

An illustration of a landscape under a storm. On the left, a large, dark, swirling tornado rises from the ground. The sky is a light teal color with several white, fluffy clouds. In the foreground, there is a green field. Scattered across the field are several trees with yellow and orange foliage, suggesting autumn. On the right side of the field, there is a small white house with a red roof and a chimney. A red path or road leads towards the house.
