The Making of Urban Europe, 1000-1994 Paul M. HOHENBERG, Lynn Hollen Lees, Paul M Hohenberg, 2009-06-30

Europe became a land of cities during the last millennium The story told in this book begins with North Sea and Mediterranean traders sailing away from Dorestad and Amalfi and with warrior kings building castles to fortify their conquests It tells of the dynamism of textile towns in Flanders and Ireland While London and Hamburg flourished by reaching out to the world and once vibrant Spanish cities slid into somnolence a Russian urban network slowly grew to rival that of the West Later as the tide of industrialization swept over Europe the most intense urban striving and then settled back into the merchant cities and baroque capitals of an earlier era By tracing the large scale processes of social economic and political change within cities as well as the evolving relationships between town and country and between city and city the authors present an original synthesis of European urbanization within a global context They divide their study into three time periods making the early modern era much more than a mere transition from preindustrial to industrial economies Through both general analyses and incisive case studies Hohenberg and Lees show how cities originated and what conditioned their early development and later growth How did urban activity respond to demographic and technological changes Did the social consequences of urban life begin degradation or inspire integration and cultural renewal New analytical tools suggested by a systems view of urban relations yield a vivid dual picture of cities both as elements in a regional and national hierarchy of central places and also as junctions in a transnational network for the exchange of goods information and influence A lucid text is supplemented by numerous maps illustrations figures and tables and by substantial bibliography Both a general and a scholarly audience will find this book engrossing reading Table of Contents Introduction Urbanization in Perspective PART I The Preindustrial Age eleventh to Fourteenth Centuries 1 Structure and Functions of Medieval Towns 2 Systems of Early Cities 3 The Demography of Preindustrial Cities PART II The Industrial Age Fourteenth to Eighteenth Centuries 4 Cities in the Early Modern European Economy 5 Beyond Baroque Urbanism PART III The Industrial Age Eighteenth to Twentieth Centuries 6 Industrial and the Cities 7 Urban Growth and Urban Systems 8 The Human Consequences of Industrial Urbanization 9 The Evolution and Control of Urban Space 10 Europe's Cities in the Twentieth Century Appendix A A Cyclical Model of an Economy Appendix B Size Distributions and the Ranks Size Rule Notes Bibliography Index Reviews of this book A readable and ambitious introduction to the long history of European urbanization Economic History Review Reviews of this book A trailblazing history of the transformation of Europe John Barkham Reviews of this book A marvelously compendious account of a millennium of urban development which accomplishes that most difficult of assignments to design a work that will safely introduce the newcomer to the subject and at the same time stimulate professional colleagues to review positions Urban Studies

The Making of Urban Europe, 1000-1950 Paul M. Hohenberg, Lynn Hollen Lees, 1985

Individuals, Families, and Communities in Europe, 1200-1800 Katherine A.

