communist and post-communist Bulgaria, Negotiating Diplomacy in the New Europe examines the shift of foreign relations not only within the context of post-Cold War democratization but also the country's integration into wider Euro-Atlantic frameworks. It thus holds invaluable analysis for researchers of Europe's post-communist international relations as well as those interested in the processes of democratization and those of foreign policy formation.

Migration and Welfare in the New Europe Emma Carmel, Alfio Cerami, Theodoros Papadopoulos, 2012. Providing innovative insights, this book moves the debate on migration and integration policies in the enlarged European Union and its member states onto new terrain.

Intercultural Conflict and Harmony in the Central European Borderlands Mihai I. Spărosu, 2017-05-15. This cross-disciplinary collection of essays combines qualitative and quantitative approaches to re-examine the most influential contemporary theories of intercultural relations and their application in various domains including historiography, sociology and cultural studies. A particular focus lies on Central Europe, historical Banat and Transylvania but also on the current public policies toward ethnic and religious minorities as well as recent immigrants. It argues that much more complex approaches are needed both historically and conceptually in exploring intercultural relations. Thus, the political decision making in East-Central European countries and the European Union as a whole could benefit from a well-informed historical perspective by learning from the successes and errors of their predecessors.

European Food and Nutrition Policies in Action Nancy Milio, Elisabet Helsing, 1998. This publication presents a vast array of experience, insight and points of view on current issues in food and nutrition policy making across Europe.

Cooperation and Enlargement: Two Challenges to be Addressed in the European Projects—2022 Ghislaine Pellat, Jovan Zafiroski, Marian Šuplata, 2023-11-10. In this book, the ERECO PGV 1 network wishes to make an overview of the cooperation implemented by and in the European Union and to describe the concrete forms they have taken. The issue is to analyze the internal European cooperation between economic actors, politicians and EU citizens at different levels but also to focus attention on the external cooperation, neighborhood policies, external policies and collaborations with international institutions, NATO, OECD, WTO etc. Carrying uncompromising attention on this issue means rethinking the European project in light of today's challenges From the very beginning the EU was based on and called for forms of multinational cooperation bilateral internal and external at different levels involving economic actors public actors local authorities and civil society The frameworks for this cooperation as well as for the successive enlargements of the EU were drawn up in the context of European negotiations in particular during discussions on the European Treaties European values standards and rules are embodied in the texts of agreements resolutions and European directives and Treaties signed by all member countries They establish the functioning of European institutions and the framework of democratic life in Europe The emergence of current crises Brexit COVID 19 migration crisis non respect of rule of law rules refusal of certain member countries to apply the European Charter of Human Rights etc is questioning the project of the European Union and introduced the challenges which should be overcome by the proposal of the new project able to face the internal complexity of the Union and to answer to the pressure of a conflicting international context What remains of the European ideal affirmed in the treaties of 1957 1992 and 2007 How to re-enchant the common project Yet the European Union remains attractive to new candidate countries How do they read the integration conditions into the EU with regard to their own projects
