Personal Space The Behavioral Basis Of Design:

Personal Space Robert Sommer, 1969 A psychologist relates man's emotional needs and behavior to architectural and interior design
Personal Space Robert Sommer, 2007 Widely regarded as the classic text on user centered design of public buildings and spaces this book studies how people relate to the designed space around them and how the design of that space can affect their behavior Its contents are based on comprehensive academic research the conclusions it draws are highly applicable in real world projects and the style of presentation is lucid and interesting The author Robert Sommer deals with topics such as privacy spatial invasion small group ecology and looks at the role of design in settings that include airports stations hospitals and schools When it was first published this book went through 25 printings in English alone Although it was written when the study of behavior and design was just beginning to be appreciated the lessons are still deeply relevant for today's spatial designers and also important to the digital world in the design and analysis of shared digital spaces for co-operative work and multi-player games Robert Sommer writes with authority and clarity He has updated this new edition of his work with an introduction and detailed notes accompanying each chapter describing what has changed in the intervening years and what has remained the same Your book will now become a standard at our office as it gives us added insight in design work Charles W Pelly President of the Industrial Designers Society of America 1991-92

Visionaries and Planners Stanley Buder, 1990-07-26 For nearly a century the Garden City movement has represented one end of a continuum in an ongoing debate about the future of the modern city In 1898 Ebenezer Howard envisioned an experimental community as the alternative to huge teeming cities Small planned garden cities girdled by greenbelts were to serve in time as the master key to a higher more cooperative stage of civilization based on ecologically balanced communities Howard soon founded an international planning movement which ever since has represented a remarkable blend of accommodation to and protest against urban changes and the rise of the suburbs In this interconnected history of the Garden City movement in the United States and Britain Buder examines its influence strengths and limitations Howard's garden city he shows joined together two very different types of late nineteenth century experimental communities creating a tension never fully resolved One approach utopian and radical in nature challenged conventional values the other the model industrial towns of enlightened capitalists reinforced them Buder traces this tension through planning history from the nineteenth century world of visionaries philanthropy and self help into our own with its reliance on the expert bureaucracy and governmental policy shedding light on the complex changes in the way we have thought in the twentieth century about community urban design and indeed the process of change His final chapters examine the world wide enthusiasm for New Towns between 1945-1975 and recent political and social trends which challenge many fundamental assumptions of modern planning
New Handbook of Methods in Nonverbal Behavior Research Jinni Harrigan, Robert Rosenthal, Klaus Scherer, 2008-03-13 Now available in paperback the New Handbook of Methods in Nonverbal Behavior Research includes chapters on coding and methodological issues for a variety of areas in nonverbal behavior facial actions vocal behavior and body movement

Animated Lands Andrea Mubi Brighenti, Mattias Karrholm, 2020-11 In Animated Lands Andrea Mubi Brighenti and Mattias Karrholm focus on territory as a living phenomenon and territoriality as an active and constantly reshaping force They explore the complexity of territorial production through a series of parallel investigations into fundamental territorial themes such as rhythm synchronization melody morphogenesis and animism The notion of territory is excavated through case studies including the analysis of urban playgrounds homemaking the transformations of urban walls and the stabilization of peculiar building types such as the house museum These empirical examples span such cities as Ahmedabad Amsterdam London and Rome Animated Lands provides a broad introduction to what a theory of territories could be and how it could help to advance sociospatial studies

Total Landscape, Theme Parks, Public Space Miodrag Mitrasinovic, 2006 Placing theme parks from the United States Europe and Asia in a comparative multidisciplinary framework this fascinating book argues that these fantasy environments are an extreme example of the totalization of public space By illuminating the relationship between theme parks and public space the book offers an insight into the ethos design and expectations of public space in the twenty first century

Crowding and Behavior Chalsa M. Loo, 1974

Work Places Eric Sundstrom, Mary Graehl Sundstrom, 1986-02-28 Discusses the research and theory concerning the physical surroundings that affect people in offices and factories

The Interiors Theory Primer William Mangold, 2025-07-31 In a world where life is increasingly defined by the spaces we inhabit understanding interiors is essential to understanding ourselves The Interiors Theory Primer maps the intellectual terrain of interior design and spatial experience introducing readers to key concepts that shape how people occupy interior spaces Organized into three parts this book begins with foundational concerns such as place identity materiality and atmosphere and then examines the boundaries and expertise of the discipline before turning to critical and emerging topics like biophilia virtuality and social justice Each chapter presents a focused literature review of a major theme in interiors theory supported by key design precedents and suggestions for further reading Drawing on a wide range of scholarship The Interiors Theory Primer offers a coherent framework for understanding interiors as a distinct interdisciplinary field deeply embedded in the human condition Accessible to students useful to professionals and provocative for scholars The Interiors Theory Primer argues that the designed environments in which we live work and gather deserve greater attention not only for their aesthetic and functional qualities but also for their powerful role in shaping contemporary life

American Architects and the Single-Family Home Lisa M. Tucker, 2015-07-24 American Architects and the Single Family Home explains how a small group of architects started the Architects Small House Service Bureau in 1919 and changed the course of twentieth century residential design for the better Concepts and principles they developed related to public spaces private spaces and service spaces for living details about the books they published to promote good design as well as new essays from contemporary practitioners will inspire your own designs More than 200 black and white images

