Evangelism Without Additives Jim Henderson,2009-01-20 What if evangelism meant just being yourself If the gospel

really is good news why do most Christians avoid evangelism Why is witnessing often a negative experience for both the sender and receiver Wouldn't it be great if you could communicate the good news without having to become a spiritual salesperson What if you didn't have to make a speech in order to witness you could use everyday experiences to nudge others closer to Jesus the things you're already doing counted as evangelism Evangelism can be as normal as asking great questions and paying attention to the people Jesus misses most It involves doing things you already do but with a little more intentionality Just by being yourself and becoming unusually interested in others you can discover that people will ask you about Jesus This isn't another program or pitch It's a handbook on how to make real connections with the people formerly known as lost Think of it as evangelism for the rest of us

Can We Talk? Robert G. Tuttle, 1999 Those who serve on mission fields in areas where Christian faith is not the dominant religion quickly come to understand a central truth when one is sharing the gospel one must have a place to start the conversation If the person being addressed is unfamiliar with Christian concepts and terms one must pick up on things with which he or she is familiar and relate these to the Christian message Without this middle ground there can be no effective witness to God's salvation in Christ Everyone who shares the good news today Robert Tuttle points out would do well to learn this basic truth for communicating the gospel While the Christian message is universal intended for all persons everywhere the language we use to convey this message may not be The key is always to be sensitive to the deep questions with which one's friends and acquaintances are struggling and to look for ways to relate the life changing message of the gospel to these questions The lively and direct writing style offers a clear user friendly guide to sharing one's personal faith Illustrations and examples are drawn from the contexts of both North America and outside of North America The material is focused on the crucial and difficult task of communicating the gospel to persons who have not grown up with the language and symbolism of the church Readers will understand that in an effort to communicate the gospel to persons unfamiliar with its terminology and concepts they must first learn to identify a common middle ground from which to begin They will learn the basic tools for communicating the gospel including how to relate the life changing message of the gospel to the deep questions people ask

Talking Faith Heather E Kirk-Davidoff, Nancy E Wood, 2004-09-01 Talking Faith is not about teaching people what to believe or about going door to door in an evangelism campaign It is about helping people to better understand and develop their own faith and helping them to be comfortable in sharing their faith with others Heather Kirk Davidoff and Nancy Wood Lyczak believe that the key to nurturing faith lies in two Christian practices prayer conversation with God and evangelism conversation with others especially those who are not part of a faith community Talking Faith is for anyone interested in exploring further what it means to have a vital Christian faith There are no other prerequisites Participants need not have any Bible knowledge before they begin Incorporating Bible study interactive activities and discussion Talking Faith examines eight questions of faith During each class participants sing and pray and share their faith with one another In all classes Jesus Christ and the Bible are central to the discussion All topics are examined in light of Jesus' life ministry witness death and his resurrection helping participants to see Jesus as the foundation from which all conversation about Christian faith begins
