Crossing Literacy Bridges Jennifer Tuten, Deborah Ann Jensen, Charlene Klassen Endrizzi, 2018-09-30 It has been well established that schools and families must work together to ensure academic and literacy success for all children Educators understand the importance of creating a learning connection between families and schools Families provide teachers with increased knowledge of students Teachers also recognize the importance of building on the learning events occurring in students homes and communities However in practice partnerships are not easily established Often teachers are not prepared to effectively reach out to families nor are families and schools prepared to effectively work together There are many constraints in forming home school partnerships and the added challenges of creating partnerships with families of children struggling with literacy development are even more difficult Often teachers and families find themselves on opposite sides facing similar challenges looking for a way to connect Families of children struggling to acquire literacy skills are often faced with many challenges other families never experience For teachers trying to reach out to these families and form partnerships is equally challenging Bridges enable connections to be made between people and ideas and allow passage from one side to another This book describes five principles to guide teachers in working with families of struggling readers With examples from the field tools to put into practice and extensive resources lists teachers will expand their understanding of family engagement This book is an important resource for pre service and in service teachers who are eager to engage more sensitively and effectively with families particularly those whose children have struggled with literacy

Another Encyclopedia of Theme Activities for Young Children Stephanie Roselli,Kathy Charner,Brittany Roberts,2012 Provides over three hundred activities for young children both in and out of the classroom organized thematically and includes such themes as building and construction health and nutrition and science and nature

Promoting Social Justice for Young Children Beatrice S. Fennimore,A. Lin Goodwin,2011-04-05 This book explores important current social justice issues that confront young children in America A broad range of topics related to the fair treatment of young children and their families are approached with a fresh and hopeful energy The central argument of this volume is that a fair and just society must protect the basic needs of all children so they are able to reach their full potential to learn grow and ultimately become productive democratic citizens The book includes contributions from an impressive group of authors who have been consistent voices for the fair and equitable treatment of children in school and society Each chapter examines a critical issue in child social justice with a focus on the current problem historical importance of the issue potential solutions and a vision for the future The book has been developed to reach a wide audience of professionals whose work involves children and who have grown concerned about social forces that cause child suffering and threaten the well being or even the survival of children in the United States Readers will come away with up to date information and a renewed commitment to being life long advocates for children

Immigration and Children's Literature Wilma Robles-Melendez,Audrey Henry,2023-06-29 This book explores the issues faced by immigrant children through the lens of children s literature The authors employ the UN convention of the Rights of the Child the lens of equity and Freire s principles of critical consciousness as a framework for analysing children s literature and immigration They focus on circumstances and experiences of immigration from the perspective of young children who are leaving their homelands and growing up as immigrants The book focuses primarily on children from birth to 8 years old but with crossover and implications for older children The chapters reveal the social economic and political issues faced by child immigrants refugees and asylees throughout the global context viewed through and alongside children s literature The book provides suggestions for the implementation of children s literature in the curriculum and provides tools for educators and researchers working with immigrant and refugee children showing how they can better understand their students and families A variety of children s literature is covered including analysis of works by Jairo Buitrago Yanksook Choi Sandra leGuen Rosemary McCartney Bao Phi and Jeanette Winter
