Bissonette,Ilse Storch,2007-09-05 In this book the authors discuss the effects that temporal changes in resources have on animal populations The chapters address the idea of current as well as historical temporal influences on resource availability quality and distribution The authors draw attention to the neglected temporal issues so important to understanding species and community responses International contributions enable worldwide application of the theories

Payette National Forest (N.F.), Little Weiser Landscape Vegetation Management Project ,2001 Pasture Landscapes and Nature Conservation Bernd Redecker,Werner Härdtle,Peter

Finck,Uwe Riecken,Eckhard Schröder,2012-12-06 One of the main problems and aims of nature conservation in Europe is to protect semi open landscapes The development during the past decades is characterized by an ongoing intensification of land use on the one hand and an increasing number of former meadows and pastures lying fallow caused by changing economic conditions on the other hand In several countries the establishment of larger pasture landscapes with a mixed character of open grassland combined with shrubs and forests has been recognized as one solution to this problem The book gives an overview of the European projects concerning to this topic nature conservation policy and strategies scientific results and practical experiences creating large scale grazing systems

Nature-Based Flood Risk Management on Private Land

Thomas Hartmann,Lenka Slavíková,Simon McCarthy,2019-08-22 This open access book addresses the various disciplinary aspects of nature based solutions in flood risk management on private land In recent decades water management has been moving towards nature based solutions These are assumed to be much more multi purpose than traditional grey infrastructures and seem to be regarded as a panacea for many environmental issues At the same time such measures require more and mostly privately owned land and more diverse stakeholder involvement than traditional grey engineering approaches They also present challenges related to different disciplines Nature based solutions for flood risk management not only require technical expertise but also call for interdisciplinary insights from land use planning economics property rights sociology landscape planning ecology hydrology agriculture and other disciplines to address the challenges of implementing them Ultimately nature based flood risk management is a multi disciplinary endeavor Featuring numerous case studies of nature based flood risk management accompanied by commentaries this book presents brief academic reflections from two different disciplinary perspectives that critically highlight which specific aspects are of significance and as such underscore the multi disciplinary nature of the challenges faced

Routledge Handbook of Cultural Landscape

Practice Steve Brown,Cari Goetcheus,2023-02-14 Cultural landscapes which in the field of heritage studies and practice relates to caring for and safeguarding heritage landscapes is a concept embedded in contemporary conservation Heritage conservation has shifted from an historical focus on buildings city centres and archaeological sites to encompass progressively more diverse forms of heritage and increasingly larger geographic areas embracing both rural and urban landscapes While the origin of the idea of cultural landscapes can be traced to the late 19th century Euro American scholarship it came to global attention after 1992 following its adoption as a category of site by the UNESCO World Heritage Committee Today cultural landscape practice has become increasingly complex given the expansion of the values and meanings of heritage the influence of environmental challenges such as human induced climate change technological advancements and the need to better understand and interpret human connections to place and landscapes The aim of this handbook is to strike a balance between theory and practice which we see as inseparable while also seeking to achieve a geographical spread disciplinary diversity and perspectives and a mix of authors from academic practitioner management
