Hampa afro-cubana Fernando Ortiz, 1916 Los negros esclavos Fernando Ortiz Fernández, 1916 Comparative and Global Framing of Enslavement Stephan Conermann, Youval Rotman, Ehud R. Toledano, Rachel Zelnick-Abramovitz, 2023-09-05 The study of enslavement has become urgent over the last two decades Social scientists legal scholars human rights activists and historians who study forms of enslavement in both modern and historical societies have sought and often achieved common conceptual grounds thus forging a new perspective that comprises historical and contemporary forms of slavery What could certainly be termed a turn in the study of slavery has also intensified awareness of enslavement as a global phenomenon inviting a comparative trans regional approach across time space divides Though different aspects of enslavement in different societies and eras are discussed each of the volume s three parts contributes to and has benefitted from a global perspective of enslavement The chapters in Part One propose to structure the global examination of the theoretical ideological and methodological aspects of the global local and glocal Part Two Regional and Trans regional Perspectives of the Global presents through analyses of historical case studies the link between connectivity and mobility as a fundamental aspect of the globalization of enslavement Finally Part Three deals with personal points of view regarding the global local and glocal Grosso modo the contributors do not only present their case studies but attempt to demonstrate what insights and added value explanations they gain from positioning their work vis vis a broader big picture

The Things of Others: Ethnographies, Histories, and Other Artefacts Olívia Maria Gomes da Cunha, 2020-05-18 The Things of Others Ethnographies Histories and Other Artefacts deals with the things mainly but not only mobilized by anthropologists in order to produce knowledge about the African American the Afro Brazilian and the Afro Cuban during the 1930s However the book's goal is not to dig up evidence of the creation of an epistemology of knowledge and its transnational connections The research on which this book is based suggests that the artefacts created in fieldwork offices libraries laboratories museums and other places and experiences beyond the important fact that these places and situations involved actors other than the anthropologists themselves have been different things during their troubled existence The book seeks to make these differences apparent highlighting rather than concealing the relationships between partial modes of making and being Afro as a subject of science If the artefacts created in a variety of situations have been different things we should ask what sort of things they were and how the actors involved in their creation sought to make them meaningful The book foregrounds these discontinuous and ever changing contours

Black Labor, White Sugar Philip A. Howard, 2015-06-15 Early in the twentieth century the Cuban sugarcane industry faced a labor crisis when Cuban and European workers balked at the inhumane conditions they endured in the cane fields Rather than reforming their practices sugar companies gained permission from the Cuban government to import thousands of black workers from other Caribbean colonies primarily Haiti and Jamaica Black Labor White Sugar illuminates the story of these immigrants their exploitation by the sugarcane companies and the strategies they used to fight back Philip A Howard traces the socioeconomic and political circumstances in Haiti and Jamaica that led men to leave their homelands to cut load and haul sugarcane in Cuba Once there the field workers or braceros were subject to marginalization and even violence from the sugar companies which used structures of race ethnicity color and class to subjugate these laborers Howard argues that braceros drew on their cultural identities from concepts of home and family to spiritual worldviews to interpret and contest their experiences in Cuba They also fought against their exploitation in more overt ways As labor conditions worsened in response to falling sugar prices the principles of anarcho syndicalism converged with the Pan African philosophy of Marcus

Garvey to foster the evolution of a protest culture among black Caribbean laborers By the mid 1920s this identity encouraged many braceros to participate in strikes that sought to improve wages as well as living and working conditions The first full length exploration of Haitian and Jamaican workers in the Cuban sugarcane industry Black Labor White Sugar examines the industry s abuse of thousands of black Caribbean immigrants and the braceros answering struggle for power and self definition
