Lunar Perspectives:

Lunar Perspectives Michael H. Keefer, 1996 New Views of the Moon Bradley L. Jolliff, Mark A. Wieczorek, Charles K. Shearer, Clive R. Neal, 2018-12-17 Volume 60 of Reviews in Mineralogy and Geochemistry assesses the current state of knowledge of lunar geoscience given the data sets provided by missions of the 1990 s and lists remaining key questions as well as new ones for future exploration to address It documents how a planet or moon other than the world on which we live can be studied and understood in light of integrated suites of specific kinds of information The Moon is the only body other than Earth for which we have material samples of known geologic context for study This volume seeks to show how the different kinds of information gained about the Moon relate to each other and also to learn from this experience thus allowing more efficient planning for the exploration of other worlds Lunar Point of View SM Tenneshaw, 2013-08-01 A pair of earthlings met with the Mocs natives of the moon to negotiate a contract but soon discover the Lunar Point of View is very different Perspectives on Minority Influence Serge Moscovici, Gabriel Mugny, Eddy van Avermaet, 1985-06-27 The contributors to this volume examine social processes in terms of minority influence Expanding Worldviews: Astrobiology, Big History and Cosmic Perspectives Ian Crawford, 2021-06-07 This book collates papers presented at two international conferences held at the Australian National University in 2018 and Birkbeck College London in 2019 exploring the relationships between big history and astrobiology and their wider implications for society These two relatively new academic disciplines aim to integrate human history with the wider history of the universe and the search for life elsewhere The book will show that despite differences in emphasis big history and astrobiology share much in common especially their interdisciplinary approaches and the cosmic and evolutionary perspectives that they both engender Specifically the book addresses the unified all embracing nature of knowledge the impact of big history on humanity and the world at large the possible impact of SETI on astrobiology and big history the cultural signature of Earth s inhabitants beyond our own planet and the political implications of a planetary worldview The principal readership is envisaged to comprise scholars working in the fields of astrobiology big history and space exploration interested in forging interdisciplinary links between these diverse topics together with educators and a wider public interested in the societal implications of the cosmic and evolutionary perspectives engendered by research in these fields Perspectives in Civil Engineering Jeffrey S. Russell, 2003-01-01 This report contains 27 papers that serve as a testament to the state of the art of civil engineering at the outset of the 21st century as well as to commemorate the ASCE s Sesquicentennial Written by the leading practitioners educators and researchers of civil engineering each of these peer reviewed papers explores a particular aspect of civil engineering knowledge and practice Each paper explores the development of a particular civil engineering specialty including milestones and future barriers constraints and opportunities The papers celebrate the history heritage and accomplishments of the profession in all facets of practice including construction facilities special structures engineering mechanics surveying and mapping irrigation and water quality forensics computing materials geotechnical engineering hydraulic engineering and transportation engineering While each paper is unique collectively they provide a snapshot of the profession while offering thoughtful predictions of likely developments in the years to come Together the papers illuminate the mounting complexity facing civil engineering stemming from rapid growth in scientific knowledge technological development and human populations especially in the last 50 years An overarching theme is the need for systems level approaches and consideration from undergraduate education through advanced engineering materials processes technologies and design methods and tools These papers speak to the need for civil engineers of all specialties to recognize and embrace the growing interconnectedness of the global infrastructure economy society and the need to work for more sustainable life cycle oriented solutions While embracing the past and the present the papers collected here clearly have an eye on the future needs of ASCE and the civil engineering profession
