Nine Australian Progressives Vitalism In Bourgeois Social Thought:

Nine Australian Progressives Michael Roe,1984 Strong, Beautiful and Modern Charlotte Macdonald,2013-01-01 In the late 1930s and early 1940s a wave of state sponsored national fitness programs swept Britain and its former settler colonies In Strong Beautiful and Modern Charlotte Macdonald shows how governments encouraged citizens to be healthier and more active thereby reinforcing the cultural ties of the Empire At a time when government concern over public health issues such as obesity are once again on the rise Macdonald explains why the first national fitness drive ultimately failed This book is a lively investigation into how people and governments think about their health and well being and how those historical views have shaped our modern life Archibald Liversidge, FRS Roy M. MacLeod,2009 When Archibald Liversidge first arrived at Sydney University in 1872 as reader in Geology and Assistant in the Laboratory he had about ten students and two rooms in the main building In 1874 he became professor of geology and mineralogy and by 1879 he had persuaded the senate to open a faculty of science He became its first dean in 1882 In 1880 he visited Europe as a trustee of the Australian Museum and his report helped to establish the Industrial Technological and Sanitary Museum which formed the basis of the present Powerhouse Museum s collection Liversidge also played a major role in the setting up of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science which held its first congress in 1888 For anyone interested in Archibald Liversidge his contribution to crystallography mineral chemistry chemical geology strategic minerals policy and a wider field of colonial science A Concise History of Australia Stuart Macintyre,2015-10-09 Australia is the last continent to be settled by Europeans but it also sustains a people and a culture tens of thousands years old For much of the past 225 years the newcomers have sought to replace the old with the new This book tells how they imposed themselves on the land and describes how they brought technology institutions and ideas to make it their own The fourth edition incorporates the far reaching effects of an export and investment boom in the early years of the twenty first century that lifted Australia to unprecedented prosperity The sale of minerals and energy enabled the economy to withstand the global financial crisis of 2007 08 but there was no agreement on how the wealth was to be managed and its benefits distributed The book describes a continuing search for solutions to climate change the unauthorised arrival of refugees Indigenous disadvantage and generational change Women in Higher Education, 1850-1970 E. Lisa Panayotidis,Paul Stortz,2017-09-19 This edited collection illustrates the way in which women s experiences of academe could be both contextually diverse but historically and culturally similar It looks at both the micro individual women and universities and macro level comparative analyses among regions and countries within regional national trans national and international contexts The contributors integrally advance knowledge about the university in history by exploring the intersections of the lived experiences of women students and professors practices of co education and intellectual and academic cultures They also raise important questions about the complementary and multidirectional flow and exchange of academic knowledge and information among gender groups across programmes disciplines and universities Historical inquiry and interpretation serve as efficacious ways with which to understand contemporary events and discourses in higher education and more broadly in community and society This book will provide important historical contexts for current debates about the numerical dominance and significance of women in higher education and the tensions embedded in the gendering of specific academic programs and disciplines and university policies missions and mandates

The Museum Movement Ian

McShane, 2025-03-04 The Museum Movement provides the first systematic overview of the museum movement of the early twentieth century which encouraged museums to play a greater role in education and civic uplift Highlighting the key role played by the Carnegie Corporation in guiding museum development in the late colonial period this book shows that the movement was strongly influenced by the racial politics of the period and that its focus on local histories and civic engagement sought to boost the historical legitimacy and continued vitality of small towns and their dominant white populations Demonstrating that the museum movement placed new emphasis on the importance of professionalisation interpretation and audience engagement McShane shows how by the late 1930s the movement had helped lay the foundations of museology This book also constructs a genealogy of the new museology the next wave of museum reform that emerged in the 1970s by reflecting critically on the newness of some of its ideas Indicating that new thinking about audience display media and the economics of culture has a longer history this book also provides historical perspectives on current interests in informal and social learning the formation of museum publics and institutional convergence The Museum Movement explores the intersections and crosscurrents of modernism and settler colonialism and will thus appeal to academics and students with an interest in museum studies heritage history colonial studies and race

First World War, the Universities and the Professions in Australia 1914-1939 Kate Darian-Smith, James Waghorne, 2019-02-19 Australia's extraordinary contribution to World War I extended well beyond its military forces to the expertise of its universities and professional men and women Scientists and engineers oversaw the manufacture of munitions and the development of chemical weapons Doctors sustained soldiers in the trenches and treated the physically and psychologically damaged Public servants lawyers and translators were employed in the war bureaucracy while artists and writers found new modes to convey the trauma of war The graduates and staff of Australia's six universities Sydney Melbourne Adelaide Tasmania Queensland and Western Australia and Queensland were involved in this expansion of expertise But what did these men and women do after the guns were silenced How were the professions and universities transformed by the immediate and longer term impacts of the war The First World War the Universities and the Professions examines how the technical and conceptual advances that occurred during World War I transformed Australian society It traces the evolving role of universities and their graduates in the 1920s and 1930s the increasing government validation of research the expansion of the public service and the rise of modern professional associations and international networks While the war contributed to greater specialisations in traditional professions such as teaching or medicine it also stimulated new jobs and training whether in economics anthropology or graphic art This volume provides a new account of the interwar years that places knowledge and expertise at the heart of the Australian story Its four sections The Medical Sciences Science and Technology Humanities Social Sciences and Teaching and The Arts Design Music and Writing highlight how World War I disrupted and shaped the careers of individuals as well as the development of Australian society and institutions

Fears and Fantasies Kate Murphy, 2010 Fears and Fantasies Modernity Gender and the Rural Urban Divide explores the ways in which fantasies about returning to or revitalising rural life helped to define Western modernity in the early twentieth century Scholarship addressing responses to modernity has focused on urban space and fears about the effects of city life few studies have considered the rural to be as critical as the urban in understanding modernity This book argues that the rural is just as significant a reference point as the urban in discourses about modernity Using a rich Australian case study to illuminate broader international themes it focuses on the role of gender in ideas about the rural urban divide showing how the country was held up against the unnatural city as a space in which men were more masculine and women more feminine Fears and Fantasies is an innovative and important contribution to scholarship in the fields of history and gender studies

"Red Ted" Ross Fitzgerald, 1994 E G Theodore one of Australia's most enterprising and unusual political figures was Treasurer and Premier of Queensland and later Federal Treasurer and Deputy Prime Minister of Australia in the Scullin Labor government

'Now is the Psychological Moment' Stephen Wilks, 2020-10-12 Earle Christmas Grafton Page 1880 1961 surgeon Country Party leader treasurer and prime minister was perhaps the most extraordinary visionary to hold high public office in twentieth century Australia Over decades he made determined efforts to seize the psychological moment and thereby realise his vision of a decentralised regionalised and rationally ordered nation Page's unique dreaming of a very different Australia encompassed new states hydroelectricity economic planning cooperative federalism and rural universities His story casts light on the wider place in history of visions of national development He was Australia's most important advocate of developmentalism the important yet little studied stream of thought that assumes that governments can lead the nation to realise its economic potential His audacious synthesis of ideas delineated and stretched the Australian political imagination Page's rich career confirms that Australia has long inspired popular ideals of national development but also suggests that their practical implementation was increasingly challenged during the twentieth century Effervescent intelligent and somewhat eccentric Page was one of Australia's great optimists Few Australian leaders who stood for so much have since been so neglected
