Sharing With Renoir:

Sharing with Renoir Julie Merberg, Suzanne Bober, 2005-04-28 Two new board books in this very successful series feature beautiful paintings by Renoir and Seurat The rhyming text links the paintings together in two imaginative stories Sharing with Renoir celebrates the special times between parents and children siblings and friends Sunday with Seurat leads children through a wonderful day that begins at the park moves to the beach and ends at the circus Mists of Regret Dudley

Andrew, 2021-11-09 Just before World War II French cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty directors such as Renoir Carn Gremillon Duvivier and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema Here the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema In his view the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy direction and consequence to our reading of the films The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts Representations of Art and Art Museums in Children's Picture Books Perry Nodelman, 2024-10-17 What happens when the assumptions and practices of museum curators and art educators intersect with the assumptions and practices of publishing for children This study explores how over three hundred children's picture books most of them published in the last three decades in English introduce children to art and art museums It considers how the books emerge from and relate to a range of theories and assumptions about childhood and childhood development children's literature and culture illustration visual art museology and art education As well as examining how these theories and assumptions influence what picture books teach young readers about visiting museums and about how to look at and think about art it examines which artists and artworks appear most often in picture books and offers a survey of different kinds of art related picture books ones that claim to be purely informational ones that make looking at art a game or a puzzle ones in which children visit art museums and many more Since the books all include reproductions of or allusions to museum artworks the study also considers the problems illustrators face in depicting museum artworks in illustrations in a different style Renoir's Dancer Catherine Hewitt, 2018-02-27 Catherine Hewitt's richly told biography of Suzanne Valadon the illegitimate daughter of a provincial linen maid who became famous as a model for the Impressionists and later as a painter in her own right In the 1880s

Suzanne Valadon was considered the Impressionists most beautiful model But behind her captivating facade lay a closely guarded secret Suzanne was born into poverty in rural France before her mother fled the provinces taking her to Montmartre There as a teenager Suzanne began posing for and having affairs with some of the age's most renowned painters Then Renoir caught her indulging in a passion she had been trying to conceal the model was herself a talented artist Some found her vibrant still lifes and frank portraits as shocking as her bohemian lifestyle At eighteen she gave birth to an illegitimate child future painter Maurice Utrillo But her friends Toulouse Lautrec and Degas could see her skill Rebellious and opinionated she refused to be confined by tradition or gender and in 1894 her work was accepted to the Salon de la Soci t  Nationale des Beaux Arts an extraordinary achievement for a working class woman with no formal art training Renoir's Dancer tells the remarkable tale of an ambitious headstrong woman fighting to find a professional voice in a male dominated world

Impressionist Cats & Dogs James Henry Rubin,2003-01-01 Many Impressionist paintings of modern life and leisure include images of household pets Their appealing presence lends charm to such works while alluding to middle class prosperity and the growing importance of animals as family members In many cases such domestic denizens significantly complement representations of their owners In certain others the devotion of individual artists to their pets symbolically enhances their expressions of artistic identity This enjoyable and informative book focuses on the role of pets in Impressionist pictures and what this reveals about art artists and society of that era James H Rubin discusses works in which artists paint themselves or their friends in the company of their pets including several paintings by Courbet who was fond of dogs and Manet a notorious lover of cats He points out that in some works by Degas dogs contribute to the artist's commentary on psychological and social relationships and that in paintings by Renoir dogs and cats have playful and erotic overtones He also offers a theory to explain why Monet almost never painted pets Drawing on early pet handbooks and treatises on animal intelligence Rubin explores nineteenth century opinions on cats and dogs and compares handbook illustrations to the animals shown in Impressionist works He also provides fascinating information on pet ownership and on the place of Impressionism in the long history of animal painting
