health and older people during the COVID-19 pandemic , 2022-01-18 Since the start of the COVID 19 pandemic in early 2020 decision makers in affected countries have acted quickly to address the immediate health effects of the pandemic and to put into place public health and social measures to slow or stop the spread of COVID 19 In order to preserve the gains made in maternal newborn child and adolescent health in the last decades and avoid negative impacts due to the pandemic the global community quickly mobilized to advocate for protecting the health of these populations Since May 2020 the World Health Organization WHO through its headquarters regional and country office teams has supported 19 countries in five

WHO Regions see Figure 1 to raise the profile of and commitment to maternal newborn child and adolescent health and ageing MNCAAH b through an Initiative on mitigating the indirect impacts of COVID 19 on MNCAAH services The goal was to ensure that during the response to COVID 19 actions would be taken to mitigate indirect effects on MNCAAH due to disruptions to service provision and use

Common Interest, Common Good Shirley Sagawa, Eli Segal, 2000 With funding for nonprofits shrinking and global markets shaky our business and social sectors are both confronting an increasingly uncertain future Many organizations are searching for innovative strategies that will counter the mounting pressures felt by communities and corporations alike Common Interest Common Good argues that forward looking businesses and social sector organizations both nonprofit and government can solve many of their problems by working together while serving the common good in the process According to Shirley Sagawa and Eli Segal alliances between for profit and the not for profit industries yield enormous benefits for both Businesses can boost their bottom line by leveraging a nonprofit partnership to enhance their image reach new markets increase consumer loyalty and build a positive reputation with current and prospective employees The upside is just as powerful for nonprofits because an alliance with a corporation can provide crucial funds and visibility while helping to attract new volunteers and donors Common Interest Common Good showcases many such successful partnerships from corporate sponsorships and cause related marketing to employee volunteer programs and school to work initiatives The authors also offer some much needed guidance for avoiding many of the pitfalls that can undermine even the best alliances A convincing deeply felt book by two authors who have devoted much of their careers to helping public and private sectors find profitable new ways of working together Common Interest Common Good is a guided tour of the progressive new strategies that can contribute to the purpose of our businesses and the prosperity of our communities

Coworking Spaces Janet Merkel, Dimitris Pettas, Vasilis Avdikos, 2023-11-07 This contributed volume considers the emergence of coworking as centered in labor issues More specifically its chapters consider it as a coping mechanism in the worldwide rise of independent modes of work i e self employment that leaves more and more workers exposed to precarity as they must organize and manage their own labor Grounded in this perspective this volume aims to understand the transformative social and political potentials emerging through coworking as a social and spatial practice There is a distinct lack of discussion within coworking research on the emancipatory potentials of coworking and if it is discussed more cautionary views prevail highlighting the ambivalence of coworking spaces both as a space of alternative economic practices and as integrated into market economies The aims of this collection are twofold First it aims to make visible the plurality of existing practices around shared resources in coworking and the assemblages of human and non human actors as agents of change associated with coworking and the re organization of work and labor power And second it aims to develop a more emancipatory narrative for coworking and the role of coworking spaces for workers but also the different spatial contexts in which these spaces are situated A narrative that does not emphasize entrepreneurship or coworking as the epitome of the neoliberal entrepreneurial self as in the dominant interpretations in the current research but rather one that centers coworking in the creation of meaningful careful social relationships supporting empathy and an ethics that recognizes mutual interdependencies and builds a foundation for social change So it is about alternative narratives emancipation politics and the wider social role that coworking spaces might play in neighborhoods cities or beyond because they are crucial contexts for the formation and maintenance of social relations With this specific direction this collection aims to bring coworking research into a fruitful dialog with other research fields such as sociology of work feminist perspectives on care alternative and diverse economies post capitalist transformation critical geography positioning coworking within a range of progressive alternatives in the articulation of economic and social relationships

Human Services in Rural Areas Leona L. Bachrach,1981      Assisting the Homeless ,1988 Papers from a policy conference sponsored by the U S Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations      Intergenerational Space Robert Vanderbeck,Nancy Worth,2015-06-03 Intergenerational Space offers insight into the transforming relationships between younger and older members of contemporary societies The chapter selection brings together scholars from around the world in order to address pressing questions both about the nature of contemporary generational divisions as well as the complex ways in which members of different generations are and can be involved in each other s lives These questions include how do particular kinds of spaces and spatial arrangements e g cities neighbourhoods institutions leisure sites facilitate and limit intergenerational contact and encounters What processes and spaces influence the intergenerational negotiation and contestation of values beliefs and social memory producing patterns of both continuity and change And if generational separation and segregation are in fact significant social problems across a range of contexts as a significant body of research and commentary attests how can this be ameliorated The chapters in this collection make original contributions to these debates drawing on original research from Belgium China Finland Poland Senegal Singapore Tanzania Uganda the United States and the United Kingdom
