Natural Energy and Vernacular Architecture Hassan Fathy, 1986 The culmination of a lifetime s design practice and environmental study Natural Energy and Vernacular Architecture presents a master architects extraordinary insights into the vernacular wisdom of indigenous architectural forms that have evolved in hot arid climates Natural Energy and Vernacular Architecture Hasan Fathi, United Nations University, 1986

Sustainable Vernacular Architecture Ali Sayigh, 2019-03-29 This book discusses applying vernacular strategies to modern architectural design to adhere to basic green principles of energy efficiency and materials utilization Written from an international perspective chapters present the perspectives and experiences of architects and engineers from across the globe Historically successful approaches are integrated with modern design concepts to create novel sustainable and resource conscious solutions The scope of topics covered include natural ventilation cooling and heating daylight and shading devices and green micro climate and functional facades making this a useful reference for a wide range of researchers and workers in the built environment Covers the most up to date research developments best practices and innovations from countries all over the globe Presents the latest research in vernacular architecture and sustainable building Contains case studies and examples to enhance practical application of the technologies presented

Persian Vernacular Architecture Ali Cheshmehzangi, Sue Roaf, 2025-02-14 This timely book aims to address a significant challenge in contemporary design and architecture i e to learn from the vernacular Vernacular architecture refers to traditional and indigenous building styles that have evolved in response to local climate materials and cultural practices These styles often embody extreme design principles as they support life without relying on modern mechanical systems for heating and cooling The core premise of the book is that these time tested design solutions offer valuable lessons for real sustainable and climate resilient architecture today We strongly urge a return to the vernacular as a source of inspiration and knowledge Hence a genuine dedication to dedicated Ostads or master builders of Iran who have contributed extensively to making and co creating climate resilient architecture and climate sensitive design This is more than just a box ticking sustainability exercise and delves more deeply into the building performance and its impact on our everyday life our health and wellbeing and us as human beings The book posits that contemporary architects and designers can learn valuable lessons by studying the adaptive strategies and sustainable practices embedded in the traditional vernacular architecture of Iran These lessons are crucial for addressing modern challenges such as climate change resource scarcity and the need for energy efficient buildings By revisiting and analysing vernacular architecture the book aims to bridge the gap between traditional knowledge and contemporary design practices It provides a comprehensive exploration of how vernacular principles can be integrated into modern architectural education and practice The goal is not only to preserve traditional wisdom but also to innovate upon it creating buildings that are both culturally relevant and environmentally sustainable The contributing case study chapters of the book include an excellent range of practical recommendations for architects researchers and policymakers By fostering a deeper understanding of vernacular architecture the book seeks to inspire a new generation of architects to create buildings that are harmonious with their environment and resilient to future challenges Through this approach we believe lessons from vernacular buildings ought to offer the promise of reintegrating real Resilience into the design of the next generation of buildings Vernacular Heritage and Earthen Architecture Mariana Correia,Gilberto Carlos,Sandra Rocha,2013-10-04 In a continuously changing world there has been a growing interest in the protection of vernacular heritage and earthen architecture The need to protect and enhance this fragile heritage via intelligent responses to threats from nature and the environment has become evident Historically vernacular heritage research focussed on philosophical aspe The Architecture of Natural Cooling Brian Ford,Rosa Schiano-Phan,Juan A. Vallejo,2019-11-15 Overheating in buildings is commonplace This book describes how we can keep cool without conventional air conditioning improving comfort and productivity while reducing energy costs and carbon emissions It provides architects engineers and policy makers with a how to guide to the application of natural cooling in new and existing buildings It demonstrates through reference to numerous examples that natural cooling is viable in most climates around the world This completely revised and expanded second edition includes An overview of natural cooling past and present Guidance on the principles and strategies that can be adopted A review of the applicability of different strategies Explanation of simplified tools for performance assessment A review of components and controls A detailed evaluation of case studies from the USA Europe India and China This book is not just for the technical specialist as it also provides a general grounding in how to avoid or minimise air conditioning Importantly it demonstrates that understanding our environment rather than fighting it will help us to live sustainably in our rapidly warming world Vernacular and Earthen Architecture: Conservation and Sustainability Camilla Mileto,Fernando Vegas López-Manzanares,Lidia García-Soriano,Valentina Cristini,2017-09-01 Vernacular architecture in general and earthen architecture in particular with their rich variety of forms worldwide are custodians of the material culture and identity of the peoples who built them In addition they are widely recognized as ancestral examples of sustainability in all their variants and interpretations and the architecture of the present ought to learn from these when designing the sustainable architecture of the future The conservation of these architectures seemingly simple yet full of wisdom is to be undertaken now given their intrinsic value and their status as genuine examples of sustainability to be learnt from and interpreted in contemporary architecture Vernacular and earthen architecture Conservation and Sustainability will be a valuable source of information for academics and professionals in the fields of Environmental Science Civil Engineering Construction and Building Engineering and Architecture Thermal Comfort in Hot Dry Climates Ahmadreza Foruzanmehr,2017-09-14 With increases in global temperatures the risk of overheating is expected to rise around the world This results in a much higher dependency upon energy intensive cooling systems and air conditioners to provide thermal comfort but how sustainable is this in a world where problems with the production of electricity are predicted Vernacular houses in hot and dry central Iran have been adapted to the climate through passive cooling techniques and this book provides a valuable assessment of the thermal performance of such housing Shedding new light on the ability of traditional housing forms to provide thermal comfort Thermal Comfort in Hot Dry Climates identifies the main cooling systems and methods in traditional houses in central Iran and examines how architectural elements such as central courtyards distinct seasonal rooms loggias basements and wind catchers can contribute to the provision of thermal comfort in vernacular houses