The Individual and Privacy Joseph A. Cannataci, 2016-12-05 The essays selected for this volume reflect the many paths followed to develop a new more robust methodology idMAPPING for investigating privacy Each article deals with the three dimensions of time space and place by addressing a number of questions such as who Which individual When How Is privacy viewed from the perspective of legal theory or of information science Or from the viewpoint of sociology social psychology philosophy information ethics or data protection law The reader is offered a multi disciplinary overview of the subject a mosaic made up of several snapshots taken at different times by different scholars with different points of view The detailed introduction increases clarity in parts of the picture where the way that the pieces fit together may not be immediately apparent and concludes by challenging internet era fallacies Taken together the articles demonstrate an innovative approach to evidence based policy making and show privacy scholarship at its best Bass & Stogdill's Handbook of Leadership Bernard M. Bass, Ralph Melvin Stogdill, 1990 For 15 years and through two editions this handbook has been indispensable for serious students of leadership Now in this third edition Bass introduces a decade of new findings on the newest theories and models of leadership With over 1 200 pages of essential information Bass Stogdill s Handbook of Leadership will continue to be the definitive resource for managers for years to come Neoliberalism on the Ground Kenny Cupers, Helena Mattsson, Catharina Gabrielsson, 2020-02-25 Architecture and urbanism have contributed to one of the most sweeping transformations of our times Over the past four decades neoliberalism has been not only a dominant paradigm in politics but a process of bricks and mortar in everyday life Rather than to ask what a neoliberal architecture looks like or how architecture represents neoliberalism this volume examines the multivalent role of architecture and urbanism in geographically variable yet interconnected processes of neoliberal transformation across scales from China Turkey South Africa Argentina Mexico the United States Britain Sweden and Czechoslovakia Analyzing how buildings and urban projects in different regions since the 1960s have served in the implementation of concrete policies such as privatization fiscal reform deregulation state restructuring and the expansion of free trade contributors reveal neoliberalism as a process marked by historical contingency Neoliberalism on the Ground fundamentally reframes accepted narratives of both neoliberalism and postmodernism by demonstrating how architecture has articulated changing relationships between state society and economy since the 1960s Transforming Public Space through Play Gregor Mews, 2022-04-21 This book provides an empirical analysis of the concept of play as a form of spatial practice in urban public spaces The introduced City Play Framework CPF is a practical urban analysis tool that allows urban designers landscape architects and researchers to develop a shared awareness when opening up this window of possibility for adventure Two case studies substantiate and illustrate the development process and testing of the framework in Canberra Australia and Potsdam Germany The appropriation of public spaces that transcend boundaries can facilitate an intrinsic connection between people and their immediate environment towards a more joyful ontological state of human existence in which imagination co creation and a sense of agency are key elements of the design approach The framework presents an alternative understanding of public spaces and public life reflecting on theory and its implications for practice in a post pandemic world in dense urban centres A bridge between theory and practice this book explores possibilities on what future design ought to be when openness and ambiguity are consciously integrated parts of practice and process The book presents a valuable discussion on public space and play for academic audiences across a wide range of disciplines such as landscape architecture urban design planning architecture and urban sociology which is informative for future practice

Emotional Expression G. Collier, Gary James Collier, 2014-01-14 First published in 1985 The purpose of this book is to draw together research on one aspect of verbal and nonverbal communication emotional expression The focus is on verbal and nonverbal behaviors associated with emotions A distinction is made between expressive behaviors that occur spontaneously during emotions often without a person's awareness or control and more deliberate forms of communication where the person manipulates verbal and nonverbal cues in order to create an impression The difference between expression and communication is introduced in Chapter 1 and developed throughout the book

Space Meets Status Jacqueline Vischer, 2007-05-07 Showing how worker productivity and stress levels are affected by factors such as lighting ventilation temperature noise and layout this book demonstrates how the technical aspects of human comfort do not always tally with users' perceptions and behaviour With vivid examples and case studies to illustrate how space is a corporate resource rather than simply overhead Vischer reveals how companies can improve their ability to make design decisions on how best to accommodate their employees in a high quality workspace

Place Advantage Sally Augustin, Neil Frankel, Cindy Coleman, 2015-09-23 Using psychology to develop spaces that enrich human experience Place design matters Everyone perceives the world around them in a slightly different way but there are fundamental laws that describe how people experience their physical environments Place science principles can be applied in homes schools stores restaurants workplaces healthcare facilities and the other spaces people inhabit This guide to person centered place design shows architects landscape architects interior designers and other interested individuals how to develop spaces that enrich human experience using concepts derived from rigorous qualitative and quantitative research In Place Advantage Applied Psychology for Interior Architecture applied environmental psychologist Sally Augustin offers design practitioners accessible environmental psychological insights into how elements of the physical environment influence human attitudes and behaviors She introduces the general principles of place science and shows how factors such as colors scents textures and the spatial composition of a room as well as personality and cultural identity impact the experience of a place These principles are applied to multiple building types including residences workplaces healthcare facilities schools and retail spaces Building a bridge between research and design practice Place Advantage gives people designing and using spaces the evidence based information and psychological insight to create environments that encourage people to work effectively learn better get healthy and enjoy life

Alternative Learning Environments Gary J.

Coates,2023-09-22 Originally published in 1974 this volume presents viable alternatives to traditional attitudes and practices in environmental design and education It contains 29 selections that reflect the thought and actions of leaders from many diverse disciplines and professions Architects landscape architects urban planners teachers and administrators psychologists and social theorists address themselves to controversial and important issues facing our post industrial society The range of subjects explored in the volume is far reaching Environmental education in which the art of planning and designing itself becomes the curriculum Advocacy planning and community participation in both educational and design decision making Alternative educational institutions ranging from community centered schools and mobile schools to non school learning networks that distribute the learning activity throughout the fabric of the city and the lifetime of the learner New developments in systematic design methods and evaluation research that promise to make the design process more public and responsive to the user client
