Making Of Education Policy In South Africa:

Implementing Education Policies Jonathan D. Jansen, Yusuf Sayed, 2001 For the first time in South Africa a critical dialogue has been recorded between government policy makers and academic researchers on the subject of education policy and practice Implementing education policies attends to problems politics and possibilities of implementing the policy goals of the first post apartheid government established in 1994 The value of this book lies in several insider accounts of the policy process told through the voices of the legislators politicians and bureaucrats concerned with steering national value commitments through the education system Running parallel to these practitioner accounts lie a number of critical analyses of the technical capabilities and political designs that explain the trajectory of education reform in the 1990s The dialogue brings together in a developing country context different experiences and analyses of one of the most intractable problems facing all national education systems the persistent gap between policy ideals and practical realities This volume is essential reading for all academics and students of education at higher education institutions as well as teachers researchers and policy makers

The Making of Education Policy in South Africa Kenneth Brown Hartshorne, 1999 This book is a history of the state's role in education in South Africa up to the 1990s concentrating on the bureaucratic machinery of the 1980s It demonstrates the persistence of the legacy of apartheid and the challenges facing a non racial education system

The Changing Landscape of Education in Africa David Johnson, 2008-05-12 It is over 40 years since Coombs 1967 first drew attention to the World Education Crisis and specifically problems in the educational systems of countries in the developing world Today many of these problems remain and are most visible in the educational systems of countries in sub Saharan Africa A large number of children remain out of school and for those who do enrol less than half complete the primary education cycle More worrying is the fact that those who do complete primary schooling leave with unacceptably low levels of knowledge and skills The problems of access to education and the quality of learning opportunities and learning outcomes are unevenly spread between rural and urban areas better and worse off constituencies and between boys and girls This raises questions about the nature of the state and its commitment to equality and equity for all The chapters in this volume argue that quality equity and democratic accountability are inseparable objectives in the quest to strengthen and improve educational systems in the developing world Between them they highlight the specific problems of quality equity and democratic accountability in a number of African educational systems and provide useful insights into ongoing work by national governments and international donor agencies to remedy these shortcomings

Strategic Environmental Assessment for Policies Kulsum Ahmed, Ernesto Sanchez-Triana, 2008-04-30 Environmentally and socially sustainable policies are essential for good governance Strategic Environmental Assessment SEA is the key tool for integrating environmental considerations into policies programs and plans This book focuses on SEA applied to policies Through lessons learned from previous use of SEA on policies it draws lessons on the strengths and weaknesses of current SEA methodology

It then goes on to analyze how policies are formulated and implemented and proposes a new conceptual framework for conducting SEA of policies that potentially could be more useful in influencing decision makers to integrate environmental sustainability considerations into policy formulation and implementation

The Global Politics of Educational Borrowing and Lending Gita Steiner-Khamsi, 2004-10-14 The globalization of educational policy has become a popular if not ubiquitous phenomenon among educational policymakers across the world. It has led many observers to conclude that educational systems in different parts of the world are converging towards one international neo liberal model of school reform. This practice of borrowing and lending school reforms requires a serious examination of the politics and the economics of transnational educational transfer. In this volume Steiner Khamsi and her colleagues provide an in depth empirical and critical examination of the practice of global educational policy. Contributors question the value of importing and exporting educational policies, analyze who benefits from these arrangements and test the effectiveness of adapting one country's policies in other often quite culturally distinct countries. The book investigates how global policies have been implemented locally and examines the extent to which they work in diverse locales. Steiner Khamsi and her colleagues also examine the role and practices of non governmental organizations, NGOs, multilateral organizations and the World Bank in fostering how educational policies are disseminated and adapted across national and cultural boundaries.

Handbook on Globalization and Higher Education Roger King, Simon Marginson, Rajani Naidoo, 2011 The Handbook constitutes an essential reference source for everyone interested in studying the current meaning, scope and implications of globalization. Strongly recommended. Higher Education Review. Higher education has entered centre stage in the context of the knowledge economy and has been deployed in the search for economic competitiveness and social development. Against this backdrop, this highly illuminating Handbook explores worldwide convergences and divergences in national higher education systems resulting from increased global co operation and competition. The expert contributors reveal the strategies, practices and governance mechanisms developed by international and regional organizations, national governments and by higher education institutions themselves. They analyse local responses to dominant global templates of higher education and the consequences for knowledge generation, social equity, economic development and the public good. This comprehensive and accessible Handbook will prove an invaluable reference tool for researchers, academics and students with an interest in higher education from economics, international studies and public policy perspectives as well as for higher education policymakers and funding and governance bodies.

Shaping the Future of South Africa's Youth Helene Perold, Nico Cloete, Joy Papier, 2012 Why solving ongoing problems with the NQF National Qualifications Framework matters. The challenges unemployment imposes on youth. The challenge of youth to work transitions: an international perspective. A statistical overview of further education and training colleges. Strengthening the capacity of FET Colleges to meet the needs of young people. Higher education and an expanded post school educational system. Trends in training in South Africa. Key issues in the assessment of South Africa's national skills development strategy Opening the doors of learning Viewing the post school education and training landscape from a youth perspective Cross-nationally Comparative, Evidence-based Educational Policymaking and Reform Alexander W. Wiseman, Petrina M. Davidson, 2018-06-29 In this volume scholars and policymakers examine how large scale assessments and quantitative data are used to inform policy making at all levels of education worldwide and how data can be used to better understand specific national and regional educational challenges

Progress in Education R. Nata, 2002 This series presents substantial results from around the globe in selected areas of educational research The field of education is consistently on the top of priority lists of every country in the world yet few educators are aware of the progress elsewhere Many techniques programs and methods are directly applicable across borders This series attempts to shed light on successes wherever they may occur in the hope that many wheels need not be reinvented again and again Global Education Policy and International Development Antoni Verger, Hulya K. Altinyelken, Mario Novelli, 2013-03-28 Exploring the interplay between globalization education and international development this book surveys the impact of global education policies on local policy in developing countries With chapters written by leading international scholars drawing on a full range of theoretical perspectives and offering a diverse selection of case studies from Africa Asia and South America this book considers such topics as How are global education agendas and policies formed and implemented What is the impact of such policy priorities as public private partnerships child centred pedagogies and school based management What are the effects of political and economic globalization on educational reform and change How do mediating institutions affect the translation of global policies to particular educational contexts What are the limitations of globalised policy solutions and what problems do they encounter at local levels From students of education development and globalization to practitioners working in developing contexts this book is an important resource for those seeking to understand how global forces and local realities meet to shape education policy in the developing world
