Pros And Cons Of International Weapons Procurement Collaboration:

Pros and Cons of International Weapons Procurement Collaboration Mark A. Lorell, Julia Lowell, 1995 Provides insights on possible results of international collaboration on weapons procurement programs The Law of Collaborative Defence Procurement in the European Union Baudouin Heuninckx, 2017 The book examines and makes proposals for improving the law and management of collaborative defence procurement programmes and provides practical examples to enhance efficiency of cooperation between states Covering a broad scope of legal issues it contains invaluable information for practitioners policy makers and academics aiming to analyse or improve these projects Assessment of Impediments to Interagency Collaboration on Space and Earth Science Missions National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Space Studies Board, Committee on Assessment of Impediments to Interagency Cooperation on Space and Earth Science Missions, 2011-07-01 Through an examination of case studies agency briefings and existing reports and drawing on personal knowledge and direct experience the Committee on Assessment of Impediments to Interagency Cooperation on Space and Earth Science Missions found that candidate projects for multiagency collaboration in the development and implementation of Earth observing or space science missions are often intrinsically complex and therefore costly and that a multiagency approach to developing these missions typically results in additional complexity and cost Advocates of collaboration have sometimes underestimated the difficulties and associated costs and risks of dividing responsibility and accountability between two or more partners they also discount the possibility that collaboration will increase the risk in meeting performance objectives This committee's principal recommendation is that agencies should conduct Earth and space science projects independently unless It is judged that cooperation will result in significant added scientific value to the project over what could be achieved by a single agency alone or Unique capabilities reside within one agency that are necessary for the mission success of a project managed by another agency or The project is intended to transfer from research to operations necessitating a change in responsibility from one agency to another during the project or There are other compelling reasons to pursue collaboration for example a desire to build capacity at one of the cooperating agencies Even when the total project cost may increase parties may still find collaboration attractive if their share of a mission is more affordable than funding it alone In these cases alternatives to interdependent reliance on another government agency should be considered For example agencies may find that buying services from another agency or pursuing interagency coordination of spaceflight data collection is preferable to fully interdependent cooperation

Transatlantic Defence Procurement Luke R. A. Butler, 2017-03-02 A comparative analysis of the role of EU and US defence procurement regulation as a barrier to transatlantic defence trade Emerging Strategies in Defense

Acquisitions and Military Procurement Burgess, Kevin, Antill, Peter, 2016-07-22 Military and defense organizations are a vital component to any nation In order to maintain the standards of these sectors new procedures and practices must be implemented Emerging Strategies in Defense Acquisitions and Military Procurement is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly research on the present state of defense organizations examining reforms and solutions necessary to overcome current limitations and make vast improvements to their infrastructure Highlighting methodologies and theoretical foundations that promote more effective practices in defense acquisition this book is ideally designed for academicians practitioners researchers upper level students and professionals engaged in defense industries The Handbook of European Defence Policies and Armed Forces Hugo Meijer,Marco Wyss,2018 This volume provides the first geographically and thematically comprehensive study of the evolution and current state of the national security and defence policies strategies doctrines capabilities and military operations as well as the alliances and security partnerships of European armed forces The Rise of European Security Cooperation Seth G. Jones,2007-02 A systematic and comprehensive analysis of the significant increase in security cooperation among European states Leveraging Global Value Chains for a Federated Approach to Defense David J. Berteau,Scott Miller,Ryan Crotty,2014-12-11 This report focuses on the ways that a federated defense approach can strengthen strategic partnerships and deliver more innovative defense technologies at a lower cost by better harnessing global supply chain networks to expand the military supplier base and increase the net capability available to the network of partners and allies Designing and Managing Successful International Joint Development Programs Gregory Sanders,Samantha Cohen,2017-02-20 International joint development programs are important because of their potential to reduce costs and increase partnership benefits such as interoperability economies of scale and technical advancement While all major development and acquisition programs are complex undertakings international joint development programs introduce additional layers of complexity in the requirement for coordination with more than one government customer supply chain and organizational complexities resulting from international industrial teaming and technology control issues The performance of international joint development programs varies greatly This study compares the best practices of international joint development and domestic development programs through case study analysis to identify the key variables that contribute to a program s eventual success or failure and to understand the elements that are crucial to managing these programs European Defence Decision-Making Antonio Calcara,2020-03-02 This book comparatively examines the preferences of four key arms producing states towards European joint armaments programmes The European defence market is characterised by a mixture of inter state competition and European cooperation and this work assesses why countries sometimes decide to cooperate with their partners while in other instances they refrain from doing so In order to shed light on this empirical puzzle the book focuses on state defence industry relations in the four major European arms producers France Germany Italy and the UK The main argument is that the public or private governance of industrial suppliers and market size are the two decisive variables that explain the simultaneous presence of cooperation and competition in European defence procurement Specifically it argues that in public governance ecosystems arms industries are able to capture the state's decision making processes to their own advantage In private governance ecosystems the state is relatively autonomous from defence industry's influence and able to pursue larger macro economic and military benefits Moreover the strategy pursued by governments and defence firms is decisively shaped by market size because of its importance in determining the relative costs and benefits of collaborative arrangements This book will be of much interest to students of EU policy defence studies European politics and International Relations

