The Proteaceae of the Sydney Region Alec M. Blombery, Betty Maloney, 1992 Botanical guide to 94 species of proteaceae including grevilleas hakeas and banksias found in the Sydney region Each species has a detailed description including habitat and growth requirements and is attractively illustrated with a watercolour painting and photographs Includes a glossary and an index Both authors have written several books on Australian flora and gardening Proteaceae of the Sydney Region Alec Morris Blombery, Betty Maloney, 1981-01-01 Flora of the Sydney Region Belinda Jane Pellow, Murray James Henwood, Roger C. Carolin, 2009 The fifth edition Flora of the Sydney Region is the definitive technical guide to the identification of wild plants in one of the world's botanical heartlands The Flora covers an area of coastal New South Wales stretching from Newcastle to Nowra and west to Lithgow This comprehensive treatment contains diagnostic keys and descriptions that make it possible for the reader to identify any of the 3 000 indigenous or naturalised plant species found in this botanically diverse region The identification keys efficiently guide the reader through those plant characteristics necessary to arrive at the correct scientific name The identification process is further aided by a glossary and an extensive index of scientific and common plant names Species descriptions include habitat details and flowering times An instructive introduction provides support for the novice botanist When first published in 1963 Flora of the Sydney Region was the only complete regional Flora in Australia This fully revised edition of the Flora incorporates the wealth of botanical research which has taken place since the publication of the fourth edition in 1994 As a trusty field guide and authoritative desktop reference it will be a constant companion to environmental consultants amateur and professional botanists ecologists bushwalkers bush regenerators and teaching institutions Australian National Bibliography: 1992 National Library of Australia, 1988 Flowering Plant Index, 1995 Indexes literature on flowering plants that include color photographs or illustrations Name that Flower Ian Clarke, Helen Lee, 2003 This concise guide to identifying flowering plants covers aesthetic and botanical information about flora from around the world Presented are illustrations and explanations of reproductive parts variations in floral structure and nomenclature and plant families The dissection process for flowers techniques of flower arranging and methods of observing structure for identification are clearly described Plant families common to Australia are illustrated with examples of cultivated and wild The SAGE Handbook of Biogeography Andrew Millington, Mark Blumler, Udo Schickhoff, 2011-09-22 A superb resource for understanding the diversity of the modern discipline of biogeography and its history and future especially within geography departments I expect to refer to it often Professor Sally Horn University of Tennessee As you browse through this fine book you will be struck by the diverse topics that biogeographers investigate and the many research methods they use Biogeography is interdisciplinary and a commonly voiced concern is that one biogeographer may not readily understand another's research findings A handbook like this is important for synthesising situating explaining and evaluating a large literature and pointing the reader to informative publications Geographical Research A valuable contribution in both a research and teaching context If you are biologically trained it provides an extensive look into the geographical tradition of biogeography covering some topics that may be less familiar to those with an evolution ecology background Alternatively if you are a geography student researcher or lecturer it will provide a useful reference and will be invaluable to the non biogeographer who suddenly has the teaching of an introductory biogeography course thrust upon them Adam C Algar Frontiers of Biogeography The SAGE Handbook of Biogeography is a manual for scoping the past present and future of biogeography that enable readers to consider where relevant how similar biogeographical issues are tackled by researchers in different schools In line with the concept of all SAGE Handbooks this is a retrospective and prospective overview of biogeography that will Consider the main areas of biogeography researched by geographers Detail a global perspective by incorporating the work of different schools of biogeographers Explore the divergent evolution of biogeography as a discipline and consider how this diversity can be harnessed Examine the interdisciplinary debates that biogeographers are contributing to within geography and the biological sciences Aimed at an international audience of research students academics researchers and practitioners in biogeography the text will attract interest from environmental scientists ecologists biologists and geographers alike Proteas of the World Lewis J. Matthews,1993 Native to the southern hemisphere the members of the family Proteaceae are mostly shrubby and are notable for remarkably varied often spectacular flowers that are prized in cut floral displays Published at 45 00 Our last copies available at 22 49 Flora of the Hunter Region Stephen Bell,Christine Rockley,Anne Llewellyn,2019-03-01 The Hunter Region between the Hawkesbury and Manning rivers in eastern New South Wales hosts a rich diversity of vegetation with many species found nowhere else Spanning an area from the coast to the tablelands and slopes its rainforests wet and dry sclerophyll forests woodlands heathlands grasslands and swamps are known for their beauty and ecological significance Flora of the Hunter Region describes 54 endemic trees and large shrubs combining art and science in a manner rarely seen in botanical identification guides Species accounts provide information on distribution habitat flowering key diagnostic features and conservation status along with complete taxonomic descriptions Each account includes stunning botanical illustrations produced by graduates of the University of Newcastle s Bachelor of Natural History Illustration program The illustrations depict key diagnostic features and allow complete identification of each species This publication will be a valuable resource for those interested in the plants of the region including researchers environmental consultants horticulturalists and gardeners bush walkers herbaria and others involved in land management Goethe's Way of Science David Seamon,Arthur Zajonc,Professor of Physics Arthur Zajonc,1998-01-01 Examines Goethe s neglected but sizable body of scientific work considers the philosophical foundations of his approach and applies his method to the real world of nature Third International Symposium on New Floricultural Crops J. A. Considine,J. Gibbs,1998 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index ,1993 Handbook of Flowering Abraham H. Halevy,1989-08-31 This volume is an exhaustive source of information on the control and regulation of flowering It presents data on the factors controlling flower induction and how they may be affected by climate and chemical treatments For each plant specific information is provided on all aspects of flower development including sex expression requirements for flowering initiation and development photoperiod light density vernalization and other temperature effects and interactions Individual species are described from the standpoint of juvenility and maturation morphology induction and morphogenesis to anthesis All information is presented alphabetically for easy reference