Lynch,2003-08-21 A study of the family s function in western society from 1200 1800 first published in 2003 Change and Stability in Urban Europe Gertrud Jorgensen,Wim Ostendorf,2017-09-29 This title was first published in 2001 Significant transformations in the spatial organization of European cities have taken place over the past two decades Social fragmentation increasingly complex systems of governance the transformation of relations to public space and the shift of work from the industrial to the communications sectors have placed increasing importance on a city s position in terms of the global network This book brings together an interdisciplinary team of European experts to discuss how these transformations have forced a radical reconsideration of the traditional definitions of the city Comparing a wide range of European cities the book highlights the diversity of urban forms and tackles the questions regarding the quality of life in new urban spaces The result is a comprehensive and incisive examination of the capacity of urban policies to evoke real changes in the city and to regenerate the systems of urban governance Urban Societies in East-Central Europe, 1500-1700 Jaroslav Miller,2016-02-11 Whilst much has been written about early modern urban history the majority of this work has focussed on Western Europe with relatively little available in English on towns and cities in the former communist East However in recent years urban scholars have increasingly looked to a much more inclusive picture of Europe that compares and contrasts development across the whole continent Dealing primarily with Bohemia Hungary and the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth this book provides an insight into a number of key issues concerning the economic social and demographic trends in early modern East Central European urban history Taking a supra national perspective across a long time span it examines the effects of migration Reformation state building and economic change on the transformation of medieval urban communities into early modern societies Drawing on a wealth of primary sources particularly the registers of new citizens kept by many towns and cities a fascinating picture of urban development and social structure is reconstructed that not only tells us much about East Central Europe but adds to our knowledge of the whole continent Urban Decline in Early Modern Germany Terence McIntosh,1997 During the Middle Ages southwest Germany was one of the most prosperous areas of central Europe but the Thirty Years War brought devastating social and economic dislocation to the region Focusing on the town of Schw bisch Hall Terence McIntosh explor Handbook of Cliometrics Claude Diebolt,Michael Hauptert,2024-05-22 This handbook is a milestone in the field of historical economics and econometric history through its emphasis on the concrete contribution of cliometrics to our knowledge in economics and history The articles in the handbook authored by the leading scholars in the fields stress the usefulness of cliometrics for economists historians and social scientists in general The handbook offers a comprehensive coverage of topics with each article providing an overview of the contributions of cliometrics to a particular topic The handbook has set a new standard of quality in the field by offering a world wide forum of discussion in cliometrics This updated and extended third edition of the handbook of cliometrics offers a substantially enlarged collection of articles and thus stresses its unique position as authoritative reference work in this field

Jews and the Renaissance of Synagogue Architecture, 1450-1730 Barry L. Stiefel, 2015-10-06 Before the mid fifteenth century the Christian and Islamic governments of Europe had restricted the architecture and design of synagogues and often prevented Jews from becoming architects Stiefel presents a study of the material culture and religious architecture that this era produced

Demographic Dynamics and Development Yves Charbit, 2022-03-15 One of the major challenges facing the world today is the interaction between demographic change and development Demographic Dynamics and Development reviews the dominant demographic theory demographic transition and then presents a thorough investigation covering aging fertility contraception nuptiality mortality and migration which are all aspects that drive these changes Each chapter combines the latest empirical data with theoretical reflections on the implications for development This book thus offers an overview of worldwide demographic data studied with a view towards development In doing so it provides researchers and specialists with clear information through in depth case studies focusing on a country a region or a particularly important scientific sub theme

High Germans in the Low Countries Donald Harreld, 2004-11-01 This volume looks at the South German merchant community during Antwerp's Golden Age by examining German involvement in the social life of the city as well as by tracing merchants commercial activities The first section of the book considers the institutions of trade and the role Germans played in their development and how Germans interacted with other foreign merchant communities The second section takes a wider view by tracing the commercial networks that South German merchants operated in and by quantifying South German participation in Antwerp's foreign trade

The Cambridge World History: Volume 7, Production, Destruction and Connection, 1750-Present, Part 2, Shared Transformations? J. R. McNeill, Kenneth Pomeranz, 2015-04-16 Since 1750 the world has become ever more connected with processes of production and destruction no longer limited by land or water based modes of transport and communication Volume 7 of the Cambridge World History series divided into two books offers a variety of angles of vision on the increasingly interconnected history of humankind The second book questions the extent to which the transformations of the modern world have been shared focusing on social developments such as urbanization migration and changes in family and sexuality cultural connections through religion science music and sport ligaments of globalization including rubber drugs and the automobile and moments of particular importance from the Atlantic Revolutions to 1989