Interoperability of U.S. and NATO Allied Air Forces Eric Victor Larson, 2003 The United States conducts air operations with other willing NATO allies including non NATO members The objective of this background research for a larger RAND study Interoperability A Continuing Challenge in Coalition Air Operations is twofold 1 to help the U S Air Force identify potential interoperability problems that may arise in coalition air operations involving the United States and its NATO allies as well as non NATO countries over the next decade and 2 to suggest solution directions to mitigate those problems The study focus is on command control communications intelligence surveillance and reconnaissance C3ISR systems and out of NATO area operations The authors present a data based historical overview of the U S experience in coalition operations with NATO allies up to 1999 and seek to provide a deeper understanding of interoperability through the answers to several key questions For what missions is interoperability required With which NATO allies is interoperability required For what capabilities and services is interoperability required Detailed case study analyses of coalition operations in Southwest Asia Bosnia Somalia and Rwanda identify key interoperability challenges and workarounds short term solutions at the strategic operational tactical and technological levels and provide relevant lessons for meeting these challenges and improving the interoperability of U S and NATO air and C3ISR capabilities

A Stability Police Force for the United States Terrence K. Kelly, 2009 Establishing security is the sine qua non of stability operations since it is a prerequisite for reconstruction and development Security requires a mix of military and police forces to deal with a range of threats from insurgents to criminal organizations This research examines the creation of a high end police force which the authors call a Stability Police Force SPF The study considers what size force is necessary how responsive it needs to be where in the government it might be located what capabilities it should have how it could be staffed and its cost

The Militarization of the European Union Kees van der Pijl, 2021-01-19 From the establishment of NATO in 1949 Western Europe has been under Anglo American tutelage in military and security matters Several countries most notably France and since reunification Germany have experienced this as a hindrance to the pursuit of their particular interests Since 2008 the European Commission has actively joined the quest for strategic autonomy within NATO The elections of Donald Trump and Emmanuel Macron in 2016-17 further widened the Atlantic rift while the COVID 19 crisis with its colossal economic costs has in turn exacerbated the already worsening geopolitical tensions with states like Russia and China With chapters on the politics and economics of European defence on France Germany and Russia the EU's energy provision the militarization of migration control and the restructuring of the transatlantic bond this volume offers an up to date critical assessment of the militarization of European integration written by established scholars in the fields of international relations and security studies Essays on Civil-military Relations, Military-industrial Relations, Weapon Procurement, and International Relations Glen Segell,1997 Arms Proliferation Policy Marcy Agmon,1996 A 1995 Presidential Executive Order established a board to advise the president on implementing a policy on conventional nonnuclear arms and technology transfer The board was to study the factors that contribute to the proliferation of strategic and advanced conventional military weapons and technology and the policy options the United States might use to inhibit such proliferation Shrinking federal budgets have made exports of all kinds including weapons an attractive means of shoring up a country s industrial base The heart of the problem is striking a balance between the preservation of military production and a healthy industrial base on the one hand and restraining exports that proliferate advanced weapons Foreign policy national security and economic interests that are served by the approval or denial of weapons sales can be compelling but often pull in different directions Striking the right balance among cross cutting priorities is the key to an effective weapons transfer policy This report discusses trends in the international arms markets how transfers of weapons and technology are controlled the economics of arms exports and the relationship between arms exports and a country s economy Friendly Rivals Wallace J. Thies,2015-03-27 Viewing the behavior of NATO members through the prism of bargaining theory reveals them as states intent on obtaining the benefits of membership at the least cost to themselves This book shows how NATO members use a variety of strategies and tactics to try to get the better of each other without wrecking an alliance that realizes their shared goals and from which they all benefit The book examines the original design of the alliance patterns of bargaining during the Cold War and post Cold War periods how their rivalries impact members domestic policies of defense and welfare and what this history suggests about NATO s future prospects Recent interventions in the Balkans and the Middle East make this virtually a playbook for following current events The Emergence of EU Defense Research Policy Nikolaos Karampekios,Iraklis Oikonomou,Elias G. Carayannis,2017-11-16 This book explores European security and defense R D policy unveiling the strategic industrial institutional and ideational sources of the European Commission s military research initiative Starting from a well defined empirical epicentre the rise of non civilian R D priorities in the European Union this book covers interrelated themes and topics such as approaches to arms production and R D collaboration relationships between European R D related institutions technology and research foundations of European security policy past and present European armament collaborations transatlantic R D collaboration the militarization of border security Divided into 5 sections the enclosed chapters explore the EU technology and innovation policy in regards to security industrial competitiveness and military capabilities The terrorist attacks in the US on September 11 2001 provided a window of opportunity for the introduction of security as a distinct European R D priority In fact since 2002 the Preparatory Action for Security Research PASR has funded 45 million euros to 39 research consortia to conduct security R D While the idea of pooling defense research efforts and programmes in Europe is not new the establishment of institutions like the European Defense Agency EDA are a major step into institutionalizing European agencies involvement in supporting defense technology research It is against this backdrop of policy developments that this book is positioned in addition to addressing some of the political economic industrial and philosophical questions that arise Featuring contributions from a variety of academic fields and industries this book will be of interest to scholars researchers students and policy makers in the fields of security policy international relations innovation European studies and military studies

Essays on Civil-military Relations, Military-industrial Relations, Aircraft Weapon Procurement and International Relations Glen Segell,1998 Defence Industry in a Global Context Neil Latham,2003 1990 erne var kendetegnet ved at de enkelte lande i mindre grad anvendte midler til indkøb af materiel til forsvaret I 2001 er udgifterne til forsvarsmateriel på globalt plan igen begyndt at stige Herved analyseres hvorledes industrien er vokset i Sydafrika Rusland og USA har sammenlignet tendensen og har på baggrund heraf analyseret Englands nuværende udvikling og policy på området