Proceedings of the Linnean Society of New South Wales Linnean Society of New South Wales, 1928 ANH, 1992 Plants in Action Brian James Atwell, 1999 Accompanying CD ROM includes 600 figures tables and color plates from the book Plants in action which can be used for the production of color transparencies or for projections in lectures

Secondary Pollen Presentation P.F. Yeo, 2012-12-06 Secondary pollen presentation is presentation of pollen to vectors by structures other than anthers either passively or via a specialized protection and delivery system The main part of the book describes secondary pollen presentation genus by genus in 25 families The subject has never been extensively reviewed although secondary pollen presentation occurs in the largest family of flowering plants the Asteraceae Compositae and a large family of great economic importance the Leguminosae Now material from the scattered literature is brought together and supplemented with original observations Many species are illustrated and each family is individually discussed The last two chapters provide an overview of the whole topic All the main functions that secondary pollen presentation may perform can be carried out in other plants without it It is concluded from this that the evolution of secondary pollen presentation has been subject to constraint and canalization The floral biology of most plants with secondary pollen presentation has not been adequately studied Appendix 1 points to a wide range of topics on which research at various technical and academic levels is needed The book should also become a reference work for morphologists systematists and floral ecologists

Plants of Subtropical Eastern Australia Andrew Benwell, 2020-12-01 Plants of Subtropical Eastern Australia describes the rich flora of this biogeographically distinct region located on the east coast of Australia covering the north coast of New South Wales and coastal South East Queensland This guide presents a selection of common threatened and ecologically significant plants found in the region's major vegetation habitats including rainforest heathland grassy forest wetlands and rock outcrops More than 500 plants are featured with photographs and descriptive features enabling the reader to identify these species if encountered Interesting biological cultural and historical characteristics of each species are included along with notes on the plant's biogeography and a map of its distribution Suitable for anyone with an interest in plant ecology and botany Plants of Subtropical Eastern Australia is the definitive guide to this fascinating region of Australia and its unique flora