Travelling Notions of Culture in Early Nineteenth-Century Europe Hannu Salmi, Asko Nivala, Jukka Sarjala, 2015-10-23 The notions of culture and civilization are at the heart of European self image This book focuses on how space and spatiality contributed to defining the concepts of culture and civilization and conversely what kind of spatial ramifications culture and civilization entailed These questions have vital importance to the understanding of this formative period of modern Europe The chapters of this volume concentrate on the following themes What were the sites of culture civilization and Bildung and how were these sites employed in defining these concepts What kind of borders did this process of definition and its inherent spatial imagination produce What were the connecting routes between the supposed centers and peripheries What were the strategies of envisioning negotiating and transforming cultural territories in early nineteenth century Europe This book adds new perspectives on ways of approaching spatiality in history by investigating for example the decisive role of the French revolution the persistent interest in classical civilization and its sites emerging urbanism and the culture of the cities the changing constellations between centers and peripheries and the colonial extensions or transfigurations of culture It also pays attention to the spatiality of culture as a metaphor but simultaneously emphasizes the production of space in an era of technological innovation and change

Small Towns in Early Modern Europe Peter Clark, 2002-05-09 Despite the great wave of publications on European cities and towns in the pre industrial period little has been written about the thousands of small towns which played a key role in the economic social and cultural life of early modern Europe This collection written by leading experts redresses that imbalance It provides the first comparative overview of European small towns from the fifteenth to the early nineteenth century examining their position in the urban hierarchy demographic structures economic trends relations with the countryside and political and cultural developments Case studies discuss networks in all the major European countries as well as looking at the distinctive world of small towns in the more peripheral countries of Scandinavia and central Europe A wide ranging editorial introduction puts individual chapters in historical perspective

The EU and Neighbors Brian W. Blouet, 2018-02-13 TRY FREE for 14 days OR RENT this title www.wileystudentchoice.com Europe is the second smallest of the continents yet it is the third most populated and its rich history has played out on the world's maps for centuries. The region's borders have undergone near continuous evolution through the rise and fall of nations, rebellions and civilizations, and the paths these borders take have repercussions around the globe. This book presents a systematic survey of Europe and individual country by country coverage based on the most current data. From the core of the European Union to the lesser known corners of the continent, this book provides in depth examination of the physical, cultural, economic and political geography of this powerful region. Fresh perspective sheds new light on recent events including Brexit, Russia's takeover of Crimea, terrorist attacks in France and the EU's newest members while the European Union's future is explored in light of the possible loss of the region's second largest economy. With deep insight into each nation and its relationship to the region, this book offers a uniquely intimate look at the various dynamics shaping Europe today.

Communities and Conflict in Early Modern Colmar Peter George Wallace, 1995. From 1575 to 1730 the citizens of the Alsatian Imperial city of Colmar were divided between Protestant and Catholic communities, plagued by chronic warfare and ultimately subjugated by the kingdom of France. Drawing on a rich collection of serial archival sources, Wallace reconstructs the collective biography of 6,700 civic officials, merchants, artisans and agricultural workers in order to examine the local impact of confessionalization in a religiously mixed town, the effect of warfare on the economic interdependence of town and country and the tensions between French absolutism and traditional civic political culture. Economic historians, scholars of the Reformation and students of French and German history will find many valuable insights in this multifaceted analysis.

European Migrants Dirk Hoerder, Leslie Page Moch, 1996. Includes statistics. Crime, Gender and Social Control in Early Modern Frankfurt am Main Jeannette Kamp, 2019-12-09. This book charts the lives of suspected thieves, illegitimate mothers and vagrants in early modern Frankfurt. The book highlights the gender differences in recorded criminality and the way that they were shaped by the local context. Women played a prominent role in recorded crime in this period and could even make up half of all defendants in specific European cities. At the same time, there were also large regional differences. Women's crime patterns in Frankfurt were both similar and different to those of other cities. Informal control within the household played a significant role and influenced the prosecution patterns of authorities. This impacted men and women differently and created clear distinctions within the system between settled locals and unsettled migrants.

Migrants and Urban Change Anne Winter, 2015-09-30. Taking the Belgian city of Antwerp as a case study, this book argues that the direction of nineteenth century societal change was such as to make some groups of people better suited to reap the benefits of new opportunities.