Design for Resilient Communities Anna Rubbo, Juan Du, Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen, Martin Tamke, 2023-09-19 The book provides new perspectives from leading researchers accentuating and examining the central role of the built environment in conceiving and implementing multifaceted solutions for the complex challenges of creating resilient communities revealing critical potentials for architecture and design to contribute in more informed and long term ways to the urgent transition of our society The volume offers a compilation of peer reviewed papers that uniquely connects knowledge and criticality broadly across practice and academia from new technologies theories and methods to community engaged practice on many scales and more The book is part of a series of six volumes that explore the agency of the built environment in relation to the SDGs through new research conducted by leading researchers The series is led by editors Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen and Martin Tamke in collaboration with the theme editors Design for Climate Adaptation Billie Faircloth and Maibritt Pedersen Zari Design for Rethinking Resources Carlo Ratti and Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen Eds Design for Resilient Communities Anna Rubbo and Juan Du Eds Design for Health Arif Hasan and Christian Benimana Eds Design for Inclusivity Magda Mostafa and Ruth Baumeister Eds Design for Partnerships for Change Sandi Hilal and Merve Bedir Eds

to the latest construction standards and new building types Sustainable design integrated into chapters throughout Over half of the entire book has now been updated since 2015 Over 100 000 copies sold to successive generations of architects and designers This book belongs in every design office The Metric Handbook is the major handbook of planning and design data for architects and architecture students Covering basic design data for all the major building types it is the ideal starting point for any project For each building type the book gives the basic design requirements and all the principal dimensional data and succinct guidance on how to use the information and what regulations the designer needs to be aware of As well as buildings the Metric Handbook deals with broader aspects of design such as materials acoustics and lighting and general design data on human dimensions and space requirements The Metric Handbook is the unique reference for solving everyday planning problems

Green Asia Tania Lewis,2016-09-13 Economic development in Asia is associated with expanding urbanism overconsumption and a steep growth in living standards At the same time rapid urbanisation changing class consciousness and a new rural urban divide in the region have led to fundamental shifts in the way ecological concerns are articulated politically and culturally Moreover these changes are often viewed through a Western moralistic lens which at the same time applauds Asia s economic growth as the welcome reviver of a floundering world economy and simultaneously condemns this growth as encouraging hyperconsumerism and a rupture with more natural ways of living This book presents an analysis of a range of practices and activities from across Asia that demonstrate that people in Asia are alert to ecological concerns that they are taking action to implement new styles of green living and that Asia offers interesting alternatives to narrow Anglo American models of sustainable living Subjects explored include eco tourism in the Philippines green co operatives in Korea the importance of tradition within Asian discourses of sustainability and much more

