The Reckoning on Cane Hill: A Novel Steve Mosby, 2016-09-13 A terrifying and heartbreaking new novel of guilt and innocence from CWA Dagger winner Steve Mosby. The hardest crimes to acknowledge are your own. Charlie Matheson died two years ago in a car accident. So how is a woman bearing a startling resemblance to her claiming to be back from the dead? Detective Mark Nelson is called in to investigate and hear her terrifying account of what she's been through in the afterlife. Every year Detective David Groves receives a birthday card for his son even though he buried him years ago. His son's murder took everything from him apart from his belief in the law even though the killers were never found. This year though the card bears a different message: I know who did it. Uncovering the facts will lead them all on a dark journey where they must face their own wrongs as well as those done to those they love. It will take them to a place where justice is a game and punishments are severe. Nelson and Groves know the answers lie with the kind of people you want to turn and run from. But if they're to get to the truth, they must face their own wrongs as well as those inflicted on the ones they love.

The Beautiful Room Is Empty Edmund White, 1994-10-04 White's poised yet scalding autobiographical novel is the story of a young man's coming of age in 1950s and 60s America. The country has no room for a scholarly teenager with guilty but insatiable stirrings toward other men. Moving from a Midwestern college to the Stonewall Tavern on the night of the first gay uprising and populated by eloquent queens, butch poseurs, and a fearfully incompetent shrink, The Beautiful Room Is Empty conflates the acts of coming out and coming of age.
