Altruistic Emotion, Cognition, and Behavior (PLE: Emotion) Nancy Eisenberg, 2014-11-20 Originally published in 1986 this book was an effort to integrate thinking and research concerning the role of emotion and cognition in altruistic behaviour Prior to publication there was a vast body of research and theorizing concerning the development and maintenance of prosocial including altruistic behaviour This book focusses primarily on a specific set of intrapsychic factors involved in prosocial responding especially emotions and cognitions believed to play a major role in altruistic behaviour In the final chapters these intrapsychic factors are also discussed in relation to a variety of other relevant factors including socialization and situational influences on altruism The Altruism Question C. Daniel Batson, 2014-01-02 Are our efforts to help others ever driven solely by altruistic motivation or is our ultimate goal always some form of self benefit egoistic motivation This volume reports the development of an empirically testable theory of altruistic motivation and a series of experiments designed to test that theory It sets the issue of egoism versus altruism in its larger historical and philosophical context and brings diverse experiments into a single integrated argument Readers will find that this book provides a solid base of information from which questions surrounding the existence of altruistic motivation can be further investigated

Embracing the Other Pearl Oliner, Samuel P. Oliner, Lawrence Baron, Lawrence Blum, 1995-07 All but buried for most of the twentieth century the concept of altruism has re emerged in this last quarter as a focus of intense scholarly inquiry and general public interest In the wake of increased consciousness of the human potential for destructiveness both scholars and the general public are seeking interventions which will not only inhibit the process but may in fact chart a new creative path toward a global community Largely initiated by a group of pioneering social psychologists early questions on altruism centered on its motivation and development primarily in the context of contrived laboratory experiments Although publications on the topic have been considerable over the last several years and now represent the work of representatives from many disciplines of inquiry this volume is distinguished from others in several ways Embracing the Other emerged primarily as a response to recent research on an extraordinary manifestation of real life altruism namely to recent studies of non Jewish rescuers of Jews during World War II It is the work of a multi disciplinary and international group of scholars including philosophers social psychologists historians sociologists and educators challenging several prevailing conceptual definitions and motivational sources of altruism The book combines both new empirical and historical research as well as theoretical and philosophical approaches and includes a lengthy section addressing the practical implications of current thinking on altruism for society at large The result is a multi textured work addressing critical issues in varied disciplines while centered on shared themes
