

The Luna Moth

The Luna Moth beats bright green wings against the dark window—persistent wings pounding with the force of fresh spring leaves opening against a lagging winter wind, wings driving an ancient messenger through obscure worlds towards our brilliant night lights, wings begging for complete attention like snare drums played too loud

Luna Moth and Other Poems Steve Luxton, 2004 In his latest collection Steve Luxton navigates the mid passages facing what his favourite character the notorious Doc Holliday terms the wasting diseases Life sonofabitch Fate Love Pieces both lyrical and serio comic weigh sickness and personal mortality the death of a shell shocked father and the shenanigans of this Age s public life In Luna Moth and Other Poems the poet by now well tutored in human fragility and frailty discovers that being alive at all in this very odd world seems stranger by far than salvation or personal immortality Nevertheless though Fear may be the only deity first and last Luxton also celebrates the deep beauty in the recesses of nature and redeemingly a little companionship With both formal and experimental elements these vividly figured emotionally compelling poems tantalizingly sing and tartly satirize

Luna Moth and Other Poems Steve Luxton, 2004-11-15 The book opens with a poem in which the son recalls an incident at the age of four his father lifted him to the top of a seven foot hedge and left him there for a while The vertiginous experience was frightening but it offered terror and delight what more could we want and the birth of a perspective on the whole world The Montreal Review of Books Spring Summer 2005