Architecture and Anthropology Adam Jasper,2020-05-21 Both architecture and anthropology emerged as autonomous theoretical disciplines in the 18th century enlightenment Throughout the 19th century the fields shared a common icon the primitive hut and a common concern with both routine needs and ceremonial behaviours Both could lay strong claims to a special knowledge of the everyday And yet in the 20th century notwithstanding genre classics such as Bernard Rudofsky's Architecture without Architects or Paul Oliver's Shelter and various attempts to make architecture anthropocentric such as Corbusier's Modulor disciplinary exchanges between architecture and anthropology were often disappointingly slight This book attempts to locate the various points of departure that might be taken in a contemporary discussion between architecture and anthropology The results are radical post colonial theory is here counterpoised to 19th century theories of primitivism archaeology is set against dentistry fieldwork is juxtaposed against indigenous critique and climate science is applied to questions of shelter This publication will be of interest to both architects and anthropologists The chapters in this book were originally published within two special issues of Architectural Theory Review      Sacred Precincts Mohammad Gharipour, 2014-11-10 This book examines non Muslim religious sites structures and spaces in the Islamic world It reveals a vibrant portrait of life in the religious sites by illustrating how architecture responds to contextual issues and traditions Sacred Precincts explores urban context issues of identity design construction transformation and the history of sacred sites and architecture in Europe the Middle East and Africa from the advent of Islam to the 20th century It includes case studies on churches and synagogues in Iran Turkey Cyprus Egypt Iraq Tunisia Morocco and Malta and on sacred sites in Nigeria Mali and the Gambia With contributions by Clara Alvarez Angela Andersen Karen Britt Karla Britton Jorge Manuel Sim o Alves Correia Elvan Cobb Daniel Coslett Mohammad Gharipour Mattia Guidetti Suna G ven Esther K hn Amy Landau Ayla Lepine Theo Maarten van Lint David Mallia Erin Maglaque Susan Miller A A Muhammad Oumar Meltem zkan Alt n z Jennifer Pruitt Rafael Sedighpour Ann Shafer Jorge Manuel Sim o Alves Correia Ebru zeke T kmeci Steven Thomson Heghnar Watenpaugh Alyson Wharton and Ethel S Wolper      Architecture in Context Hassan Radoine, 2017-07-05 Architecture in Context Designing in the Middle East provides a foundation for understanding the critical context of architecture and design in this region It does this by presenting a practical overview of architectural know how in the Middle East and its potential for cultivating a sense of place introducing local architectural vocabularies and styles and how they can still be reactivated in contemporary design exploring the cultural and contextual meaning of forms as references that may influence contemporary architecture discussing important discourses and trends in architecture that allow a rethinking of the current global local dichotomy Highly illustrated the book covers architecture and design in North Africa the Levant the Gulf and Turkey Iran and Iraq      Situate, Manipulate, Fabricate Chad Schwartz, 2020-08-25 This anthology of selected works outlines three critical instigators of architecture all tied directly to the tectonic makeup of our built environment place material and assembly These catalysts provide the organizational framework for a collection of essays discussing their significant influence on the processes of architectural design and construction With content from a diverse collection of notable architects historians and scholars this book serves as a theoretical structure for understanding the tectonic potential of architecture Each chapter is thematically driven consisting of a pair of essays preceded by an introduction highlighting the fundamental issues at hand and comparing and contrasting the points of view presented Situate Manipulate Fabricate offers an opportunity to explore the essential topics that affect the design and construction as well as the experiential qualities of our built environment

The Environments of Architecture Randall Thomas,Trevor Garnham,2007 This well illustrated think piece provides a much needed and topical philosophical introduction to the place of environmental design in architecture Written by highly respected authors this is an excellent guide for practitioners students and academics The Architecture of Disability

David Gissen,2023-01-24 A radical critique of architecture that places disability at the heart of the built environment Disability critiques of architecture usually emphasize the need for modification and increased access but The Architecture of Disability calls for a radical reorientation of this perspective by situating experiences of impairment as a new foundation for the built environment With its provocative proposal for the construction of disability this book fundamentally reconsiders how we conceive of and experience disability in our world Stressing the connection between architectural form and the capacities of the human body David Gissen demonstrates how disability haunts the history and practice of architecture Examining various historic sites landscape designs and urban spaces he deconstructs the prevailing functionalist approach to accommodating disabled people in architecture and instead asserts that physical capacity is essential to the conception of all designed space By recontextualizing the history of architecture through the discourse of disability The Architecture of Disability presents a unique challenge to current modes of architectural practice theory and education Envisioning an architectural design that fully integrates disabled persons into its production it advocates for looking beyond traditional notions of accessibility and shows how certain incapacities can offer us the means to positively reimagine the roots of architecture Structural Analysis of Historical Constructions: Anamnesis, Diagnosis, Therapy, Controls Koen Van Balen,Els
