Fullness of Life for All, 2021-10-01 This important book is needed today The challenges that Christian churches face have changed immensely in the last quarter century One of the central issues facing the churches everywhere in the world is their missionary presence in their nations and societies The authors of this volume are among the world's leading missiological thinkers and represent major Christian traditions in Europe Africa and North America In this new century the Christian church faces new situations that include for example the fall of communism the globalization of culture cultural and religious minorities and multiple religious majorities in nearly every country ethnic and interreligious tensions relativism and individualism in Western culture the rise of a global impact of a postmodern world view poverty in poor countries and in urban areas in wealthy countries and the decline of Western cultural authority and with notable exceptions of religious authority generally This book speaks of ways in which Christian churches are seeking to respond to these challenges The purpose of this book is to describe some of the main challenges facing the churches in mission today particularly with reference to inter religious conversations all over the world The title of this volume has been derived from the theme of the 24th General Assembly of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches WARC at Accra in August 2004 whose theme is That All May Have Life in Fullness

Nomadic and Indigenous Spaces Judith Miggelbrink, Joachim Otto Habeck, Nuccio Mazzullo, Peter Koch, 2016-05-06 This volume is devoted to aspects of space that have thus far been largely unexplored How space is perceived and cognised has been discussed from different stances but there are few analyses of nomadic approaches to spatiality Nor is there a sufficient number of studies on indigenous interpretations of space despite the importance of territory and place in definitions of indigeneity At the intersection of geography and anthropology the authors of this volume combine general reflections on spatiality with case studies from the Circumpolar North and other nomadic settings Spatial perceptions and practices have been profoundly transformed by new technologies as well as by new modes of social and political interaction. How do these changes play out in the everyday lives, identifications and political projects of nomadic and indigenous people? This question has been broached from two seemingly divergent stances: spatial cognition on the one hand and production of space on the other. Bringing these two approaches together, this volume realigns the different strings of scholarship on spatiality, making them applicable and relevant for indigenous and nomadic conceptualizations of space, place and territory.

Contesting Inequalities, Identities and Rights in Ethiopia Data D. Barata, 2018-11-08. This book examines the relationship between inequalities and identities in the context of an unprecedented state advocacy of human rights with a distinct emphasis on ethnic group rights in post-civil war Ethiopia. The analysis is set against the background of a dramatic state remaking by a rebellion movement, the Ethiopian People's Revolutionary Democratic Front (EPRDF), that seized control of the Ethiopian state in 1991 after a decisive battlefield victory over an unpopular regime. The new government of former rebels pledged to institute a new system of ethnic self-government that celebrated ethnic diversity with a firm pledge to guarantee basic human rights. After nearly three decades in office, however, the Ethiopian government is challenged by the resilience of identity-based inequalities it ostensibly sought to end and by protests against its own policies and practices that intensified inequality. The events in Ethiopia reverberating throughout the Horn of Africa have inspired heated and often polarized debates between academics, policy experts, political activists and the media. Data D. Barata contributes to this debate through a nuanced ethnographic analysis of why identities with distinct notions of inequality persist even after relentless interventions and ideological repudiations. The contestations and struggles over political representation, local governance, cultural identities, land and religion that the book examines are shaped one way or another by the global human rights discourse that has inspired millions of Africans to confront entrenched structures of power. This book will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of anthropology, African studies, political science, sociology and cultural studies.

Crude Domination Andrea Behrends, Stephen Reyna, Günther Schlee, 2011-10-01. Crude Domination is an innovative and important book about a critical topic: oil. While there have been numerous works about petroleum from experience, far perspectives, there have been relatively few that have turned the experience, near ethnographic gaze of anthropology on the topic. Crude Domination does just this among more peoples and more places than any other volume. Its chapters investigate nuances of culture, politics and economics in Africa, Latin America and Eurasia as they pertain to petroleum. They wrestle with the key questions vexing scholars and practitioners alike: problems of the economic blight of the resource curse, underdevelopment, democracy, violence and war. Additionally, they address topics that may initially appear insignificant, such as child witches and lionmen fighting for oil when there is no oil, reindeer nomadism, community TV, but which turn out on closer scrutiny to be vital for explaining conflict and transformation in petro-states. Based upon these rich new worlds of information, the text formulates a novel domination approach to the social analysis of oil.

Meaning in Action Rein Raud, 2017-05-23. In this important new book Rein Raud develops an original theory of culture understood as a loose and internally contradictory system of texts and practices that are shared by intermittent groups of people and used by them to make sense of their life worlds This theory views culture simultaneously in two ways as a world of texts tangible and shareable products of signifying acts and as a space of practices repeatable activities that produce disseminate and interpret these clusters of meaning Both approaches are developed into corresponding models of culture which used together are able to provide a rich understanding of any meaning in action In developing this innovative theory Raud draws on a wide range of disciplines from anthropology sociology and cultural studies to semiotics and philosophy The theory is illustrated throughout with examples drawn from both high and popular culture and from Western and Asian traditions dealing with both contemporary and historical topics The book concludes with two case studies from very different contexts one dealing with Italian poetry in the 13th century the other dealing with the art scene in Eastern Europe in the 1990s This timely and original work makes a major new contribution to the theory of culture and will be welcomed by students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities

Case Studies in Interdisciplinary Research Allen F. Repko, William H. Newell, Rick Szostak, 2011-02-07

Self contained case studies teach students best practices in interdisciplinary research Interdisciplinary research is a burgeoning field largely due to its ability to tackle complex problems facing humanity that extend beyond a single disciplinary perspective and require interdisciplinary thinking and research for their resolution Case Studies in Interdisciplinary Research successfully applies the model of the interdisciplinary research process outlined by author Allen F Repko in Interdisciplinary Research SAGE 2008 to a wide spectrum of challenging research questions Self contained case studies written by leaders in interdisciplinary research and utilizing best practice techniques in conducting interdisciplinary research shows students how to apply the interdisciplinary research process to a variety of problems

Interdisciplinary Research Allen F. Repko, 2011-10-12 The Second Edition of Interdisciplinary Research Process and Theory reflects the substantial research on all aspects of interdisciplinarity that has been published since the appearance of the First Edition in 2008 How to do interdisciplinary research is no longer the neglected topic that it once was This book also reflects feedback from faculty and students who have used the first edition As in the previous edition the goal is to provide a comprehensive and systematic presentation of the interdisciplinary research process and the theory that informs it for not only students but also for individual mature scholars and interdisciplinary teams The book emphasizes the relationship between theory research and practice in an orderly framework so that the reader can more easily understand the nature of the interdisciplinary research process

Dynamics of Identification and Conflict Markus Virgil Hoehne, Echi Christina Gabbert, John R. Eidson, 2025-03-01 Dealing with the dynamics of identification and conflict this book uses theoretical orientations ranging from political ecology to rational choice theory interpretive approaches Marxism and multiscalar analysis Case studies set in Africa Europe and Central Asia are grouped in three sections devoted to pastoralism identity and migration What connects all of these anthropological explorations is a close focus on processes of identification and conflict at the level of particular actors in relation to the behaviour of large aggregates of people and to systemic conditions
